Harriman Raps GOP As 'Private Privilege' Party

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3 —UP— Gov. Averell Harriman of New York Saturday night charged the Eisenhower administration with conducting "a giant grab-bag for private privilege" while farmers are caught in an "economic squeeze."

Harriman, considered a likely candidate contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, blasted the administration's farm policy in a speech before the national convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

He charged that Republicans "have been delivering lectures on rugged individualism as farmers were being forced off their land" during a period of all-time high big business profits."

The New York governor said the average price of farm products never fell below 100 per cent of parity during the Truman administration. Since the Republicans took over three years ago, Harriman said, the prices have fallen steadily and are now at 82 per cent of parity.

"The fundamental thing is to restore farm income," he said. "We Democrats are pledged to do that and we're going to do it."

Answering a recent charge by Vice President Richard Nixon that Democrats have made a political football out of the farm question, Harriman quipped, "He's right if he means the farmers kick, the Republicans fumble and the Democrats pick up the ball and are off for a touchdown."

Harriman also took Republicans to task regarding their policy on schools. He said the recent White House conference on education was called to "excuse inaction."

"Everybody acknowledges our educational crisis," he said, "but what have the Republicans done? They have proposed a do-it-yourself program that was such a travesty that Congress wouldn't consider it seriously."

He said that we are falling behind Russia in training scientists because "a quarter of million of our more gifted high school graduates each year fail to go on to college—many of them because they cannot afford to.

"The result is not only a denial of opportunity to gifted individuals but a loss of talent to the country which we can ill afford."

Harriman warned his audience about talk of "moderation" and "middle of the road." Recently he has criticized Adlai Stevenson, the declared Democratic candidate for the nomination, of being "too moderate."

"Let's not fall into that trap," he said. "These are the words that have been used by the Republicans to try to put their inaction in a favorable light.

Snowstorms Swirl Across Midwest Area

By UNITED PRESS

A powerful snowstorm with winds expected to reach 40 miles an hour pounded the nation's middle Saturday night.

Blowing snow cut down visibility to a quarter-mile in sections of Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Minnesota and snow piled up as high as seven inches.

The storm was pushed by a mass of Arctic air that is expected to knock temperatures down to 10 below zero in North Dakota and as low as zero in other states in its path.

The air disturbance which spawned the new storm reached as far south as northwest Mississippi and parts of Tennessee and Arkansas where the weather bureau issued a severe weather forecast with a possibility of tornadoes.

South of the storm area and in a narrow bend reaching through Iowa and into lower Wisconsin sleet and freezing rain made driving hazardous.

Murky skies and drizzle dominated the weather picture in Illinois and Indiana and showers fell along the southern Atlantic Seaboard as far south as Florida.

The Pacific northwest and the Rocky Mountain States were pelted with scattered light snows.

Chilly weather prevailed in California also where the frost fruit service said night temperatures in the citrus belt would drop to 32 degrees.

Humphrey Asserts Benson 'Borrowed' Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today a soil bank proposal he made to meet farm problems has been "borrowed" by the administration and converted to its own purpose.

Humphrey, who has been pounding at the farm issue for months, complained in a statement that Secretary of Agriculture Benson has "watered down" the Humphrey plan by removing the "standards I had provided to safeguard farmers and consumers alike."

The result, Humphrey said would give Benson instead of Congress the power of decision over how much land should be taken out of cultivation and how much the farmers should be paid for doing so.

Various soil bank plans have been suggested with this basic idea: Farmers would be paid so much an acre by the government for planting grasses instead of other crops on land not needed for food and fiber production. This would help cut down on surplus production and at the same time improve the soil's fertility. Land thus set aside would be said to be drawing fertility interest in a "soil bank."

Earlier this year, Humphrey said, GOP farm officials rejected his soil bank payment plan as unlikely to work and as too costly.

Now, Humphrey said, Benson has adopted the same idea, with variations of his own.

"No wonder I question Secretary

Air Force Experts Seek Urgent Construction Of 'Deep' Networks Of Radar

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 —UP— Air Force experts said Saturday the Louisiana war games demonstrated an urgent need for radar warning nets "in depth" from North Pole regions to the outskirts fo major American cities.

They conceded that even when such ultra - modern electronic nets are completed, some segments of the warning screen could be successfully jammed by an enemy in any surprise bombing attack.

But the development of anti-jamming devices is keeping pace with the ability to jam and so far neither the offense nor the defense has any "clear cut superiority," top officers said. Some navigating and bombing radar of enemy aircraft would be jammed just as surely as some ground detection radar would.

With radar and supersonic interceptors placed in great depth from the Arctic south, officers said, the situation would be much different from that in the current southland maneuvers where bombers have jammed and eluded radar to lay down annihilating mock atomic attacks.

Facing a gauntlet of continental radar, an enemy would lose a much higher proportion of its bombers.

Maj. Gen. Gordon Blake, Air Force communications director, said there is "no reason to throw

'Atoms-For-Peace' Agency Approved By UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 3 —UP— The United Nations General Assembly Saturday approved nine items including a call for establishing an international atomic energy to guide President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" plan.

The 60-member assembly in its first Saturday plenary meeting this session approved:

A resolution establishing a 15-nation scientific committee to study the effects of atomic radiation on man and his environment.

A report from the main political committee postponing any further consideration this session of "the Moroccan question" in view of the French - Moroccan negotiations on problems in the North African protectorate. The postponing of the Moroccan question was another move to avoid embarrassing France, which early this week returned to the general assembly ending a two month boycott.

Approved six other resolutions and reports handed up by its committees including a call for increased efforts to develop projects to make more Palestine Arab refugees self-supporting.

Oil Firm's Office Charred By Fire

DELHI, Dec. 3 (Special) — The Sun Oil company office at the south edge of Delhi on highway 17 was badly burned and office records were destroyed when fire broke out between 7 and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Cause of the fire was said to be lightning. Very little was saved from the frame building, since flames were well under way by the time fire trucks could arrive on the scene.

The building was reported still in flames at 10 o'clock last night. No estimate of damages had been made.

Child Hunting Christmas Tree Killed By Hunter

MADRID, Iowa, Dec. 3—UP—Deanna Lou Lincoln, 14, her 9-year-old brother, Lannie, and their Collie dog went looking for a Christmas tree on their father's farm Saturday.

It was foggy and visibility was poor.

He thought the Collie was a fox and took two shots at it with a high powered rifle, he said. One of the bullets hit Deanna.

Deanna screamed. She told Lannie she thought she had been shot and started to run toward the house.

She ran about 15 feet and fell dead, authorities said.

Coroner G. H. Sutton ruled the death an accident.

Thunderstorms Predicted Here

More showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the local area today, with no important temperature changes.

A cold front moving into Arkansas is expected to plunge the mercury there.

During the afternoon yesterday, with heavy thunderstorm activity in the area, it appeared the Twin Cities were in for a deluge, but total rainfall for the day was fixed at .58 inches.

Rep. Martin Says President To Run Again

GOP House Leader Confers With Ike, Makes Prediction

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 3 (AP) — House Republican leader Martin predicted today that President Eisenhower will run for another term next year "for the world's sake."

Senate Republican leader Knowland said he believes Eisenhower has reached "no final decision" on a second term try.

While Knowland said the President would be "the strongest candidate" for the Republicans he never did come right out and say that he personally would favor an Eisenhower bid for re-election. Nor did he foreclose on a possibility that he himself might announce as a candidate in the event the Chief Executive retires.

The two top Republicans in Congress conferred with Eisenhower separately. They touched on both politics and legislation in their talks with the President in his office in the Gettysburg post office building.

In separate news conferences afterward, the Massachusetts congressman and the California senator emphasized that they were voicing only personal opinions on the provocative second term question. They said they got no clues from Eisenhower.

Both Martin and Knowland touched on the possibility of a tax cut next year but pegged the idea to a balanced budget.

"Of course," Martin said, "we have got to balance the budget before we can commence to think of tax relief. And when that comes, of course, we want to see that the individuals of the country come first."

He added that "if tax relief is possible, we want to make sure

Rains Cut Short Christmas Fete At Natchitoches

By YVONNE HERRON
(Morning World State Editor)

NATCHITOCHES, La., Dec. 3 Disappointment mapped the faces of thousands of people here tonight as "the rains came down," and the gigantic fireworks display to herald the opening of the Christmas season was cancelled.

More than 10,000 people thronged the streets of Natchitoches early Saturday afternoon and watched a parade featuring the theme of "Christ in Song." The large crowds milled around the old town waiting for the fireworks show at 7 p.m., but officials said that due to heavy rains the fireworks display was not possible.

Shortly after 6 p.m. the Christmas decorations along the down town streets and on the banks of Cane River were turned on and the old town was alight with Christmas. Scenes depicting the manger in which Christ was born, the shepherds watching their sheep, the Christmas star and bells, reflected brightly in the waters of the Cane river as children, accompanied by their parents, stood and gazed fondly at the caricatures.

The bridge across Cane River is decorated with green and red lights and a large sign wishing "A Merry Christmas."

In Natchitoches this Christmas season the populace along with many of their visitors, who come annually to the show, had in their midst a large number of soldiers taking part in Exercise Sagebrush

East Germans Act To Block Barge Freight

West Fears New General Attempt To Isolate City

BERLIN, Dec. 3 —UP— The East German Communist regime took its first step toward a possible new blockade of Berlin Saturday.

The Communist refused to renew the yearly permits by which West German barges bring 1.5 million tons of supplies to West Berlin through the Soviet occupation zone.

Allied officials believe that attempts to interfere with highway, railroad and perhaps even air traffic may follow.

Barge companies made application to the East German waterways administration for renewal of transit permits, which expire on Dec. 1.

The applications were rejected on the ground that East Germany is now a "sovereign" state and that renewal of permits must be discussed directly between the traffic ministries of the West German and East German governments.

This was an open attempt to force the West German government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to recognize the East German puppet regime. It implied a threat to blockade Berlin if recognition were refused.

Adenauer has said that he will not recognize the Red regime.

Allied officials expressed belief that the barge permit refusal might be the first move in a Communist "master plan" to use the alleged sovereignty of East Germany to cut the life lines of West Berlin's communications to the West.

Berlin is an enclave, under American - British - French - Russian occupation. It is separated by 110 miles of Soviet occupied territory from the West German government.

The East Germans were taking their stand by virtue of the announcement on Sept. 20 that Russia had signed a "treaty" with the East German puppet regime giving it "complete sovereignty."

Virginia Assembly Votes Approval For Referendum On Aid To Private Schools

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 3 (AP)—Virginia's General Assembly gave resounding approval today to emergency legislation to let the people decide whether the way shall be cleared for public aid to a child's private schooling, primarily to avoid enforced racial integration.

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley signed the act a little more than an hour after its passage, thus putting into law immediately the legislation he placed before the Assembly Wednesday when it convened at his call for a special session.

The act provides for a referendum on the question of whether a limited constitutional convention shall be called to amend Section 141 of the State Constitution to allow tuition grants. The governor announced he would call the referendum for Monday, Jan. 9.

Stanley appeared in the Senate before the two bodies adjourned in their respective chambers, to thank them for "the fine work accomplished here."

Alabama Village Heavily Damaged In Violent Storm

CHEROKEE, Ala., Dec. 3 (AP) A violent windstorm demolished three houses, tore the roof from a school, and caused considerable other damage late today in a rural community five miles west of here.

There were no injuries reported. The damaged area is being patrolled by Alabama state patrolmen, and officers assigned by the Colbert County Sheriff's office.

Approximately 20 other houses have been damaged, and hundreds of trees uprooted.

Telephone and power lines from Sheffield, Ala., west have been damaged, and repair crews are attempting to restore service.

The roof was torn from the Margerum Elementary School, near the Alabama-Mississppi line.

The weather bureau at Birmingham forecast thunderstorms for north Alabama for tonight and tomorrow.

Two Women Die, Others Injured Near Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, La. Dec. 3—UP —A Negro woman died when cut in half below the chest by a moving freight train, while another woman was killed in an auto accident and 11 other persons suffered injuries in traffic accidents Friday in central Louisiana.

Officials said Elizabeth Moreau, 45, Alexandria, was cut in two as she apparently attempted to cross between two cars of a Southern Pacific freight train.

Mrs. Carrie Joyce, 81, Waco, Tex., was killed Friday evening when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with a tank-truck on state route 6 about two miles east of Natchitoches.

Detective Capt. C. C. Bolen of the Alexandria police force said the Moreau woman apparently attempted to cross the line of freight cars when the train began to move. He said she fell between the coupled cars and under the wheels of the train. Her body was severed below the chest.

Mrs. Joyce's death was attributed by state police to a crushed chest and internal injuries. Her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Plummer of Natchitoches, and Mrs. Plummer's husband were also injured.

Lee Ben Lieber Dies Here; Rites Set For Monday

Lieber was an electrical engineer at the paper mill in West Monroe and was born and lived his entire life in Monroe. He died Saturday morning after entering the hospital a few hours earlier.

Lieber is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ben Lieber, of the home address, 503 Stubbs ave., Monroe, and one brother, S. K. Lieber, of Falls Church, Va., and two sisters, Mrs. Sol Kahn, Long Island, N. Y. and Mrs. Hugh Milligan, Monroe; one nephew, Bernard Kahn, Long Island; three nieces, Miss Laura May Kahn, Long Island; Miss Louise Lieber, Falls Church; Miss Pat Milligan, Monroe.

Wife, Child Arrive In U. S. Destitute

Army Presses Search For 'Lost' Sagebrush Soldier

FT. POLK, La., Dec. 3 (AP)—The Army pressed its search today for Sgt. John N. DeGiovanni, a mock prisoner of war in Exercise Sagebrush. His wife and small daughter have arrived penniless in New York from Europe.

Red Cross officials came to the aid of Mrs. Rosa Maria Breu DeGiovanni and her three-year-old daughter, Joann, when they learned of their plight.

But there was some question as to whether the Red Cross and the Army could get the 21-year-old bride together with her husband—or even let him know she is in this country.

The sergeant at last report was still being carried as a prisoner of "aggressor" forces, who late Saturday were in the process of retreating down the south end of the maneuver field in a seven million acre chunk of Southwest Louisiana.

Exercise Sagebrush officials traced DeGiovanni to an 82nd Airborne Division ordinance battalion.

He was captured during the first phase of Sagebrush, they said, when his tank broke down. The soldier was required to stay with his tank. Officials said that under the mock war rules, DeGiovanni's whereabouts remain a military secret.

DeGiovanni, 25, met and married Rosa Maria while he was stationed in Europe. He returned to the United States last February and is permanently assigned to the First Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

His wife said she arrived in New York without funds because she was robbed of all her money while visiting her mother on the isle of Jersey, in the English Channel, before sailing for the U.S.

Thunderstorms Predicted Here

More showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the local area today, with no important temperature changes.

A cold front moving into Arkansas is expected to plunge the mercury there.

During the afternoon yesterday, with heavy thunderstorm activity in the area, it appeared the Twin Cities were in for a deluge, but total rainfall for the day was fixed at .58 inches.

Rep. Martin Says President To Run Again

GOP House Leader Confers With Ike, Makes Prediction

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 3 (AP) — House Republican leader Martin predicted today that President Eisenhower will run for another term next year "for the world's sake."

Senate Republican leader Knowland said he believes Eisenhower has reached "no final decision" on a second term try.

While Knowland said the President would be "the strongest candidate" for the Republicans he never did come right out and say that he personally would favor an Eisenhower bid for re-election. Nor did he foreclose on a possibility that he himself might announce as a candidate in the event the Chief Executive retires.

The two top Republicans in Congress conferred with Eisenhower separately. They touched on both politics and legislation in their talks with the President in his office in the Gettysburg post office building.

In separate news conferences afterward, the Massachusetts congressman and the California senator emphasized that they were voicing only personal opinions on the provocative second term question. They said they got no clues from Eisenhower.

Both Martin and Knowland touched on the possibility of a tax cut next year but pegged the idea to a balanced budget.

"Of course," Martin said, "we have got to balance the budget before we can commence to think of tax relief. And when that comes, of course, we want to see that the individuals of the country come first."

He added that "if tax relief is possible, we want to make sure

Rains Cut Short Christmas Fete At Natchitoches

By YVONNE HERRON
(Morning World State Editor)

NATCHITOCHES, La., Dec. 3 Disappointment mapped the faces of thousands of people here tonight as "the rains came down," and the gigantic fireworks display to herald the opening of the Christmas season was cancelled.

More than 10,000 people thronged the streets of Natchitoches early Saturday afternoon and watched a parade featuring the theme of "Christ in Song." The large crowds milled around the old town waiting for the fireworks show at 7 p.m., but officials said that due to heavy rains the fireworks display was not possible.

Shortly after 6 p.m. the Christmas decorations along the down town streets and on the banks of Cane River were turned on and the old town was alight with Christmas. Scenes depicting the manger in which Christ was born, the shepherds watching their sheep, the Christmas star and bells, reflected brightly in the waters of the Cane river as children, accompanied by their parents, stood and gazed fondly at the caricatures.

The bridge across Cane River is decorated with green and red lights and a large sign wishing "A Merry Christmas."

In Natchitoches this Christmas season the populace along with many of their visitors, who come annually to the show, had in their midst a large number of soldiers taking part in Exercise Sagebrush

Army Presses Search For 'Lost' Sagebrush Soldier

FT. POLK, La., Dec. 3 (AP)—The Army pressed its search today for Sgt. John N. DeGiovanni, a mock prisoner of war in Exercise Sagebrush. His wife and small daughter have arrived penniless in New York from Europe.

Red Cross officials came to the aid of Mrs. Rosa Maria Breu DeGiovanni and her three-year-old daughter, Joann, when they learned of their plight.

But there was some question as to whether the Red Cross and the Army could get the 21-year-old bride together with her husband—or even let him know she is in this country.

The sergeant at last report was still being carried as a prisoner of "aggressor" forces, who late Saturday were in the process of retreating down the south end of the maneuver field in a seven million acre chunk of Southwest Louisiana.

Exercise Sagebrush officials traced DeGiovanni to an 82nd Airborne Division ordinance battalion.

He was captured during the first phase of Sagebrush, they said, when his tank broke down. The soldier was required to stay with his tank. Officials said that under the mock war rules, DeGiovanni's whereabouts remain a military secret.

DeGiovanni, 25, met and married Rosa Maria while he was stationed in Europe. He returned to the United States last February and is permanently assigned to the First Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

His wife said she arrived in New York without funds because she was robbed of all her money while visiting her mother on the isle of Jersey, in the English Channel, before sailing for the U.S.

New Blockade Of Berlin Threatened

EXPLOSION STARTS $500,000 FIRE—An explosion in a paint store at Union City, N. J., touched off this fire which devastated three buildings, damaged four others, and sent 21 families fleeing into the streets. The damage was estimated at half a million dollars. (AP Wirephoto)

East Germans Act To Block Barge Freight

BERLIN, Dec. 3 —UP— The East German Communist regime took its first step toward a possible new blockade of Berlin Saturday.

The Communist refused to renew the yearly permits by which West German barges bring 1.5 million tons of supplies to West Berlin through the Soviet occupation zone.

Allied officials believe that attempts to interfere with highway, railroad and perhaps even air traffic may follow.

Barge companies made application to the East German waterways administration for renewal of transit permits, which expire on Dec. 1.

The applications were rejected on the ground that East Germany is now a "sovereign" state and that renewal of permits must be discussed directly between the traffic ministries of the West German and East German governments.

This was an open attempt to force the West German government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to recognize the East German puppet regime. It implied a threat to blockade Berlin if recognition were refused.

Adenauer has said that he will not recognize the Red regime.

Allied officials expressed belief that the barge permit refusal might be the first move in a Communist "master plan" to use the alleged sovereignty of East Germany to cut the life lines of West Berlin's communications to the West.

Berlin is an enclave, under American - British - French - Russian occupation. It is separated by 110 miles of Soviet occupied territory from the West German government.

The East Germans were taking their stand by virtue of the announcement on Sept. 20 that Russia had signed a "treaty" with the East German puppet regime giving it "complete sovereignty."

Virginia Assembly Votes Approval For Referendum On Aid To Private Schools

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 3 (AP)—Virginia's General Assembly gave resounding approval today to emergency legislation to let the people decide whether the way shall be cleared for public aid to a child's private schooling, primarily to avoid enforced racial integration.

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley signed the act a little more than an hour after its passage, thus putting into law immediately the legislation he placed before the Assembly Wednesday when it convened at his call for a special session.

The act provides for a referendum on the question of whether a limited constitutional convention shall be called to amend Section 141 of the State Constitution to allow tuition grants. The governor announced he would call the referendum for Monday, Jan. 9.

Stanley appeared in the Senate before the two bodies adjourned in their respective chambers, to thank them for "the fine work accomplished here."

"As I have said before," he re-

Alabama Village Heavily Damaged In Violent Storm

CHEROKEE, Ala., Dec. 3 (AP) A violent windstorm demolished three houses, tore the roof from a school, and caused considerable other damage late today in a rural community five miles west of here.

There were no injuries reported. The damaged area is being patrolled by Alabama state patrolmen, and officers assigned by the Colbert County Sheriff's office.

Approximately 20 other houses have been damaged, and hundreds of trees uprooted.

Telephone and power lines from Sheffield, Ala., west have been damaged, and repair crews are attempting to restore service.

The roof was torn from the Margerum Elementary School, near the Alabama-Mississppi line.

Two Women Die, Others Injured Near Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, La. Dec. 3—UP —A Negro woman died when cut in half below the chest by a moving freight train, while another woman was killed in an auto accident and 11 other persons suffered injuries in traffic accidents Friday in central Louisiana.

Officials said Elizabeth Moreau, 45, Alexandria, was cut in two as she apparently attempted to cross between two cars of a Southern Pacific freight train.

Mrs. Carrie Joyce, 81, Waco, Tex., was killed Friday evening when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with a tank-truck on state route 6 about two miles east of Natchitoches.

Detective Capt. C. C. Bolen of the Alexandria police force said the Moreau woman apparently attempted to cross the line of freight cars when the train began to move. He said she fell between the coupled cars and under the wheels of the train. Her body was severed below the chest.

Mrs. Joyce's death was attributed by state police to a crushed chest and internal injuries. Her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Plummer of Natchitoches, and Mrs. Plummer's husband were also injured.

Planes Used To Carry Auburn Backers?

U. S. To Expand Probe Of Guard If Alabama's Folsom Orders Airlift

MCINTOSH, Ala., Dec. 3 (AP) — Gov. James E. Folsom's defiant threat to order a "Gator Bowl" armada of National Guard planes to Jacksonville, Fla. Dec. 31 may broaden the scope of an Air Force investigation.

A senior official at the Pentagon said in Washington today the governor's Florida flight plans might give the Air Force something more to investigate.

Folsom last night promised to order every available Alabama National Guard plane on a "special weather mission" to the Florida city the day Auburn meets Vanderbilt in the Gator Bowl there.

While Alabama officials declined to say how many planes might be involved in such a mission, Washington sources said they would be most concerned with use of at least two C47 transport planes and one squadron of B26 tactical bombers assigned to Alabama.

These are planes that can carry passengers in addition to the crew.

The Air Force announced in Washington this week that an investigation would be made into reports that Air Guard planes had been used for unauthorized trips to take Folsom and his friends to football games.

Folsom left today for Oklahoma City to attend the National Young Democrats convention and was not available for comment on the report that the Air Force might enlarge its investigation.

The Alabama governor came to McIntosh Wednesday to serve as host to New York's Gov. Averell Harriman for a turkey and deer hunt at the lodge of Rep. Frank Boykin (D-Ala).

Commenting on the first report of the Air Force inquiry, Folsom said the guard planes would be dispatched to Jacksonville not only on a weather mission but to make a "runway landing inspection" in the morning and a "take-off inspection late that afternoon."

Air Force and Air National Guard spokesmen withheld comment on the proposed use of guard planes Dec. 31 to wait until such flights actually are made.

Pentagon officials noted that a governor can order guard personnel and equipment to engage in training flights. However, they reminded that a memorandum went out as late as Oct. 31 seeking to avoid misuse of federally-owned aircraft.

This memorandum said proven violations in the future would make any offending state liable to receiving a bill for the cost of the flights.

Under federal regulations governors, lieutenant governors and adjutant generals can use guard planes only when they are on guard or federal government business.

Other individuals may be flown in guard planes only if one of the senior state officials specifies in writing that the flight is necessary and directly connected with guard or national government affairs.

Alabama's Air National Guard consists oft wo operational squadrons, one equipped with B26 light bombers and the other with F80 jets. Each squadron has a C47 which can carry up to 20 persons.

When asked about the pending Air Force investigation, Gov. Folsom said:

"Under my power as commander-in-chief of the Alabama Air National Guard, I am ordering every jet, every C47 and everything that can roll on wheels, much less fly, to fly ober Jacksonville on Dec. 31.

"I hear that the Florida runways are in bad shape and need to be inspected, so these Alabama planes will give the Jacksonville runway a landing inspection sometime during the morning of Dec. 31, and give them a take-off inspection late that afternoon."

30 Amendments Up For Voting In Alabama Election

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 3 (AP) —Alabama votes on 30 amendments to its constitution Tuesday, climaxing months of debate over school financing and a warning that the schools may close unless new tax revenue is provided.

Interest was centered on a proposed new state income tax which would yield an estimated 29 million dollars a year for education. Without the additional revenue from that or another source, state Supt. Austin R. Meadows says the schools will have to shut down next March, two months ahead of schedule.

Opponents of the tax amendment have disputed Dr. Meadows' grim prediction.

The tax measure—authorized by Rep. Joe Goodwyn of Montgomery —would levy an additional graduated tax on all individual and corporation "adjusted gross income." The law defines that as total earnings less the "ordinary" expenses of doing business.

For wage earners, however, it would mean their entire salary or wages since there are no deductions save business expenses.

The fight over school segregation figures in one of the amendments, No. 2 on the list. It would authorize a 110 million dollar bond issue for new school buildings.

Meadows and other educators have said it could have a direct bearing on demands for school integration. With more nearly adequate schools, they say Negroes may lessen their demands for admission to white classrooms.

Preaus Charges Other Candidates Are Not 'Wanted'

NAPOLEONVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special) — Louisianians do not want as their next governor a policeman, the mayor of New Orleans, or "one of the old gang" the gubernatorial team of Fred Preaus and A. Brown Moore said here today.

Moore said, "The last thing we need in Louisiana is a governor whose sole qualification is being a good policeman, one who failed to advance the state in two tries, or the mayor of New Orleans."

Preaus and Moore said Louisiana today needs a successful businessman for its chief executive.

Preaus said a governor must be leader of all the people and must look after the interests of each citizen. In a state where the governor is the head of a political machine this is impossible, he said. He added that there is considerably more to being governor than enforcing the laws and out - promising other candidates.

Moore, candidate for lieutenant-governor, predicted that Louisiana voters will elect in January a team that will keep Louisiana going forward.

"We have found in our visits throughout the state that the people are for the man who will unselfishly devote his time and efforts to the task of continuing the improvement programs begun during the past three and one-half years," Moore said. He said Preaus is the only candidate who fits these specifications.

The old gang, the machine politician and the one - track candidate must be kept out of the governor's office, Preaus said. To do otherwise would be to return to the type of political administrations voted out in 1952, he added.

Preaus Charges Other Candidates Are Not 'Wanted'

NAPOLEONVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special) — Louisianians do not want as their next governor a policeman, the mayor of New Orleans, or "one of the old gang" the gubernatorial team of Fred Preaus and A. Brown Moore said here today.

Moore said, "The last thing we need in Louisiana is a governor whose sole qualification is being a good policeman, one who failed to advance the state in two tries, or the mayor of New Orleans."

Preaus and Moore said Louisiana today needs a successful businessman for its chief executive.

Preaus said a governor must be leader of all the people and must look after the interests of each citizen. In a state where the governor is the head of a political machine this is impossible, he said. He added that there is considerably more to being governor than enforcing the laws and out - promising other candidates.

Moore, candidate for lieutenant-governor, predicted that Louisiana voters will elect in January a team that will keep Louisiana going forward.

"We have found in our visits throughout the state that the people are for the man who will unselfishly devote his time and efforts to the task of continuing the improvement programs begun during the past three and one-half years," Moore said. He said Preaus is the only candidate who fits these specifications.

The old gang, the machine politician and the one - track candidate must be kept out of the governor's office, Preaus said. To do otherwise would be to return to the type of political administrations voted out in 1952, he added.

Louisiana Needs Morrison As Governor

The biggest business in Louisiana is its State Government. The cost of operation of this business in behalf of nearly 3,000,000 people—"stockholders"—now has passed $500,000,000 a year. That is an increase of more than 450 per cent over the cost of Louisiana government in the 1940-44 administration of little more than 10 years ago.

The next State Administration, to be elected in the January primaries and subsequent general election, will have more than two and a half billion dollars of public money to spend in behalf of the nearly 3,000,000 men, women and children of Louisiana during its four years in office.

But that administration also will be faced with the fact that the present State Administration would be $80,000,000 in the hole in its final two years but for windfall revenue from tidelands leasing that has kept the budget balanced for the present administration.

That revenue is certain to decrease in coming years—the cream of the oil lands already have been leased—while spending commitments will remain at their all-time high, or increase.

The next administration must face the problem of the huge established present state cost of operation against a probable decrease in state revenue.

The paramount issue in the present gubernatorial race—one that dwarfs all others individually—is simply this:

Which candidate for Governor is best qualified by experience and proven ability to administer this two and a half billion dollar business in the next four years—which candidate can best be trusted, on the basis of public record that has been subjected to public scrutiny and public approval, to handle such financial operations honestly, completely, fairly, and for the best interests of all of the people of the state?

On that issue, deLesseps S. "Chep" Morrison of New Orleans, candidate for Governor, stands head and shoulders above any other candidate through his public and proven record as Chief Executive of the state's largest city for 10 years, and through two terms previously in the state Legislature.

And in the second highest post in the state government—that of Lieutenant Governor, which really is "Deputy Governor"—C. E. "Cap" Barham of Ruston, Mr. Morrison's running mate, stands out with equal prominence over all other candidates for Lieutenant Governor—also through his public and proven record in government as both State Senator and Lieutenant Governor.

Louisiana, facing the greatest years in its history, is indeed fortunate to have such a team available for the two top administrative and executive posts in the ever-growing business of government which directly affects not only the present but the future of so many hundreds of thousands of people, old or young, or in the prime of life.

The 'Country Boy' And The 'City Boy'

"Chep" Morrison is the rare individual whose life has been that of both "country boy" and "city boy." He was born into a rural family in New Roads, Point Coupee Parish, 43 years ago, working on a farm until in his upper teens. Fatherless at 18, he worked his way through Louisiana State University as a day laborer on the University's farm—wielding hoe, pitchfolk and shovel. He was graduated cum laude in both the Liberal Arts and Law colleges. He then became a successful lawyer in New Orleans.

Only six years after moving to that city, he made his first political race—for the Legislature. What his home town fellow citizens think of him is shown by the fact that he has run for public office five times—twice for the Legislature and three times for Mayor—and each time has been elected in the first primary.

He overturned the Old Regulars-Earl Long-Bob Maestri political machine in his first race for mayor, piled up the biggest majority in any political contest in New Orleans' history in his second mayoralty race, and polled a majority of 30,000 votes over the combined total vote for eight other candidates in his third election.

In War II, "Chep" Morrison was called to service as second lieutenant—through an ROTC commission gained at LSU. He received the Bronze Star, was in the first assault force to cross the Rhine, directed huge wartime and post-war supply and occupations overseas, and received the Legion of Merit for outstanding competence in various fields. He came out as a Colonel and since has risen to Brigadier General in the Army Reserve.

Louisiana now faces its years of greatest opportunity, its years of greatest need for competence at the helm of its government. We are expanding our schools, our highways, our waterways, our industries, our commerce, our agriculture and forestry, our professions, our natural resources, our technology.

In all of these fields the race between the states for progress in new development, new payrolls, and new and higher standards of living at every level of life is keenly competitive. Victory is always to the alert, to the progressive. The caliber of a state's government often may determine whether an industry providing payrolls and homes and good living for thousands will come to Louisiana or go elsewhere. This state has lost such development in the past because of lack of trust and faith in its government.

'Pretty Good' Is Not Good Enough

It is not enough to have, as governor, a man who is "pretty good" or "against whom nothing much can be said." Louisiana needs a man whose qualifications are affirmative, whose record in the past testifies to his vision as to the future.

Such a man is "Chep" Morrison—far more so than any other candidate. With no personal reflection on the other candidates, these facts are incontrovertible:

Two have had no experience in administration of government, nor have they any outstanding record in business or professional life.

A third has been a "capable cop" but has no record testifying ability to be a competent governor.

A fourth has twice been governor, once by succession and once by election, but at the end of his elective term the people of Louisiana repudiated his administration of their affairs by a two-thirds majority.

Against this, "Chep" Morrison has a record that cannot be questioned and that has been given public endorsement in five successive first primary elections to high public office.

"Chep" Morrison fundamentally is a builder—a man imbued with endless energy, enthusiasm and the desire to venture into new fields—all of this coupled with keen, logical and conservative judgment. He is a builder of city character, of recreation and education for all people, of cultural as well as physical and industrial assets.

He doesn't know how to take "No" for an answer where what he wants is for the good of public welfare. That was shown a few years ago when Kaiser Aluminum Co. turned down New Orleans as a site for a new $150,000,000 plant and publicly announced that Corpus Christi, Tex., would get the structure and its huge payrolls and local taxes.

That would have ended the matter for most cities, for most public officials, but not for "Chep" Morrison. He simply organized a "crew" of businessmen and started after Kaiser all over again.

The result: Kaiser reversed itself on Corpus Christi and came to New Orleans with its $150,000,000 plant.

More than $700,000,000 worth of new industry has come to New Orleans and its environs during the 10 years "Chep" Morrison has been mayor. Of course, he did not personally cause all of it. But he was a leader in getting it, and one of the deciding factors of big industries locating in New Orleans was the clean, honest efficient city government provided under Mayor Morrison. That is something big industry always demands in choosing a new factory site.

He Can Do The Job For The Whole State

What "Chep" Morrison has done for his own part of the state he can do for the entire state as governor—and he will if elected.

As an official of the Louisiana Municipal Assn.—the organization of mayors—he is personally acquainted with virtually every Louisiana mayor. Each of them would have access to him personally as governor—to bring before the state's chief executives the problems of the cities.

Each would be sure of sympathetic understanding. He already has acquainted himself with the problems of many Louisiana cities—he knows how Shreveport, Ruston, Natchitoches, Mansfield, Alexandria, Monroe and other cities have been struggling to gain new business and payrolls as a balance to their cultural assets and to improve living standards of their people.

He knows the city financial problems created by steady encroachment of both state and federal governments into the normal revenue sources of municipalities. He knows the urban street and highways needs as well as country needs.

He has pledged himself specifically in favor of the Louisiana Municipal Assn.'s proposal for direct state financial aid to every city in the state and he stands behind the similar program of the Louisiana Police Jury Assn. for all parishes—urban and rural.

On the three major issues before Louisiana people today—segregation, right to work and law enforcement—"Chep" Morrison and "Cap" Barham were the first individually and together to come out unequivocally in favor of all three.

The Morrison-Barham platform is the only platform that specifically and by name stands on the segregation amendment of 1954, drawn by the Rainach Special Segregation Committee of the Legislature and approved overwhelmingly by the people in a statewide referendum.

At the same time, "Chep" Morrison stands for genuinely equal facilities for Negroes. He has established them in New Orleans in exactly the same manner that they have been established in Shreveport under the Caldwell, Fant and Gardner city administrations and through the Caddo Parish School Board, and as they now are being established in many other Louisiana cities. The difference is only in the fact that Mr. Morrison had the vision 10 years ago to see what had to be done to retain segregation and good race relations, too—as did Shreveport.

The Morrison-Barham platform unequivocally supports Louisiana's present right-to-work law and at the same time pledges a fair deal always for organized labor.

Many big South Louisiana labor unions are supporting "Chep" Morrison for governor because they know he shoots straight with them, just as the employers for whom the members of these same unions work also support him—and for the same reason. Frequently he has been called as mediator in labor-management disputes—always with praise from both sides for his conduct.

That cannot be said about any other candidate.

On law enforcement, the Morrison record is clear and clean despite the slander and falsehoods thrown at it by one candidate. He had been in office only a matter of minutes in his first term as mayor when he ordered 900 slot machines in New Orleans seized and destroyed.

For this, he was sued for $137,000 by Frank Costello, known nationally as the "Prime Minister of the underworld," by Phil Kastel, Louisiana ambassador for Costello who recently was ordered deported, and by Freddie Rickerfor, New Orleans gambler. Litigation lasted four years and Morrison won the suit. There have been no slot machines in New Orleans since that first seizure.

For the reasons stated here—and for others which will be brought out later—The World believes that deLesseps S. Morrison has earned the full confidence of the people of Louisiana, and that election of him as governor—and of "Cap" Barham as lieutenant governor—will open new horizons of prosperity and welfare for the entire state.

WASHINGTON COMMUTERS

Public Forum

Thanks To Gov. Kennon

Tallulah, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The question isn't whether Long will carry out his campaign pledges or not—it's what he did during his administration just a few short years back. As we all know Madison parish was full of slot machines and gambling was wide open. The Long leaders here, who have the Long campaign slogan 'Earl Will Win In A Walk" buzzing around, were in on the take, so naturally they are very anxious to see Earl, slot machines and gambling back in.

We the people of Madison parish should show our appreciation to Gov. Kennon for helping us make our parish a decent place to rear our children by electing a man as governor who will continue his program.

MADISON CITIZENS.

Good Government

Gibsland, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It appears that we the people of Louisiana are clamoring for "good government." It also appears that we the people are pretty well united on this proposition that bringing more industrial enterprises into Louisiana is consistent with "good government." It might be well for we the people to look into the matter of what is hindering and retarding the process of bringing more industrial enterprises into Louisiana.

According to the "Report of Activities of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Problems filed in the Department of Commerce, U.S. on August 29, 1955, pages 47 and 48, we find that the balance due on this money, goods and chattels that the United States government loaned to 56 foreign nations amounted to $11,780,000,000.00 as of December 31, 1954 — that the unpaid balance on the money, goods and chattels that the United States government loaned to Russia amounts to $ 23,000,000.00 — that the unpaid balance on the money, goods and chattels that the United States government loaned to England amounts to $4,503,000,000.00—that in the year 1954 the United States Government gave grants to England in net grants, $135,000,000.00, plus $192,000,000.00 in new grants in addition to England's sharing in $2,766,000,000.0 of military grants that the United States gave to Western Europe; on account of which England had a surplus of over $40,000,000.00 in the year 1954. In that same year, the United States had a deficit of over $3,000,000,000.00; running the public debt of the United States to about $280,000,000,000.00.

Inasmuch as there is no way by which the United States Government can obtain the money to make these loans and grants other than lay and collect taxes from we the people in Louisiana and the other 47 states, a pertinent question for we the people of Louisiana to ask ourselves is, "Do we actually believe that all that evidence is "good government" on the part of the United States?" And, "Whether levying and collecting taxes from we the people for the United States to loan and grant 56 foreign nations hinders the process of getting more industrial enterprises into Louisiana?"

Gambling Laws

A word about the three convicted robbers of a poker game. They are a Mr. Russell, Dortch and Deal.

What has been done about the persons responsible for the game and also the people involved? You know if there hadn't been a game this robbery never would have happened. At whose house was this game being played?

I'm not pulling for anyone, especially a robber, but seems like there should be more convictions in this case. We must have laws prohibiting gambling and running gambling games.

Editor, Morning World,

I see by the Monroe paper the other day that a Monroe chiropractor was arrested again. It seems that this time it is for breaking a court order restraining him from the practice of medicine. What is this practice of medicine? Dr. Fields did not practice medicine as we laymen think of medicine. He prescribed no medicine or did no surgery. Is it that his helping sick people get well through chiropractic constitutes the practice of medicine? When Dr. Fields completed his required course in college, he was graduated as a doctor of chiropractic, which by the way is a recognized profession in 44 states of the union, District of Columbia, Alaska, Canada, Hawaii, and many foreign countries.

The chiropractor today is graduated with 4,485 hours of class room work, where as the John Hopkins Medical School graduates its seven year medical students with only 3,397 hours. The chiropractic colleges today teach all of the basic sciences that are taught in the medical schools.

The chiropractic approach to the health of the human body is entirely different from the medical approach. Their method of care is entirely different from medical care.

There are many systems of healing — religion, miracles at Lourdes, Christian Science, psychotherapy, physiotherapy, osteopathy, chiropractic, surgery and medicine. No system has proven infallible.

Dr. Benjamin Rush, M. D., one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, wrote: "The Constitution of this republic should make provision for healing freedom as well as religious freedom. To restrict the art of healing to one class of men and deny equal privileges to others will consttitute the bastile of medical science. Such restrictions are fragments of monarchy and have no place in a republic."

Education Conference

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The recent White House education conference was no doubt the best camouflaged hoax this country has experienced in ages. The meeting was arranged and dominated by Leftists who were under remote control of the UNESCO. Last night these Leftists were broadcasting to the world that the delegates were 2 to 1 in favor of federal aid to schools. In plain untarnished lingo, that is a bare-faced lie. No vote was taken.

This was a gargantuan drive by the Soviets to socialize our schools, that is, get our schools in the controls of the federal government. The Soviets know they can rely on the UNESCO, their protege, to make monkeys of our leaders in Washington. If the federal government gets control of our schools they will then tell us what we must do. No doubt all our text books would be re-written and segregation would be no more. The Leftists tacitly inform us that the 14th amendment prohibits the federal government from taking over our schools. That's Red bait. The desegregation ruling proved we can't get justice through our constitution.

The ulterior motive of the Soviets in this drive is to win the confidence of our young people. The UNESCO plans to re-write our school books all of which conforms to the Communist point of view. Past wars would not be in such books. Our children would never know how our nation was born. Russia knows that if she can win our youngsters, this nation is doomed. And if the U. S. falls, the rest of the nations will go like clay pigeons.

Finnegan To Replace Butler

The man who will shortly take over direction of the pre-convention campaign of Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic Presidential nomination is no more an "amateur" in politics than any campaign manager in years gone by.

When Stevenson, at his recent news conference in Chicago where he formally announced his candidacy, disclosed that James A. Finnegan of Philadelphia would be his campaign manager, all doubt that he was leaving his nomination in the hands of so-called amateurs, as in 1952, disappeared.

In fact, it is an odds-on bet that if Stevenson gets the Democratic nomination next August, he will almost immediately recommend Finnegan to succeed Paul Butler of Indiana as chairman of the National Democratic Committee. The wishes of the Presidential nominee are always carried out by the national committee.

Unlike Stephen Mitchell, Chicago attorney, who led the drive which resulted in the so-called "draft" of Stevenson for the nomination in 1952, Finnegan is a political veteran who started some twenty years ago as a precinct worker in his home city. His knowledge of practical political operations, from the precinct up, is just as good as that of New York Tammany Leader Carmine De Sapio, who has been doing his best to engineer the nomination of Governor Averell Harriman of New York.

Stevenson made it clear when he announced Finnegan's appointment in Chicago that the Philadelphian will be the real boss in the pre-convention campaign, even though Mitchell and Wilson Wyatt of Louisville, who helped Mitchell in 1952, were named as active advisors.

Since then Mitchell, by his announcement that he will be a candidate for the Illinois Democratic gubernatorial nomination, has virtually removed himself from the picture. Finnegan, of course, had nothing to say about this development, but there is little doubt but what he was pleased. Because Mitchell had played such an important part in the 1952 campaign and served as National chairman, there was always the possibility that he might try, at least, to challenge some of Finnegan's decisions and thus disrupt harmony in the campaign machine.

Though Finnegan, who is still in his forties, is as yet little known by the public outside of his home state, his political acumen and ability is well known by professional politicians of both parties.

He is given a great deal of credit for the election last year of the first Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania since 1934, youthful George M. Leader. And no one in Philadelphia questions the critical part he played in wresting control of the state's largest city from the Republicans in 1951. It was this city victory that signaled the revitalization of the Democratic party in the Keystone state after years of apathy.

Like many of the famous political leaders of New York and Chicago, Finnegan started as a lowly precinct worker just as soon as he was old enough to vote. He gradually rose through the party ranks and was named city Democratic chairman in 1947. At that time, the party's power in the city, as well as in most of the state, was at an extremely low ebb.

He succeeded shortly afterward, however, to win the Presidency of the city Council and only three years later led the party to a clean sweep of all major city offices. He credits development of a thorough-going organization, from the precinct level up, for the return of the party's power after such a long period. He then moved into the state picture and applied the same type of organizing which proved such a success last year.

Feeling that results in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania have proved his point of the need for the tightest kind of organization, Finnegan plans now to try it on a national scale. First will be organizing to assure Stevenson of a maximum number of delegates to the Chicago convention next August. Then, if Stevenson, now definitely the favorite, gets the nomination, Finnegan will turn his attention to restoration of the Democratic party to full control in November.

Louisiana Needs Morrison As Governor

The biggest business in Louisiana is its State Government. The cost of operation of this business in behalf of nearly 3,000,000 people—"stockholders"—now has passed $500,000,000 a year. That is an increase of more than 450 per cent over the cost of Louisiana government in the 1940-44 administration of little more than 10 years ago.

The next State Administration, to be elected in the January primaries and subsequent general election, will have more than two and a half billion dollars of public money to spend in behalf of the nearly 3,000,000 men, women and children of Louisiana during its four years in office.

But that administration also will be faced with the fact that the present State Administration would be $80,000,000 in the hole in its final two years but for windfall revenue from tidelands leasing that has kept the budget balanced for the present administration.

That revenue is certain to decrease in coming years—the cream of the oil lands already have been leased—while spending commitments will remain at their all-time high, or increase.

The next administration must face the problem of the huge established present state cost of operation against a probable decrease in state revenue.

The paramount issue in the present gubernatorial race—one that dwarfs all others individually—is simply this:

Which candidate for Governor is best qualified by experience and proven ability to administer this two and a half billion dollar business in the next four years—which candidate can best be trusted, on the basis of public record that has been subjected to public scrutiny and public approval, to handle such financial operations honestly, completely, fairly, and for the best interests of all of the people of the state?

On that issue, deLesseps S. "Chep" Morrison of New Orleans, candidate for Governor, stands head and shoulders above any other candidate through his public and proven record as Chief Executive of the state's largest city for 10 years, and through two terms previously in the state Legislature.

And in the second highest post in the state government—that of Lieutenant Governor, which really is "Deputy Governor"—C. E. "Cap" Barham of Ruston, Mr. Morrison's running mate, stands out with equal prominence over all other candidates for Lieutenant Governor—also through his public and proven record in government as both State Senator and Lieutenant Governor.

Louisiana, facing the greatest years in its history, is indeed fortunate to have such a team available for the two top administrative and executive posts in the ever-growing business of government which directly affects not only the present but the future of so many hundreds of thousands of people, old or young, or in the prime of life.

The 'Country Boy' And The 'City Boy'

"Chep" Morrison is the rare individual whose life has been that of both "country boy" and "city boy." He was born into a rural family in New Roads, Point Coupee Parish, 43 years ago, working on a farm until in his upper teens. Fatherless at 18, he worked his way through Louisiana State University as a day laborer on the University's farm—wielding hoe, pitchfolk and shovel. He was graduated cum laude in both the Liberal Arts and Law colleges. He then became a successful lawyer in New Orleans.

Only six years after moving to that city, he made his first political race—for the Legislature. What his home town fellow citizens think of him is shown by the fact that he has run for public office five times—twice for the Legislature and three times for Mayor—and each time has been elected in the first primary.

He overturned the Old Regulars-Earl Long-Bob Maestri political machine in his first race for mayor, piled up the biggest majority in any political contest in New Orleans' history in his second mayoralty race, and polled a majority of 30,000 votes over the combined total vote for eight other candidates in his third election.

In War II, "Chep" Morrison was called to service as second lieutenant—through an ROTC commission gained at LSU. He received the Bronze Star, was in the first assault force to cross the Rhine, directed huge wartime and post-war supply and occupations overseas, and received the Legion of Merit for outstanding competence in various fields. He came out as a Colonel and since has risen to Brigadier General in the Army Reserve.

Louisiana now faces its years of greatest opportunity, its years of greatest need for competence at the helm of its government. We are expanding our schools, our highways, our waterways, our industries, our commerce, our agriculture and forestry, our professions, our natural resources, our technology.

In all of these fields the race between the states for progress in new development, new payrolls, and new and higher standards of living at every level of life is keenly competitive. Victory is always to the alert, to the progressive. The caliber of a state's government often may determine whether an industry providing payrolls and homes and good living for thousands will come to Louisiana or go elsewhere. This state has lost such development in the past because of lack of trust and faith in its government.

'Pretty Good' Is Not Good Enough

It is not enough to have, as governor, a man who is "pretty good" or "against whom nothing much can be said." Louisiana needs a man whose qualifications are affirmative, whose record in the past testifies to his vision as to the future.

Such a man is "Chep" Morrison—far more so than any other candidate. With no personal reflection on the other candidates, these facts are incontrovertible:

Two have had no experience in administration of government, nor have they any outstanding record in business or professional life.

A third has been a "capable cop" but has no record testifying ability to be a competent governor.

A fourth has twice been governor, once by succession and once by election, but at the end of his elective term the people of Louisiana repudiated his administration of their affairs by a two-thirds majority.

Against this, "Chep" Morrison has a record that cannot be questioned and that has been given public endorsement in five successive first primary elections to high public office.

"Chep" Morrison fundamentally is a builder—a man imbued with endless energy, enthusiasm and the desire to venture into new fields—all of this coupled with keen, logical and conservative judgment. He is a builder of city character, of recreation and education for all people, of cultural as well as physical and industrial assets.

He doesn't know how to take "No" for an answer where what he wants is for the good of public welfare. That was shown a few years ago when Kaiser Aluminum Co. turned down New Orleans as a site for a new $150,000,000 plant and publicly announced that Corpus Christi, Tex., would get the structure and its huge payrolls and local taxes.

That would have ended the matter for most cities, for most public officials, but not for "Chep" Morrison. He simply organized a "crew" of businessmen and started after Kaiser all over again.

The result: Kaiser reversed itself on Corpus Christi and came to New Orleans with its $150,000,000 plant.

More than $700,000,000 worth of new industry has come to New Orleans and its environs during the 10 years "Chep" Morrison has been mayor. Of course, he did not personally cause all of it. But he was a leader in getting it, and one of the deciding factors of big industries locating in New Orleans was the clean, honest efficient city government provided under Mayor Morrison. That is something big industry always demands in choosing a new factory site.

He Can Do The Job For The Whole State

What "Chep" Morrison has done for his own part of the state he can do for the entire state as governor—and he will if elected.

As an official of the Louisiana Municipal Assn.—the organization of mayors—he is personally acquainted with virtually every Louisiana mayor. Each of them would have access to him personally as governor—to bring before the state's chief executives the problems of the cities.

Each would be sure of sympathetic understanding. He already has acquainted himself with the problems of many Louisiana cities—he knows how Shreveport, Ruston, Natchitoches, Mansfield, Alexandria, Monroe and other cities have been struggling to gain new business and payrolls as a balance to their cultural assets and to improve living standards of their people.

He knows the city financial problems created by steady encroachment of both state and federal governments into the normal revenue sources of municipalities. He knows the urban street and highways needs as well as country needs.

He has pledged himself specifically in favor of the Louisiana Municipal Assn.'s proposal for direct state financial aid to every city in the state and he stands behind the similar program of the Louisiana Police Jury Assn. for all parishes—urban and rural.

On the three major issues before Louisiana people today—segregation, right to work and law enforcement—"Chep" Morrison and "Cap" Barham were the first individually and together to come out unequivocally in favor of all three.

The Morrison-Barham platform is the only platform that specifically and by name stands on the segregation amendment of 1954, drawn by the Rainach Special Segregation Committee of the Legislature and approved overwhelmingly by the people in a statewide referendum.

At the same time, "Chep" Morrison stands for genuinely equal facilities for Negroes. He has established them in New Orleans in exactly the same manner that they have been established in Shreveport under the Caldwell, Fant and Gardner city administrations and through the Caddo Parish School Board, and as they now are being established in many other Louisiana cities. The difference is only in the fact that Mr. Morrison had the vision 10 years ago to see what had to be done to retain segregation and good race relations, too—as did Shreveport.

The Morrison-Barham platform unequivocally supports Louisiana's present right-to-work law and at the same time pledges a fair deal always for organized labor.

Many big South Louisiana labor unions are supporting "Chep" Morrison for governor because they know he shoots straight with them, just as the employers for whom the members of these same unions work also support him—and for the same reason. Frequently he has been called as mediator in labor-management disputes—always with praise from both sides for his conduct.

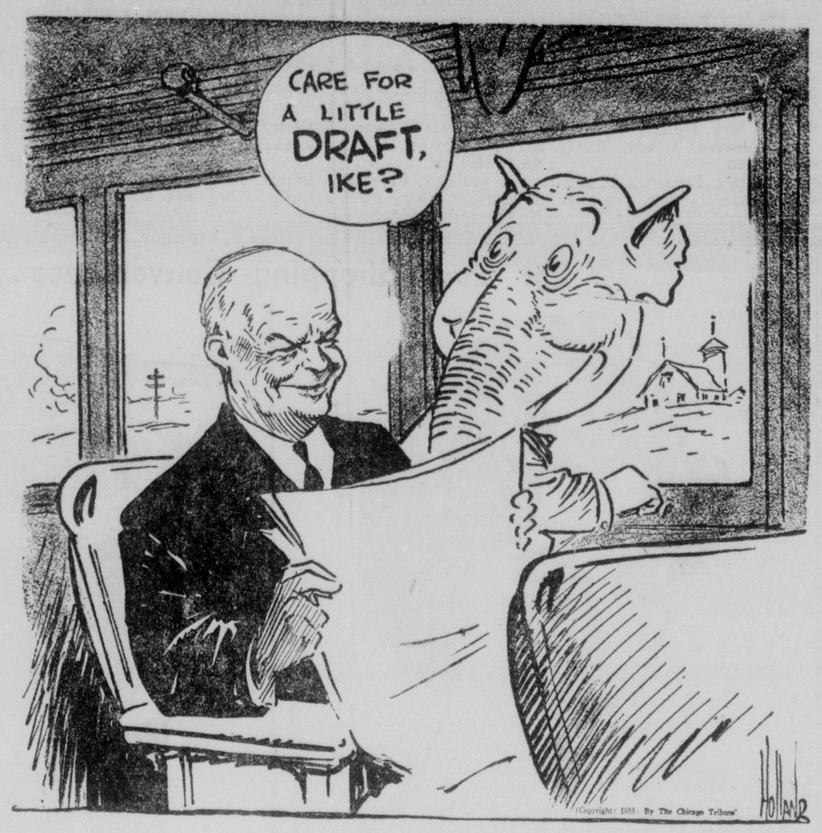

That cannot be said about any other candidate.

On law enforcement, the Morrison record is clear and clean despite the slander and falsehoods thrown at it by one candidate. He had been in office only a matter of minutes in his first term as mayor when he ordered 900 slot machines in New Orleans seized and destroyed.

For this, he was sued for $137,000 by Frank Costello, known nationally as the "Prime Minister of the underworld," by Phil Kastel, Louisiana ambassador for Costello who recently was ordered deported, and by Freddie Rickerfor, New Orleans gambler. Litigation lasted four years and Morrison won the suit. There have been no slot machines in New Orleans since that first seizure.

For the reasons stated here—and for others which will be brought out later—The World believes that deLesseps S. Morrison has earned the full confidence of the people of Louisiana, and that election of him as governor—and of "Cap" Barham as lieutenant governor—will open new horizons of prosperity and welfare for the entire state.

Thanks To Gov. Kennon

Tallulah, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The question isn't whether Long will carry out his campaign pledges or not—it's what he did during his administration just a few short years back. As we all know Madison parish was full of slot machines and gambling was wide open. The Long leaders here, who have the Long campaign slogan 'Earl Will Win In A Walk" buzzing around, were in on the take, so naturally they are very anxious to see Earl, slot machines and gambling back in.

We the people of Madison parish should show our appreciation to Gov. Kennon for helping us make our parish a decent place to rear our children by electing a man as governor who will continue his program.

Good Government

Gibsland, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It appears that we the people of Louisiana are clamoring for "good government." It also appears that we the people are pretty well united on this proposition that bringing more industrial enterprises into Louisiana is consistent with "good government." It might be well for we the people to look into the matter of what is hindering and retarding the process of bringing more industrial enterprises into Louisiana.

According to the "Report of Activities of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Problems filed in the Department of Commerce, U.S. on August 29, 1955, pages 47 and 48, we find that the balance due on this money, goods and chattels that the United States government loaned to 56 foreign nations amounted to $11,780,000,000.00 as of December 31, 1954 — that the unpaid balance on the money, goods and chattels that the United States government loaned to Russia amounts to $ 23,000,000.00 — that the unpaid balance on the money, goods and chattels that the United States government loaned to England amounts to $4,503,000,000.00—that in the year 1954 the United States Government gave grants to England in net grants, $135,000,000.00, plus $192,000,000.00 in new grants in addition to England's sharing in $2,766,000,000.0 of military grants that the United States gave to Western Europe; on account of which England had a surplus of over $40,000,000.00 in the year 1954. In that same year, the United States had a deficit of over $3,000,000,000.00; running the public debt of the United States to about $280,000,000,000.00.

Inasmuch as there is no way by which the United States Government can obtain the money to make these loans and grants other than lay and collect taxes from we the people in Louisiana and the other 47 states, a pertinent question for we the people of Louisiana to ask ourselves is, "Do we actually believe that all that evidence is "good government" on the part of the United States?" I earnestly request your active support and vote for "Cap" Barham and myself—and pledge to you that I will tirelessly devote myself to vigorous and effective leadership to achieve the aims that will make Louisiana a better state for all our people and our children.

"CHEP" MORRISON

"CHEP" MORRISON

C. E. (CAP) BARHAM

1 Planning

We pledge a major plan for the development and growth of each and every section of Louisiana. We will establish a capably staffed State Planning Agency that will outline a long-range program of orderly growth in our state. This major state plan will cover every phase of public activity—from highways to drainage; from hospitals to schools, and from agriculture to new industries and waterways.

2 No New Taxes

We give a firm, definite pledge of no additional taxes. As our economic status improves with proper planning, effective salesmanship and promotion of our State's advantages, we expect to increase our revenue materially from the same taxes we now have. This, plus businesslike operations of your state's affairs, will permit us to reduce taxes in the near future.

3 Law Enforcement

We pledge an all-out policy of strict law enforcement of all State laws, and particularly those with reference to gambling, narcotics and vice.

4 Education

Both Lt. Governor Barham and I are products of the public schools in small farming communities. We believe that money spent on education is the finest investment that can be made with your tax dollar.

We pledge a properly financed total educational program with improved pay for teachers, school bus drivers and other school personnel.

We propose a free hot lunch program for all school children.

Segregation: Our present system of school segregation recently approved as a Constitutional Amendment in November, 1954, shall be maintained. At the same time, we pledge to the Negro citizens of our state to make up for the past neglect they have endured. They need and shall get new schools, parks, playgrounds, proper lighting and other facilities so frequently denied them in certain parts of Louisiana.

5 Local Public Works

We pledge that the Louisiana Municipal Association's program of annual allocations of Tidelands Funds, dedicated to local public works of the parishes and municipalities, will be carried out.

This means your towns and parishes will have money for essential improvements, such as streets, lighting, water and sewerage extensions, drainage, parks and playgrounds, health centers, reforestation, etc.

This program will help strengthen the independence of Parish Police Juries and City Councils.

6 New And Expanded Industries

Our most determined effort will be made in behalf of bringing into Louisiana new factories and the expansion of our existing industries.

Our small farm communities, through our direct help, will secure factory payrolls to balance their agricultural economy.

This program will require thorough planning, intensive salesmanship and organized promotion of our State's advantages.

We pledge that the State will offer important inducements, taxwise and otherwise to outside capital.

7 Roads And Highways

We promise a major road system for Louisiana that will measure up to modern highway and safety standards. This includes a far-reaching program of bridges, overpasses, underpasses, expressways, causeways, and other modern road transportation facilities. We promise likewise a thorough program of hard surfacing farm to market roads, and school bus and mail routes.

The long-range program of the Sparks Joint Highway Committee will be supported and carried out.

8 Welfare

We pledge an increase in the old age assistance from $55 to at least $65 per month, without increasing your taxes. We propose to eliminate unnecessary red tape and remove the penalty now imposed on home ownership.

9 Agriculture

Both Lt. Governor Barham and myself have been reared in farm communities, and I worked my way through LSU as a laborer on the University Farm.

We pledge an intensive program to increase farm income and to give the farmer a real voice in state farm policies.

We promise to sell, promote and widely advertise our Louisiana products such as rice, sweet potatoes, strawberries, etc.

We pledge all-out assistance to our sugar cane and cotton farmers in securing larger quotas and benefits from the United States government.

We shall expand the FFA and 4-H programs; further vocational agriculture, soil conservation, drainage and water control and improvement of pasturing of our great cattle industry.

10 Forestry

We advocate well planned and thoroughly executed programs of reforestation to bring back to usefulness 16 million acres of cutover timber lands. Such additional production will support at least 10 new large paper mills over a period of time, and provide income to our landowners from increased timber production.

11 Wildlife, Fisheries

We pledge a better deal for the commercial shrimper, oysterman and trapper. He shall receive complete cooperation and full backing of the state government in taking care of his needs and his problems.

The wildlife conservation program will be carried forward with the assistance of our sportsmen civic groups.

12 Waterways

Development of new and deepened waterways for the movement of much of our new commerce will have a high priority. Cheap water transportation and adequate fresh water is an important key inducement to new industries.

13 Drainage And Water Conservation

Louisiana suffers in many areas from lack of water, while in other sections it is swampy and marsh infested. Millions of dollars in new values will be created through state - wide drainage products to reclaim swampy lands, as well as the construction of dams and water conservation facilities for the retention of water in dry areas.

This will result in increased land values and improved production, as well as new recreational facilities.

14 Pest Control And Pollution

We pledge active state participation in combatting the growing problem and nuisance of salt water mosquitoes. We must also provide proper means of combatting the growing hazard of air pollution, water pollution and smog.

15 Public Health

Expansion is proposed in our present program of health centers which are needed in most communities throughout Louisiana. It has been proven that through preventive measures, inoculation, X-rays, public sanitation and insect control, we can save millions of dollars of taxpayers money. Such an extensive program of public health will have a dual benefit of saving money and greatly improve the overall health of our people.

16 Hospitals And Institutions

We pledge a thorough program of improving and expanding our state hospitals and institutions which care for our physically and mentally ill and our delinquent children.

Immediate attention will be given to those areas without charity hospital service. The greater Baton Rouge area is a good example.

17 Penal Reform

Forward steps have been made in the management of the Angola State Penitentiary. This will be furthered as there is still room for improvement. We pledge the carrying out of the modern principles of prison administration with a constant effort toward rehabilitation.

Such a program should be the foundation for a well-run prison system in our state, combining humanity with correction and proper punishment.

18 Civil Service

Lt. Governor Barham and I pledge proper financing and retention of our State and Municipal Civil Service Systems. As one of the original authors of the State and City Civil Service Law in 1940, I know the great benefit that has been derived through this fine merit program.

19 Natural Resources

Sound and reasonable conservation of our State's natural resources is pledged. This includes proper conservation of oil, gas, sulphur, salt, fresh water and other minerals.

At the same time, we shall oppose vigorously Federal regulation of oil and gas prices, which has the effect of depressing and restricting the development of the largest single industry in our state —petroleum.

The gas gathering and severance taxes will not be increased.

20 Local Government

The right of the Parishes and Municipalities to run their own affairs has been repeatedly approved by constitutional amendment, successively granting home rule charters to Shreveport, Baton Rouge, New Orleans and all communities. We pledge continued cooperation and help for local officials—not interference.

Local government is still the backbone of democracy, and we shall support strengthening this cornerstone in our governmental system.

21 Youth And Adult Recreation

We promise a full, adequate and complete supervised recreation program for the people of Louisiana in each and every municipality and parish. This means the establishment of parks and playgrounds, cultural, as well as athletic centers for young and old. No better means can be devised for reducing juvenile crime and delinquency and building stronger bodies for our young people.

22 Veteran's Service

As an overseas veteran of World War II and an active reservist in our Armed Forces, I work closely with all veteran groups, and as Governor will assist them in all of their endeavors, whether on a state or federal level.

23 Labor-Management Relations

We shall assist Management and Labor in working towards full employment, good wages, decent working conditions, and more jobs and payrolls to mutually benefit Labor, Management and the public. The door of the Governor's office will always be open to fair, impartial mediation or negotiation of controversies or disputes, which adversely affect the public.

The Right to Work Act is the law of our State today, and we shall take no steps to alter or change its provisions. To do so would place the Governor in the position of being a partisan and will keep him from maintaining an impartial, independent and objective attitude towards labor controversies.

We shall seek the confidence of both Labor and Management, and we expect to serve both in the public interest.

We have pledged to the laboring man improvements in the administration of unemployment benefits and workmen's compensation.

24 Safety

We pledge the full energies of all state departments in behalf of overall safety. Particular emphasis will be placed on highway and industrial safety.

The present state program of fencing highways and elimination of livestock hazards shall be continued and expanded.

25 History And Culture

We promise to combine the efforts of all patriotic, historical and civic groups to restore, preserve and mark all historical sites, landmarks and buildings in Louisiana. The colorful history and background of our state shall be retained and advertised to our people and the world.

26 Tourism

We pledge aggressive promotion and wide-spread advertising of the tourist attractions of all sections of our state. This means new dollars in the pocket of our small business men—filling stations, restaurants, motels, merchants, etc.

27 Lieutenant Governor

The Lieutenant Governor will play a stronger and more important role in the administration of our State's affairs. He shall be the Governor's partner in making and carrying out policy, and he shall participate in every important undertaking in Louisiana.

28 Port Policies

We promise continued support for the development of additional commerce for the ports of Lake Charles, Baton Rouge, Morgan City, and New Orleans. We shall also back the development of new additional seaports and river ports that will add to the improvement of our water transportation system.

Speculation Is Stirred On Possible Retirement Of Russia's Molotov

LONDON —UP— The Kremlin's summoning of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) into an extraordinary third session this year stirred speculation here Saturday that the retirement of Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov may be imminent.

An official announcement in Moscow Friday night said the Supreme Soviet would convene there on Dec. 23.

Convening of a third session in one year was regarded as highly unusual —the parliament usually meets only once a year to rubber-stamp approval of the policies of the government and Communist party leaders.

A United Press dispatch from Moscow said foreign observers in the Soviet capital expected significant developments to come out of the meeting.

Informed circles here said that one such development may be the "retirement" of Molotov, whose star in the Communist skies appeared to be waning of late under the growing influence of pudgy party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Molotov, one of the last of the "old Bolsheviks" in the Presidium of the Soviet—the Red cabinet—has appeared less sure of himself in recent months, observers said.

His obvious fumblings at recent big power conferences has caused speculation that Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin may be getting ready to replace him.

Molotov himself was annoyed when Western correspondents asked him at a Moscow reception Oct. 22 if there was any truth in reports he is about to retire.

Morrison-Barham Platform

28 Planks To Build A Prosperous Louisiana

Fellow Citizens of Louisiana:

Outlined below is the program and platform offered to you by Lt. Governor "Cap" Barham and myself This will be our guide post in providing honest, efficient administration of your public affairs.

I ask you to take the few minutes required to read this statement, because this platform—and what you decide to do about it—will have a direct effect on the lives of yourself and your family during the next four years.

This is a positive program of action that is offered to you by tried and tested public servants who have the energy, the desire, the good will, the experience, and the integrity to carry out our pledges.

I earnestly request your active support and vote for "Cap" Barham and myself—and pledge to you that I will tirelessly devote myself to vigorous and effective leadership to achieve the aims that will make Louisiana a better state for all our people and our children.

Morrison Pledges Widespread Road Program In State

CENTERVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special) — A program of widespread highway improvements together with "real assistance to our sugar cane planters" was pledged here today by Chep Morrison in a campaign speech.

He outlined what he said was a "proper all-out effort to handle the snarled - up, bottled - up, traffic of rapidly growing south and southwest Louisiana."

Morrison pledged a new U. S. highway 90 from New Orleans to the Texas line which he said must be a four - lane artery.

"The traffic is already here to fill a four - lane highway and yet you know that most of this highway is nothing more than two narrow, dangerous lanes.

"I do not mean that this work will be done sometime in the future. I intend to get the job underway as soon as I take office. I will not wait until the end of my administration before going to work on the highway system.

"In the past the speed-up in highway work seems to have been an effort by the state administration to launch a belated program and perhaps get a few votes," he said.

"The first day I enter office I pledge to push actively our badly-needed highway work throughout Louisiana. I know how to push and see through such projects without delay. I have spent ten active years in the capacity of a builder. During this time I have not only handled a tremendous program involving the expenditure of over $50 million in public works, but I have handled these large undertakings efficiently and promptly. The best part of our record is that we have accomplished this work quickly and turned completed projects over to the people without delay.

"With the number of vehicles in Louisiana approaching the one million mark it is my firm belief that it is cheaper to build proper, safe, wide highways, farm to market roads, highway arteries and expressways than not to build them.

"We have proven to the people of New Orleans in our wide-spread program of overpasses, underpasses and widenings of streets that we have saved them money in the long run on the cost of operating motor vehicles in oil, gas and time wasted on traffic jams and bottle-necks.

"This is not to mention the depreciation on vehicles which would pay for the improvement that is lacking," he declared.

"This is especially true of farm to market roads where cars are worn out in half the time they should be."

Morrison and C. E. "Cap" Barham, his running mate, spoke here and at Delcambre before going to Erath at mid-afternoon Saturday for a huge barbecue in their honor. Saturday night they appeared on a telecast in Lafayette and then conducted a rally in New Iberia.

Barham said that he did not believe that Earl Long means "all the ugly, hard things he is saying about me. The reason I don't think he means these things is that he also said some hard things about his own brother, Huey P. Long, and now is trying to run on a platform of carrying on the tradition of Huey. You know he called his brother a thief and four years ago he said Bill Dodd was a scoundrel and a racketeer. But now he wants Bill to be his bookkeeper."

Mercury Express Firm Sold With Alabama Papers

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 3 (AP) —The Associated Press erroneously reported that Mercury Freight Lines, Inc., was acquired by S. I. Newhouse when he purchased the Birmingham News and its subsidiaries.

The Mercury Freight Lines, Inc., was not in any way involved in the transaction, which was first announced Thursday. Mercury Express, Inc., a subsidiary of the News, was the carrier involved.

Sen. Long Says Democratic Split No Longer Exists

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP) —Sen. Russell Long (D-La) said today he does not expect the Democratic presidential nomination convention next year to be split by a north-south division as it was in 1952.

"Southerners are not going to send people (to the convention) who have any intention of making trouble, with chips on their shoulders, and our friends from the North are not going to send people to knock chips off," Long said.

Long was interviewed by The Tampa Tribune when he arrived by plane on his way to Sarasota for a speech tonight.

He said effective leadership will "bridge the gap" on differing views of civil rights issues.

Waldorf-Astoria Has Short-Lived Apartment Blaze

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—UP—Fire broke out Saturday on the 43rd floor of the Waldorf-Astoria Tower, home of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former President Herbert Hoover and other notables.

But an automatic sprinkler system put out the flames and none of the world-renowed figures was aware of the fire until told about it later.

Claude Phillippe, Waldorf-Astoria hotel banquet manager and an officer of the company, said hotel employes learned of the mishap when a guest in an elegant 42nd floor apartment complained about 6:15 a. m. that water was dripping through his ceiling.

Members of the Hoover and MacArthur households said they had suffered no damage.

However, buckets were placed on the highly polished floor of one 35-foot living room on the 42nd floor to catch water dripping through holes bored into the ceiling. The green and gold paint and plaster on one wall were moist and loosened.

An investigation disclosed that the fire had broken out in a 43rd floor upholstery shop. The blaze was believed to have started in a short - circuited refrigerator in which the upholsterers kept their lunches. The short - circuit ignited refuse near the refrigerator, sending flames to the ceiling.

The flames melted an automatic sprinkler plug, which released the water that put out the fire almost immediately.

Amnesia Victim Identified By His Fingerprints

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Dec. 3 (AP) —The FBI fingerprint laboratory today identified an amnesia victim who turned himself in to Hattiesburg police two weeks ago as Gerald Coin, 27, of Alabama City, Ala.

The young man said the name meant nothing to him. He had turned himself over to police Nov. 25, telling them his memory went blank several weeks before.

The only other information in the fingerprint report from Washington D. C., gave his birth date and Army serial number.

These also made no impression on the victim.

Police chief Hugh Herring said he telephoned a Sam Coin in Alabama City. The man said he was no relation, but had known Gerald Coin and believed that his mother had since moved to Rome, Ga.

He said he saw Coin in Alabama City last Christmas "and there didn't seem to be anything wrong with him then."

Since his memory lapse, Coin said he has been hitchhiking from town to town working at odd jobs. As the memoryless days grew into weeks, he decided to seek police help and showed up at the Hattiesburg police station.

FRUSTRATED COWBOYS

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two cowboy fans rustled some mounts and headed west but they had horse trouble and had made only a few miles when the police posse caught them on the outskirts of town. The pair stole two horses from a ranch, one a lively black mare and the other a steady old sorrel. The mare bucked off the young wranglers so persistently that when the police caught them they both were riding the sorrel and using the black as a pack horse. In their two packs were eight sticks of dynamite with fuse attachments, 125 rounds of pistol and rifle ammunition, one rusty rifle and two hunting knives. The boys, 14 and 15, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Bombing-Murder Trial Scheduled To Start Monday

WACO, Tex., Dec. 3 (AP) — The third attempt to try Harry L. Washburn, accused of planting the car bomb that killed his former mother-in-law last Jan. 19 is scheduled to start here Monday morning.

"I think we're going to trial," Asst. Dist. Atty. Burney Walker told The Associated Press today. "I talked with defense attorneys yesterday and they said they were ready for trial. And the state is ready."

The trial of the 39-year-old Houston man was transferred here the last of September when attorneys were unable to get an unbiased jury in San Angelo. Initially the trial was postponed because of a missing witness and the illness of San Angelo Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes.

"I don't think we'll have much trouble with prospective jurors being biased one way or the other," Walker said.

Asked if the state would ask the death penalty, Walker said:

"You bet we are. We certainly are going to qualify them (the jurors) on the death penalty."

In questioning jurors at San Angelo prosecutors said there would be no eye witness testimony offered in the slaying of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver at her mother's home in San Angelo. They questioned veniremen closely on their belief in circumstantial evidence.

Washburn, in McLennan County jail here, has contended he was 400 miles away, in Houston, when ten sticks of dynamite exploded as Mrs. Weaver tried to start a family car.

Washburn was arrested last Jan 29 and has been held without bond since them.

Indicted with Washburn in the bomb death was Andrew H. Nelson, 45, a tough jail-breaking exconvict. He was accused if showing Washburn how to make a dynamite bomb.

Nelson posted $10,000 bond on the murder charge but went back to state prison when his parole on a 1934 life imprisonment sentence was revoked. He is expected to testify in Washburn's trial.

a full - fledged Poet Laureate? Sounds to us like some sort of dear old English custom imported here from across the seas.

Please do not think that this is to belittle the title-holder, Emma Wilson Emery. Her portrait painted with the skilled artistry of Altie Slimp—she has received international fame for her paintings—will be formally presented at the state fair grounds in Shreveport today.

Mrs. Slimp has received high national and international praise for her portraits.

The magazine, La Revue Moderne, Des Arts et de la Vie, Paris, France, has described Mrs. Slimp's artistry with "distinction and much reserve," and "a classic composition (that) aspires more to go through the feeling of the soul of the subject than a photographic reproduction. A fine psychology enfranchises her works from academism and gives them their personality."

The magazine's praise of Mrs. Slimp's works was in connection with four of her pictures the publication used in its issue of May, 1950.

Mrs. Estelle Sanders is justly proud of her voice pupils and particularly proud of four who were chosen to sing in the National Chorus at the Music Educators National Conference which will be held in St. Louis, Missouri this coming April.

The four pupils to sing were auditioned by Peter J. Willhousky who has been choral director for Toscaninni. The pupils were auditioned by Mr. Willhousky at the Teachers Convention in Alexandria when the pupils sang in the All State Chorus.

The singers are: Camille Smith from West Monroe High School; Sharon Thomisee from Ouachita Parish High School and Luther Burney also from the Parish School and Marilyn Crowley from Neville High School.

We congratulate these four young people and wish them well at the convention in St. Louis.

The handsome and unique, as well as lavishly charming home of the late Captain and Mrs. Bert Cooley, 1000 South Grand Street, now on the market requires this column to explain that a mistatement was made. Accepting the statement published by a realtor that the house was the workmanship of an internationally famed designer of superior home. Frank Lloyd Wright, we repeated the information. Now we are told that it was in error. The architect was Walter Burley Griffin, at one time associate of Mr. Wright. Plans were drawn years before the house was started under construction. At that time Mr. Griffin was busily engaged in Canberra, Australia where he designed the capitol.

Morrison Pledges Widespread Road Program In State

CENTERVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special) — A program of widespread highway improvements together with "real assistance to our sugar cane planters" was pledged here today by Chep Morrison in a campaign speech.

He outlined what he said was a "proper all-out effort to handle the snarled - up, bottled - up, traffic of rapidly growing south and southwest Louisiana."

Morrison pledged a new U. S. highway 90 from New Orleans to the Texas line which he said must be a four - lane artery.

"The traffic is already here to fill a four - lane highway and yet you know that most of this highway is nothing more than two narrow, dangerous lanes.

"I do not mean that this work will be done sometime in the future. I intend to get the job underway as soon as I take office. I will not wait until the end of my administration before going to work on the highway system.

"In the past the speed-up in highway work seems to have been an effort by the state administration to launch a belated program and perhaps get a few votes," he said.

"The first day I enter office I pledge to push actively our badly-needed highway work throughout Louisiana. I know how to push and see through such projects without delay. I have spent ten active years in the capacity of a builder. During this time I have not only handled a tremendous program involving the expenditure of over $50 million in public works, but I have handled these large undertakings efficiently and promptly. The best part of our record is that we have accomplished this work quickly and turned completed projects over to the people without delay.

"With the number of vehicles in Louisiana approaching the one million mark it is my firm belief that it is cheaper to build proper, safe, wide highways, farm to market roads, highway arteries and expressways than not to build them.

"We have proven to the people of New Orleans in our wide-spread program of overpasses, underpasses and widenings of streets that we have saved them money in the long run on the cost of operating motor vehicles in oil, gas and time wasted on traffic jams and bottle-necks.

"This is not to mention the depreciation on vehicles which would pay for the improvement that is lacking," he declared.

"This is especially true of farm to market roads where cars are worn out in half the time they should be."

Morrison and C. E. "Cap" Barham, his running mate, spoke here and at Delcambre before going to Erath at mid-afternoon Saturday for a huge barbecue in their honor. Saturday night they appeared on a telecast in Lafayette and then conducted a rally in New Iberia.

Barham said that he did not believe that Earl Long means "all the ugly, hard things he is saying about me. The reason I don't think he means these things is that he also said some hard things about his own brother, Huey P. Long, and now is trying to run on a platform of carrying on the tradition of Huey. Bitter French Campaign Expected To Mar Holidays

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS, Dec. 3 (AP)—France's election campaign began today with evidence that the yuletide would be marred by one of the bitterest contests since the war.

Pierre Mendes-France, outmaneuvered in the recent Assembly voting, has angrily accused Premier Edgar Faure of betraying national interests to force the country into an election six months ahead of schedule.

Faure replied that the procedure was constitutional, and that an appeal to the voters was necessary in order to replace the divided and deadlocked Assembly. He said the old Assembly was unable to handle the North African crisis, internal financial problems, and the growing social and labor unrest in the country.

These two men, with their allies, seemed certain to divide between them the bulk of the non-Communist members of the Assembly to be elected Jan. 2.

The Communists in turn seemed certain to hold some 100 seats in the 623-man Assembly. With luck they might gain an extra 30 seats.

It will be the first election since the war where personalities have become so important that they tend to range the voters into relatively compact groups.

France normally has about 15 separate political parties, and will have at least that many in the forthcoming elections.

The political quarrel between two former political buddies, Mendes-France and Premier Faure was the big factor.

Mendes-France set out months ago to try to force a grouping of "left of center" parties. By two swift maneuvers he gained control of the Radical Socialist party of which both he and Faure were members. In a national convention a month ago he persuaded it to adopt a platform calling for a number of political and financial reforms. More pointedly, the party under his guidance pledged itself to support no other party which did not accept one part of the program of the Radical Socialists.

This calls for opposition to the present law under which Roman Catholic schools get a portion of the public school money.

This is an old fight in France dating back to the revolution when the populace turned on the church with almost as much venom as it turned on the aristocracy. Mendes-France's aim was to attract the Socialists, also anticlerical.

The maneuver automatically brought him into conflict with Faure whose stay in office since last February, when he succeeded Mendes-France, has been largely due to the Moderate Catholic party, MRP. It was MRP which, after the 1951 election, won the fight to get government money for Catholic schools.

Three-Day Civil Defense Training Scheduled At NE

A three-day civil defense training course for dentists and nurses will be held at Northeast State in cooperation with the Mobile Staff College of the Federal Defense Administration and the Louisiana Civil Defense Agency.

President Lewis C. Slater was authorized by the State Board of Education to sign a contract with the FCDA to provide this special training at the college. It is the first civil defense course to be scheduled for dentists and nurses.

The project extends from March 12 through March 14, 1956. The government plans to conduct the first three courses, after which the college will assume the responsibility of the program.

Instruction for the initial course will be given by faculty members of the FCDA Mobile Staff College, supplemented by state professional personnel from the two fields.

The first school is designed to serve as a guide for additional civil defense schools to be conducted in the state—once annually for three years.

Provision for the school is based on the need of full utilization of all allied medical personnel in the treatment of victims of major national disasters, whether man-made or wartime, according to Francis A. Woolfley, director, Louisiana Civil Defense Agency.

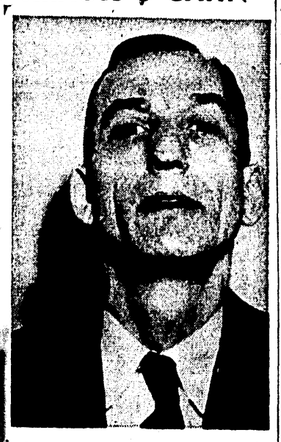

The study program will comprise two divisions of instruction. The first part will be devoted to general information relative to principles of civil defense, organization of medical services, mass casualty weapons, psychological relations to disasters, maternity and child care in a civil defense emergency, and the improvised hospital.

The second half will provide instruction for dentists and nurses concerning their specific responsibilities in a disaster.

E. H. BEENE JOINS SALES STAFF OF KRAUSS & CAHN

Shown above is E. H. Beene, who joins the sales staff of Krauss and Cahn tomorrow, according to an announcement by Stewart Doernberg, general manager. State University Seeks 1.5 Million Yearly For Bonds

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Louisiana State University decided today to seek an annual dedication of 1½ million dollars in the 1956 Legislature to support a 26 million dollar bond issue for construction needs.

President Troy H. Middleton made the proposal and won prompt support of the board of supervisors.

The board authorized its finance, buildings and grounds committee to work with Middleton in drafting the request.

"This is a much sounder approach than going to the Legislature each time, asking six or seven million dollars in a lump sum," he explained.

The board, after a drawn-out executive session primarily on personnel matters, okayed a new four-year contract for football coach Paul Dietzel.

The new pact gives him $14,000, including a $1,000 raise. The new deal replaces Dietzel's three-year contract.

Dietzel, youthful former Army assistant, was imported last year after the board reshuffled LSU's athletic program, tossing out coach Gaynell Tinsley and athletic director T. P. Heard.

Efferson, widely known agriculturist and research economist, who traveled around the world in 1948-49 as an international commodity specialist of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, takes his new post July 1.

He will succees Dean J. G. Lee, 70, who is retiring June 30 after 25 years as head of the college.

Efferson is director of the LSU agricultural experiment station.

Bringing up LSU's expansion in general terms, Middleton told the board "unless someone tells us not to take in more than 9,000 students," LSU will have to have the new building funds.

Within 15 years, he predicted, the Tiger campus will be jammed with more than 20,000 students.

Middleton explained the Legislature would be asked for the 1½ million for a period of 25 years. He did not suggest which state revenues should be earmarked for the LSU bond issue.

Most candidates for governor, in the current campaign, have been mentioning the state's huge tidelands income as a source of healthy state revenues for new purposes.

Middleton said the 1½ million annual income would enable LSU to finance a bond issue of "slightly more" than 26 million, which he termed the minimum construction need. Bonds would be issued only as required.

The president reminded the proposal has nothing to do with LSU's program of revenue bond issues, issued now and then to build dormitories.

LSU received about 6½ million in the 1954 Legislature for construction and one million in the 1955 session.

In other action, the board was informed the 2,500 LSU employes under the university retirement system will ballot March 16 on whether they want to come under social security.

At Middleton's urging, the board rejected a request by a Baton Rouge group that LSU rent its Westdale golf course clubhouse and swimming pool for a youth center.

In 1910, Eugene Ely made the first aircraft take-off from the 57 foot runway of the cruiser USS Birmingham.

Cotton Futures Complete Week With Upswing

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Cotton futures prices followed a somewhat irregular course this week but finished on the upside. At the close of the week, active futures contracts traded on the New York Cotton Exchange were from 5 cents to $2.15 a bale higher than at the end of the week before.

Smallest gains were scored by the nearer months. Several factors combined to push the market higher. They included the continued heavy movement of cotton into the government loan, growing prospects of a tight supply situation at the end of the current crop year, and increasing talk of a soil bank program.

Also exerting an upward push on the market were signs that strong efforts would be made in congress soon to return to a rigid 90 per cent of parity price support program.

Gains were pared by hedge selling, profit-taking and an unexpected decline in the theoretical parity price as calculated under the government's new formula.

The effective parity price at mid-November was unchanged from the previous month at 34.97 cents a pound, it was noted. However, parity as calculated under the new formula showed a crop of 12 points, at 33.84 vs. 33.96 in October.

The New York Cotton Exchange service bureau stressed that parity under the new formula is of prime importance because after Jan. 1 it will become the effective price. There is strong interest among traders in its prospective level as of Jan. 15, because it will be against that price that the guaranteed minimum loan rate for the 1956 crop will be figured.

Taken in stride by traders this week were two private estimates setting the prospective size of the current crop at 15,200,000 and 15,400,000 bales, respectively. This compares with the government's official November forecast of 14,843,000 bales. The government's December forecast will be announced on Thursday.

Of somewhat greater influence marketwise was the latest official report on loan entries, indicating that 484,000 bales were pledged to the government in the week ended Nov. 25. While the total was below the 557,000 reported for the week before, the apparent decline was caused by the Thanksgiving holiday, it was pointed out. On a daily basis, loan entries for Thanksgiving week averaged 121,000 bales a day, against 93,000 bales daily the previous week.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday totaled only 36,000 bales vs. 42,000 a week ago and 91,000 a year ago. For the season through Tuesday, total exports were estimated by the exchange at 526,000 bales. That compares with 1,129,000 bales at the same time last year.

Russian Atom Stockpile Expected To Equal West Within Next Four Years

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Russia's atomic stockpile now may be slightly less than half that of the United States', but her production rate is expanding swiftly. So swiftly that, if the Soviets are inclined to gamble on war they could conceivably do so within the next three or four years.

This estimate is based on widely diversified pieces of information reaching Washington, including the factor of the recent hydrogen test explosion in the Soviet Union.

The U. S. S. R., which had no nuclear explosive until 1949, could attain parity in atomic tonnage by 1959. (Nuclear tonnage is measured by the force of an explosion, rated in thousands or millions of tons of TNT.)

But Russia may not necessarily wait for parity.

If and when Soviet strategists come to believe that they have enough bombers available to get through air defenses in the Western Hemisphere and Europe and strike one massive, conclusive blow, there is always the possibility they may try it. If the United States retaliatory force, at home and abroad, were paralyzed by the initial attack, the Western world's superior stockpile of atomic bombs would not matter.

There is another factor that nuclear strategists use in their computations: an estimate of the ability to absorb an atomic strike and still retain enough force to hit back.

American military leaders believe the United States has this capacity. Even with a 60 per cent loss of aircraft, the Strategic Air Command believes it would retain retaliatory force.

None of them say the present defense system of radar warning nets, interceptor aircraft, antiaircraft guided missiles and guns could stop an enemy striking force 100 per cent. But they argue that bases are so scattered, in the Western Hemsphere and overseas, that not all of them could be "taken out" in the initial blow.

Moreover, the Air Force follows a policy of moving units of its strategic air force from one base to another constantly, to make more difficult the target evaluations of enemy intelligence.

Into the estimates also goes the factor of "reaction time." This is the time needed to get the Strategic Air Command's bombers into the air and on the way toward enemy targets. Reaction time involves many things—getting crews from homes or ready rooms into their planes, fueling, loading with nuclear weapons.

Each year this reaction time has been reduced by SAC, from days to hours, and the goal now is minutes.

Air Force Officer Seriously Hurt In Fall From Ladder

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3—UP—A 34-year-old Air Force captain who logged thousands of hours in World War II without a mishap was seriously injured when he fell 22 feet from a hotel fire escape to a fog-wet street below early Saturday.

"I never had a crash," muttered Capt. James Casey, a big blond rugged flyer from Long Island, N.Y., as he lay on the sidewalk.

Casey, who suffered a broken right arm and possible internal injuries, was removed by police ambulance to Charity hospital for treatment.

His body struck a six-foot long neon sign of a loan company, tearing the sign loose from its supports and leaving steel guy wires and pipe supports dangling down the side of the downtown structure.

Casey said he did not know how he fell from the third-floor room, but admitted he had "had a few drinks."

The flyer, along with two crew members, was on a cross-country flight in a C-46. The craft was fogged in at Moisant Field Saturday morning, forcing them to delay departure a day.

Bitter French Campaign Expected To Mar Holidays

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS, Dec. 3 (AP)—France's election campaign began today with evidence that the yuletide would be marred by one of the bitterest contests since the war.

Pierre Mendes-France, outmaneuvered in the recent Assembly voting, has angrily accused Premier Edgar Faure of betraying national interests to force the country into an election six months ahead of schedule.

Faure replied that the procedure was constitutional, and that an appeal to the voters was necessary in order to replace the divided and deadlocked Assembly. He said the old Assembly was unable to handle the North African crisis, internal financial problems, and the growing social and labor unrest in the country.

These two men, with their allies, seemed certain to divide between them the bulk of the non-Communist members of the Assembly to be elected Jan. 2.

The Communists in turn seemed certain to hold some 100 seats in the 623-man Assembly. With luck they might gain an extra 30 seats.

It will be the first election since the war where personalities have become so important that they tend to range the voters into relatively compact groups.

France normally has about 15 separate political parties, and will have at least that many in the forthcoming elections.

The political quarrel between two former political buddies, Mendes-France and Premier Faure was the big factor.

Mendes-France set out months ago to try to force a grouping of "left of center" parties. By two swift maneuvers he gained control of the Radical Socialist party of which both he and Faure were members. In a national convention a month ago he persuaded it to adopt a platform calling for a number of political and financial reforms. More pointedly, the party under his guidance pledged itself to support no other party which did not accept one part of the program of the Radical Socialists.

This calls for opposition to the present law under which Roman Catholic schools get a portion of the public school money.

This is an old fight in France dating back to the revolution when the populace turned on the church with almost as much venom as it turned on the aristocracy. Mendes-France's aim was to attract the Socialists, also anticlerical.

The maneuver automatically brought him into conflict with Faure whose stay in office since last February, when he succeeded Mendes-France, has been largely due to the Moderate Catholic party, MRP. It was MRP which, after the 1951 election, won the fight to get government money for Catholic schools.

Three-Day Civil Defense Training Scheduled At NE

A three-day civil defense training course for dentists and nurses will be held at Northeast State in cooperation with the Mobile Staff College of the Federal Defense Administration and the Louisiana Civil Defense Agency.

President Lewis C. Slater was authorized by the State Board of Education to sign a contract with the FCDA to provide this special training at the college. It is the first civil defense course to be scheduled for dentists and nurses.

The project extends from March 12 through March 14, 1956. The government plans to conduct the first three courses, after which the college will assume the responsibility of the program.

Instruction for the initial course will be given by faculty members of the FCDA Mobile Staff College, supplemented by state professional personnel from the two fields.

The first school is designed to serve as a guide for additional civil defense schools to be conducted in the state—once annually for three years.

Provision for the school is based on the need of full utilization of all allied medical personnel in the treatment of victims of major national disasters, whether man-made or wartime, according to Francis A. Woolfley, director, Louisiana Civil Defense Agency.

The study program will comprise two divisions of instruction. The first part will be devoted to general information relative to principles of civil defense, organization of medical services, mass casualty weapons, psychological relations to disasters, maternity and child care in a civil defense emergency, and the improvised hospital.

The second half will provide instruction for dentists and nurses concerning their specific responsibilities in a disaster.

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The controversy over a House-passed law to exempt natural gas producers from federal controls promises to swell into a new crescendo early in next year's session of congress.

Much talk is being heard, touched off by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson's saying the gas bill is one of the measures he plans to push in the Senate.

Rep. Heselton (R-Mass.) said he doubted the bill would survive. He said if the Senate passes the measure in any form, it will be with amendments. The bill then would be a "dead duck," in Heselton's opinion.

The bill, by Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), squeaked through the house 209-203.

The Senate Commerce Committee approved a similar law by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) and it is ready for Senate action.

Heselton, who opposes the law as "one of the rarest giveaways that has come down the pike in the last 10 years," said supporters undoubtedly would try to get it through the Senate without change to avert the need of its return to the house. He expressed doubt they could do that.

Rayburn Foster, vice president and general counsel of Phillips Petroleum Co., said federal regulation of natural gas producers is not in the consumer's interest.

A group of gas distributing company executives has formed a council of local gas companies to fight the legislation. John Heyke, president of Brooklyn Union Gas Co., chairman of the council, said:

"By coordinating the efforts of local gas companies, the council intends to inform the public that passage of the Harris-Fulbright bill, which would relieve natural gas producers from effective government regulation, is contrary to public interest."

He contended the bill would deliver to oil and gas interests "huge windfall profits at the expense of consumers and their local suppliers."

In a letter to members of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America late this week, Russell Brown, general counsel, said "Every individual in the industry must assume the responsibility that this situation places upon him if we are to be successful."

The Bureau of Mines reported that natural gas was used in 43 states in 1954.

New Dean At LSU Agriculture Dept. Named By Board

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Louisiana State board of supervisors today announced a new dean of the college of agriculture. He is Dr. J. Norman Efferson, 43, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The 43-year-old agriculturist succeeds Dean J. G. Lee Jr., 70, who will retire June 30, 1956, after 25 years as head of the college of agriculture.

Efferson's appointment is effective July 1 next year. The position pays $13,500 a year.

He was appointed to the experiment station directorship in 1954 and holds the rank of professor of agricultural economics and research economist.

The newly appointed dean served as international commodity specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1948-49 and visited 64 countries in Asia, Africa, Europe and Central and South America to conduct food surveys.

He is the author of five books, more than 40 research circulars 53 experiment station bulletins and numerous journal and magazine articles.

In 1953, Efferson was selected honoree of the International Rice Festival, at Crowley.

He is listed in the directory of American Scholars as an economist, educator and author.

His most recent textbook, "principles of Farm Management," published in 1953, has been reviewed as a major contribution to the field of agricultural economics.

Another book, "Farm Records and Accounts" is now used at more than 40 colleges and universities as the basic text in the field.

And "Production and Marketing of Rice" is being used in this country and abroad as a basic text on rice.

Dr. Efferson in 1953 served as a research consultant to the Rockefeller Foundation in Venezuela while developing an overall research program for the foundation's activities in that country. He is a consultant to the foundation and the American International Assn. for Economic Development on agricultural research programs and planning.

LSU's retiring Dean Lee has headed the college since 1931. He became head of the department of vocational agriculture at the university in 1919. In 1943, Lee was named "Man of the Year" in Louisiana Agriculture by "Progressive Farmer."

He has been chairman of the state soil conservation committee since its founding. Lee was chairman of the LSU athletic council from 1943 until six months ago when the council was reorganized to conform with Southeastern Conference regulations.

Dean Lee organized and was placed in charge of the Agricultural Department at Southwestern Louisiana Institute in 1909.

Dr. Efferson, reared on a farm in East Baton Rouge Parish, joined the LSU faculty in 1938. He received his M.S. and Ph. D. degrees from Cornell University.

In a informal talk after the hunt, Harriman praised President Eisenhower as a military leader but said he "wasn't made for the President of the United States." He charged that Eisenhower has "surrendered the country to big business and special interests." Harriman is being talked about as a probable candidate for the Democratic presidental nomination. Federal Reserve Action To Boost Available Credit

By WALTER BREEDE Jr.

For some time now, the roaring boom of 1955 has been held in check by federal curbs on credit. As a result of government manipulations it hasn't always been easy to get a loan at the bank. There just hasn't been enough "loan money" to go around for all the people who wanted to build homes and buy cars, and for the retailers who wanted to stock up on merchandise for the holiday shopping season.

This week, as the Christmas rush swung into high gear, the government's top money manager—the Federal Reserve Board—did a sudden about face. Instead of sopping up credit, the "Fed" started pumping a little extra money into circulation. It did this by instructing the Federal Reserve banks to step up their purchases of U.S. Treasury bonds. Whenever the Federal Reserve banks buy government bonds, they make an increasng flow of cash available to commercial banks for lending.

One likely result of the government move: A guarantee that banks, department stores and auto finance companies won't be short of the funds they'll need to handle an expected record volume of Christmas business.

For retailers, Christmas 1955 was rapidly shaping up as the biggest ever. Merchants polled by the National Retail Dry Goods Assn. were unanimous in forecasting a banner season: 81 per cent predicted "substantial" gains over last year, and not a single one looked for a decline.

Sales Management magazine said December retail trade should hit an all-time high of 18½ billion dollars, pushing the 1955 total to a record 186 billions vs. 170 billions for last year. Biggest problem facing merchants was a shortage of holiday help. Some Chicago stores said 35 per cent of the "extras" they had hired never showed up for work. The reason: Plenty of good jobs available elsewhere.

The booming auto industry put on a extra burst of speed this week. With Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth working overtime, production was scheduled at 182,000 cars—just under the all - time weekly high achieved last April.

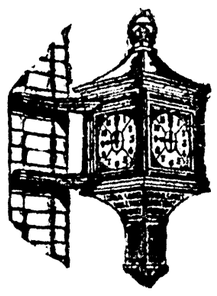

Chevrolet and Ford were running almost neck-and-neck for the top spot in the 1955 production derby but latest figures gave Chevvy a slight edge: A total of 1,672,100 cars through November vs. 1,611,216 for Ford Motor Co.'s Ford Division. Buick placed third with 711,771, followed by Plymouth with 674,870.

The industry's fierce production pace drew bitter criticisms this week from dealers appearing as witnesses at the Senate "study" of General Motors. Nub of the dealer complaints: Retailers are being forced to accept more cars than they can profitably sell. A Pontiac dealer from Albany, N.Y., said retailers — once independent businessmen — are now becoming "mere pawns and vassals" of the automakers.

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The controversy over a House-passed law to exempt natural gas producers from federal controls promises to swell into a new crescendo early in next year's session of congress.

Much talk is being heard, touched off by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson's saying the gas bill is one of the measures he plans to push in the Senate.

Rep. Heselton (R-Mass.) said he doubted the bill would survive. He said if the Senate passes the measure in any form, it will be with amendments. The bill then would be a "dead duck," in Heselton's opinion.

The bill, by Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), squeaked through the house 209-203.

The Senate Commerce Committee approved a similar law by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) and it is ready for Senate action.

Heselton, who opposes the law as "one of the rarest giveaways that has come down the pike in the last 10 years," said supporters undoubtedly would try to get it through the Senate without change to avert the need of its return to the house. He expressed doubt they could do that.

Rayburn Foster, vice president and general counsel of Phillips Petroleum Co., said federal regulation of natural gas producers is not in the consumer's interest.

A group of gas distributing company executives has formed a council of local gas companies to fight the legislation. John Heyke, president of Brooklyn Union Gas Co., chairman of the council, said:

"By coordinating the efforts of local gas companies, the council intends to inform the public that passage of the Harris-Fulbright bill, which would relieve natural gas producers from effective government regulation, is contrary to public interest."

He contended the bill would deliver to oil and gas interests "huge windfall profits at the expense of consumers and their local suppliers."

In a letter to members of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America late this week, Russell Brown, general counsel, said "Every individual in the industry must assume the responsibility that this situation places upon him if we are to be successful."

The Bureau of Mines reported that natural gas was used in 43 states in 1954.

New Dean At LSU Agriculture Dept. Named By Board

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Louisiana State board of supervisors today announced a new dean of the college of agriculture. He is Dr. J. Norman Efferson, 43, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The 43-year-old agriculturist succeeds Dean J. G. Lee Jr., 70, who will retire June 30, 1956, after 25 years as head of the college of agriculture.

Efferson's appointment is effective July 1 next year. The position pays $13,500 a year.

He was appointed to the experiment station directorship in 1954 and holds the rank of professor of agricultural economics and research economist.

The newly appointed dean served as international commodity specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1948-49 and visited 64 countries in Asia, Africa, Europe and Central and South America to conduct food surveys.

He is the author of five books, more than 40 research circulars 53 experiment station bulletins and numerous journal and magazine articles.

In 1953, Efferson was selected honoree of the International Rice Festival, at Crowley.

He is listed in the directory of American Scholars as an economist, educator and author.

His most recent textbook, "principles of Farm Management," published in 1953, has been reviewed as a major contribution to the field of agricultural economics.

Another book, "Farm Records and Accounts" is now used at more than 40 colleges and universities as the basic text in the field.

And "Production and Marketing of Rice" is being used in this country and abroad as a basic text on rice.

Dr. Efferson in 1953 served as a research consultant to the Rockefeller Foundation in Venezuela while developing an overall research program for the foundation's activities in that country. He is a consultant to the foundation and the American International Assn. for Economic Development on agricultural research programs and planning.

LSU's retiring Dean Lee has headed the college since 1931. He became head of the department of vocational agriculture at the university in 1919. In 1943, Lee was named "Man of the Year" in Louisiana Agriculture by "Progressive Farmer."

He has been chairman of the state soil conservation committee since its founding. Lee was chairman of the LSU athletic council from 1943 until six months ago when the council was reorganized to conform with Southeastern Conference regulations.

Dean Lee organized and was placed in charge of the Agricultural Department at Southwestern Louisiana Institute in 1909.

Dr. Efferson, reared on a farm in East Baton Rouge Parish, joined the LSU faculty in 1938. He received his M.S. and Ph. D. degrees from Cornell University.

HARRIMAN BAGS ALABAMA TURKEY—New York's Gov. Averell Harriman proudly holds a 22-pound wild turkey he shot on the hunting preserve of Rep. Frank Boykin (D-Ala.) at McIntosh, Ala. In a informal talk after the hunt, Harriman praised President Eisenhower as a military leader but said he "wasn't made for the President of the United States." He charged that Eisenhower has "surrendered the country to big business and special interests." Harriman is being talked about as a probable candidate for the Democratic presidental nomination. Federal Reserve Action To Boost Available Credit

By WALTER BREEDE Jr.

For some time now, the roaring boom of 1955 has been held in check by federal curbs on credit. As a result of government manipulations it hasn't always been easy to get a loan at the bank. There just hasn't been enough "loan money" to go around for all the people who wanted to build homes and buy cars, and for the retailers who wanted to stock up on merchandise for the holiday shopping season.

This week, as the Christmas rush swung into high gear, the government's top money manager—the Federal Reserve Board—did a sudden about face. Instead of sopping up credit, the "Fed" started pumping a little extra money into circulation. It did this by instructing the Federal Reserve banks to step up their purchases of U.S. Treasury bonds. Whenever the Federal Reserve banks buy government bonds, they make an increasng flow of cash available to commercial banks for lending.

One likely result of the government move: A guarantee that banks, department stores and auto finance companies won't be short of the funds they'll need to handle an expected record volume of Christmas business.

For retailers, Christmas 1955 was rapidly shaping up as the biggest ever. Merchants polled by the National Retail Dry Goods Assn. were unanimous in forecasting a banner season: 81 per cent predicted "substantial" gains over last year, and not a single one looked for a decline.

Sales Management magazine said December retail trade should hit an all-time high of 18½ billion dollars, pushing the 1955 total to a record 186 billions vs. 170 billions for last year. Biggest problem facing merchants was a shortage of holiday help. Some Chicago stores said 35 per cent of the "extras" they had hired never showed up for work. The reason: Plenty of good jobs available elsewhere.

The booming auto industry put on a extra burst of speed this week. With Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth working overtime, production was scheduled at 182,000 cars—just under the all - time weekly high achieved last April.

Chevrolet and Ford were running almost neck-and-neck for the top spot in the 1955 production derby but latest figures gave Chevvy a slight edge: A total of 1,672,190 cars through November vs. 1,611,216 for Ford Motor Co.'s Ford Division. Buick placed third with 711,771, followed by Plymouth with 674,870.

The industry's fierce production pace drew bitter criticisms this week from dealers appearing as witnesses at the Senate "study" of General Motors. Nub of the dealer complaints: Retailers are being forced to accept more cars than they can profitably sell. A Pontiac dealer from Albany, N.Y., said retailers — once independent businessmen — are now becoming "mere pawns and vassals" of the automakers.

Youth Declared Sane Enough For Murder Trial

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP) —A youth whose parents are deaf-mutes today was declared sane and able to stand trial on charges of raping and murdering an 8-year-old girl.

A criminal court jury held that Clarence Baugh, 17, a Negro, understood the nature of the charges and could co-operate with his lawyers.

Baugh was described by doctors for the defense as a mental defective.

State psychiatrists said the youth has only borderline intelligence but is legally sane.

After the jury returned it verdict, Baugh immediately pleaded innocent to a charge of murdering little Mary Manzo July 4.

Police said Baugh told of abducting and raping the girl.

The girl' parent, however, took action recently to help Baugh. The father, Dominick Manzo, 45-year-old steelworker, was reported Nov. 25 to have visited Baugh's parents with the purpose of helping the boy.

Manzo said he could not believe Clarence alone was responsible for the slaying and that he wanted the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baugh, to give him any bit of information which would help clear their son.

Baugh said his son had told him that he did not kill the girl, nor did he know who did.

UN Disarmament Debate

West Asks Early Action On Ike's Open-Sky Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 3—UP—The West Friday called for quick UN action on President Eisenhower's "open sky" arms inspection plan as a step toward an international "comprehensive disarmament plan."

Britain's Minister of State for Foreign Affiars Anthony Nutting, introducing a resolution with the western proposal to the main UN political committee, blasted the Soviite moves on disarmament as nothing but "talk and paper pledges."

The resolution, sponsored by the U.S., Britain, France and Canada, also called for "early implementation" of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's plan for "establishing control posts at strategic centers" in eastern and western states as a move to control arms.

Nutting in his speech in the main political committee disarmament debate charged that Russia announced Thursday it had moved out of all the foreign military bases it had held, but "in East Germany alone there are 22 Soviet line divisions."

"Do these divisions exist in mid-air?" Nutting demanded. "Surely they have bases for their maintenance. There are also Soviet divisions in Hungary, in Poland and in Romania. They too must have bases."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov announced Thursday that the Soviet union now had given up all its foreign military bases and withdrawn its forces from the last two — one in China and the other in Finland.

Kuznetsov spoke after Nutting Friday but avoided facing the British accusation and pointed out merely that all the occupying powers had troops in Germany and that the Soviets had repeatedly proposed they all be withdrawn.

French disarmament commission representative Jules Moch pressed Nutting's point on the Soviet foreign bases and tried to wring an answer from Kuznetsov.

Famous Pianist 'Out Of Danger'

STUTTGART, Germany Dec. 3 (AP)—German pianist Walter Gieseking was reported out of danger today after suffering severe head injuries in a bus crash that killed his wife and a U.S. soldier.

Doctors withheld the news of his wife's death for fear the shock would cause the world famous 60-year-old musician a setback.

Eleven Americans—seven soldiers and four civilians—were injured. Five others including the driver, escaped unhurt. The Army said names of the soldiers would not be released until next of kin are notified. The civilians were identified as Irving M. Shore, 31, his wife, Lilian, 28, of Brooklyn, and Leroy A. Kellogg, 40, and his wife, Phylis, of Fairfield, Conn.

The crash occurred last night when the bus, carrying 18 passengers and the driver, skidded on ice at 70 miles an hour and smashed into a bridge abutment. The passengers were en route form Frankfurt Airport, which was fogbound, to Stuttgart to catch a plane for Rome.

Gieseking was scheduled to play in a concert there tomorrow with the St. Cecilia orchestra. He and his wife celebrated her 66th birthday anniversary Thursday. The Gieseking home is in Wiesbaden.

Massachusetts Decides Against Use Of Vaccine

BOSTON, Dec. 3 (AP) —Massachusetts has decided not to approve further use of Salk vaccine for polio until authorities are convinced of its safety.

In a report released today by the New England Journal of Medicine, the Massachusetts Polio Advisory Committee, which includes professors in Harvard Medical School, leaves the Bay State and Idaho the only two states to withhold approval.

Among committee members are some of the foremost authorities on infectious diseases and polio, such as:

Dr. John F. Enders and Dr. Thomas H. Weller, who won the Nobel prize for their discoveries of means to grow polio virus in test tubes; Dr. Conrad Wesselhoeft, president of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood, head of the State Health Department.

Polio cases in Massachusetts set a record this year. To date, 3,844 cases have been reported. The previous high incidence was 1,927 cases in 1916.

The Public Health Service in Washington, when asked about the Massachusetts decision, issued this brief statement:

"Well over 10 million children have received the vaccine since last May without a single case in which the vaccine is suspected of having caused polio.

"The Public Health Service reiterates its conviction that the vaccine is safe and effective."

In its editorial comment the Journal of Medicine lists these points as the basis for the decision:

"1. The possible presence of living virus in vaccine since the inactivation procedure was found to be undependable.

"2. The apparent undependability of safety tests.

"3. The presence of the toxic Mahoney strain as the representative of type I virus.

"4. The continuing difficulties of production.

"5. The potential hazard, however slight to the vaccinated person.

"6. The potential hazard to the unvaccinated susceptible members of an otherwise vaccinated community from carriers of a live virus introduced in the vaccine employed."

Lake Providence Hosts Christmas Lighting Contest

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Dec. 3 (Special) — Cash prizes are being offered in three divisions, that of doorways, inside decorations, and overall outside and religious, of Lake Providence's annual Christmas lighting contest.

Prizes of $7.50, $5 and $3 will be awarded to the first three winners in each division.

Churches have been invited to participate in the contest, along with business houses and banks, who will receive honorable mentions for winning awards.

The Lake Providence Junior Chamber of Commerce has named Joseph Titone as co-chairman of the project and the East Carroll Garden Club has selected Mrs. C. R. Brown as co-chairman. The two organzations are jointly sponsoring the contest.

E. Carroll Cotton Acreage Allotment Announced For '56

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Dec. 3 (Special) — A total of 25,547 acres has been allotted in East Carroll parish for the 1956 cotton crop, it has been announced.

Allotment notices were mailed out during the past week.

The total acreage set aside includes any that might be provided for new grower applications. Parish and community committees have allocated the acreage for the new year as follows:

A parish factor of 68.34 per cent was applied to each farm base to determine the factored allotment. The reserve was then distributed by the committee to those farmers needing reserve to provide an equitable allotment.

A 10 per cent reserve was retained by the committee. Out of this acreage will be a new grower reserve, along with a minimum acreage for lates, hardships, splits and combinations.

Lake Providence Hosts Christmas Lighting Contest

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Dec. 3 (Special) — Cash prizes are being offered in three divisions, that of doorways, inside decorations, and overall outside and religious, of Lake Providence's annual Christmas lighting contest.

Prizes of $7.50, $5 and $3 will be awarded to the first three winners in each division.

Churches have been invited to participate in the contest, along with business houses and banks, who will receive honorable mentions for winning awards.

The Lake Providence Junior Chamber of Commerce has named Joseph Titone as co-chairman of the project and the East Carroll Garden Club has selected Mrs. C. R. Brown as co-chairman. The two organzations are jointly sponsoring the contest.

E. Carroll Cotton Acreage Allotment Announced For '56

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Dec. 3 (Special) — A total of 25,547 acres has been allotted in East Carroll parish for the 1956 cotton crop, it has been announced.

Allotment notices were mailed out during the past week.

The total acreage set aside includes any that might be provided for new grower applications. Parish and community committees have allocated the acreage for the new year as follows:

A parish factor of 68.34 per cent was applied to each farm base to determine the factored allotment. The reserve was then distributed by the committee to those farmers needing reserve to provide an equitable allotment.

A 10 per cent reserve was retained by the committee. Out of this acreage will be a new grower reserve, along with a minimum acreage for lates, hardships, splits and combinations.

During 1955, the total parish allotment, including initial allotment, new grower acreage, and a small acreage of frozen acres and released acreage, was 26,249.2 acres.

Republicans May Force Court Test On GOP Primary

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP)— Republicans in East Baton Rouge Parish today are considering whether a court test is necessary to help establish a Jan. 17 party primary here the way they want it.

Louisiana, a Democratic state, has never had a statewide GOP primary.

But Republican leaders throughout the state, despite the sparse number of registered Republicans, plan to have a party primary in as many parishes as possible Jan. 17, date of the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

The GOP will offer two candidates for the GOP nomination as lieutenant governor, Nealon Stracener, Baton Rouge, and Harry Hill, New Orleans, and candidates for the GOP state central committee.

The possibility of a lawsuit in this parish developed after attorneys considered the technicalities involved.

Stracener, an attorney, parish atty. Gordon Kean and asst. Atty. Gen. J. Clyde Pearne examined the question.

The GOP wants the East Baton Rouge Parish Council to create three separate Republican voting precincts in each of the parish's three wards.

Kean said such a procedure would be illegal and added the attorney general's office agreed.

Parish vote registrar Jodie Smith said he would have no part with a double set of precincts unless directed by a court order.

"It looks like we'll be in court after all," Stracener commented after that.

He added Kean and Pearce had suggested going ahead with a separate GOP primary and let the matter go to court only if a challenge is raised.

Stracener took the position that the state primary voting law does not require the Republican party to have the same number of precincts as the Democratic party and that the law also sets up each ward as a voting precinct.

...blown fuses...dimming lights...octopus connections

New plan offers up-to-date home wiring for as little as $5 a month with FHA Title 1 Financing

Check Your Home for out-dated wiring!

Look For These Warning Signals

A recent survey showed 4 out of 5 Twin Cities homes have these signs of out-of-date wiring:

- IF FUSES BLOW frequently, it means your wiring is not adequate to carry the load of present-day lighting and appliances.
- IF LIGHTS DIM when appliances switch on, your wiring is inadequate for your present appliances . . . unable to handle appliances you hope to buy!
- IF "OCTOPUS" connections clutter up your outlets, you're overloading the circuit . . . running the risk of heating up wires, which can cause serious fires.

Here, for the first time in this area, is a special wiring plan for your home—for as little as $5 a month . . . with up to 3 years to pay!

Here's What The Plan Gives You

Our qualified electricians will modernize your wiring system . . . install new wires to your fuse box . . . provide for future circuits for ranges, dryers and air conditioners . . . install new circuits for plug-in appliances . . . rearrange your present wiring to make sure your electrical system is safe. You'll have better lighting and proper wiring for your present appliances . . . and those you plan to buy in the future.

Here's How To Get Started

Just Phone 3-2583. One of our qualified electricians will check your wiring system. Then he'll give you a written description of the work to be done and a written estimate of the cost. ALL WITH NO CHARGE . . . NO OBLIGATION.

NAME YOUR OWN TERMS

We will arrange the necessary financing with the bank of your choice. You can set up payments to fit your budget—as little as $5 a month—and take one, two or even three years to pay!

Republicans May Force Court Test On GOP Primary

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Republicans in East Baton Rouge Parish today are considering whether a court test is necessary to help establish a Jan. 17 party primary here the way they want it.

Louisiana, a Democratic state, has never had a statewide GOP primary.

But Republican leaders throughout the state, despite the sparse number of registered Republicans, plan to have a party primary in as many parishes as possible Jan. 17, date of the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

The GOP will offer two candidates for the GOP nomination as lieutenant governor, Nealon Stracener, Baton Rouge, and Harry Hill, New Orleans, and candidates for the GOP state central committee.

The possibility of a lawsuit in this parish developed after attorneys considered the technicalities involved.

Stracener, an attorney, parish atty. Gordon Kean and asst. Atty. Gen. J. Clyde Pearne examined the question.

The GOP wants the East Baton Rouge Parish Council to create three separate Republican voting precincts in each of the parish's three wards.

Kean said such a procedure would be illegal and added the attorney general's office agreed.

Parish vote registrar Jodie Smith said he would have no part with a double set of precincts unless directed by a court order.

He added Kean and Pearce had suggested going ahead with a separate GOP primary and let the matter go to court only if a challenge is raised.

Stracener took the position that the state primary voting law does not require the Republican party to have the same number of precincts as the Democratic party and that the law also sets up each ward as a voting precinct.

Survey shows 4 out of 5
Twin Cities homes have out-dated wiring
...blown fuses...dimming lights...octopus connections
New plan offers up-to-date home wiring for as little as $5 a month with FHA Title 1 Financing

Check Your Home for out-dated wiring!
Look For These Warning Signals
A recent survey showed 4 out of 5 Twin Cities homes have these signs of out-of-date wiring:
- IF FUSES BLOW frequently, it means your wiring is not adequate to carry the load of present-day lighting and appliances.
- IF LIGHTS DIM when appliances switch on, your wiring is inadequate for your present appliances . . . unable to handle appliances you hope to buy!
- IF "OCTOPUS" connections clutter up your outlets, you're overloading the circuit . . . running the risk of heating up wires, which can cause serious fires.

Here, for the first time in this area, is a special wiring plan for your home—for as little as $5 a month . . . with up to 3 years to pay!

Here's What The Plan Gives You
Our qualified electricians will modernize your wiring system . . . install new wires to your fuse box . . . provide for future circuits for ranges, dryers and air conditioners . . . install new circuits for plug-in appliances . . . rearrange your present wiring to make sure your electrical system is safe. You'll have better lighting and proper wiring for your present appliances . . . and those you plan to buy in the future.

Here's How To Get Started
Just Phone 3-2583. One of our qualified electricians will check your wiring system. Then he'll give you a written description of the work to be done and a written estimate of the cost. ALL WITH NO CHARGE . . . NO OBLIGATION.

NAME YOUR OWN TERMS
We will arrange the necessary financing with the bank of your choice. You can set up payments to fit your budget—as little as $5 a month—and take one, two or even three years to pay!

Southern Gentlemen Say New Group Not Prompted By Catechism Teaching

ERATH, La., Dec. 3—UP—Officers of a new chapter of the Southern Gentlemen's organization say its formation here was not prompted by the recent race trouble centering around a Roman Catholic catechism teacher.

The group says it is dedicated to maintaining racial segregation by peaceful methods.

Organization of the chapter follows the beating of a woman lay teacher of a racially-integrated catechism class that led to the excommunication of two women by the Roman Catholic church.

The Most Rev. Jules B. Jeanmard, bishop of Lafayette, lifted the excommunication decree this week after the two women involved in the beating agreed to publicly apologize to Mrs. Lula V. Ortemond.

Although the Our Lady of Lourdes church in Erath is not racially segregated, parishioners have protested the teaching of white and Negro students in the same catechism class. In the church itself, Negroes usually occupy rear seats.

The pro-segregation chapter was formed last night in the town hall with about 200 persons attending.

Alvin Richard, rice farmer and cattleman, was named chairman of the chapter. Other officers are Murphy Menard, vice-chairman, and Aldo C. LeBlanc, secretary-treasurer. Both Menard and LeBlanc are local businessmen.

J. D. Constand was elected state executive committeeman of the Southern Gentlemen's organization.

Spring Hike For Crude Price Seen By Oil Industry

HOUSTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Much talk these days is about an increase in crude oil prices. The industry is divided. Indications are that no price changes will come before eary spring.

Practically all oilmen are talking about spiraling production and exploration costs but many fear a crude price increase could backfire.

Industry spokesmen recognize the current excess productive capacity for domestic wells does not encourage a price jump. Domestic crude output is considerably below productive capacity.

There also is fear that public and congressional reaction to higher crude prices might prejudice important industry problems scheduled for Washington consideration early next year.

The Senate is to consider House-approved legislation which would exempt natural gas prices from the jurisdiction of the Federal gas prices from the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission. A bitter struggle between producer and consumer areas is taking shape.

Many independent oil operators fear a crude hike would aggravate progress made in Washington toward limiting imports. Congress gave President Eisenhower authority last summer to limit imports which endanger national security. Importers were asked last month to make voluntary cutbacks or possibly face a government order.

Frank Porter, president of American Petroleum Institute, recently said a hike in crude prices is a strong possibility. Current prices, he said, have remained substantially the same while drilling and production costs have climbed the past several years.

The cost study committee of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America estimates the total cost of finding and developing domestic oil is about 20 per cent higher than in 1953, when the last big change came in the national average price of crude oil.

Average costs of equipment, materials, services and wages, the committee estimates, have increased at least 10 per cent. Total volume of exploratory and development drilling this year is estimated to be about 13 per cent higher than in 1953.

The IPAA group reports that total drilling in 1935-1939 located an average of 28 barrels of new oil per foot drilled, compared to 17 barrels for 1950-1954.

Independent operators long have argued that imports curbs would increase domestic output and lower the existing excess productive capacity. Some believe the domestic market will tighten and make the crude price hike unnecessary if current Washington efforts to limit imports are successful.

Some independents fear a price hike would strengthen the opposition against imports curbs and add to the attractiveness of low-price foreign crude.

Long Endorses Higher Pay Scale For Teachers

KROTZ SPRINGS, Dec. 3 (Special) — Further improvements to Louisiana's education system are basic to added progress in the state, Earl K. Long said in a campaign rally here Friday.

Long said he and Lether E. Frazar, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Long ticket, have given their full approval to the teachers pay recommendations made by the United Schools committee. The proposal sets minimum salaries at $3400 and $3600 respectively for teachers with bachelor's and master's degrees and raises the ceiling on salaries at both degree levels.

Frazar reminded the audience that school personnel have made their big gains under Long administrations in the past. Teacher tenure, retirement and leave laws were put on the books during the 1930's and the first statewide minimum salary law went into effect in 1948. Frazar was the author of the retirement law.

"You can judge the future by the past," said Long, who is now seeking election to another term as governor. "You know I am going to carry out the promises I make and that all the people in the state are going to get a square deal and an honest deal when I am your governor."

The school program proposed by Long and Frazar includes, in addition to the increased pay scale for teachers, higher pay for other school personnel, free hot lunches for all needy school children and a series of scholarships for young people wishing to enter the teaching profession.

"There's no one thing as important as our schools, for they are training the young people who are coming on," said Long. "They deserve our first and foremost consideration."

He listed among other major planks in his platform no bond issues unless they are submitted to the electorate for a vote and a return to responsible government in which the chief executive "won't hide behind any boards."

Candidates also speaking were Jack P. F. Gremillion, for attorney general, Sidney McCrory for commissioner of agriculture, Bill Dodd for state auditor and Lucille May Grace for register of state lands.

$750,000 FIRE SWEEPS CAROLINA FACTORY—The huge furniture factory of the Unagusta Manufacturing Corp. at Hazelwood, N. C., is swept by fire which did damage estimated by company officials at $750,000. The flames broke out in a section where chemicals were stored and spread quickly to another building of the sprawling plant. About 250 workers were in the factory but all escaped without injury. Two buildings were destroyed but another was saved by firemen from five towns of the area who battled for hours to control the flames. (AP Wirephoto)

LSU Professor Recommends New Farm Program

LAFAYETTE, La., Dec. 3 (AP)—A La. State University professor suggested today flexible farm prices that would prevent bankruptcy and at the same time allow adjustment of production to demand.

Dr. Fred Wiegmann, professor of agricultural economics, spoke at the fifth annual economics forum at Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

He said his suggestion offered the possible solution "having the most economic validity."

He said the solution of America's 8 billion dollar question—the staggering agriculture surplus—must be found between government control and free enterprise.

He questioned the current high level price support program, saying it has "ill served" income support—the purpose for which it was established.

While Dr. Wiegmann named no political parties, he blamed postponements of "flexible features" of the present farm program for the current surpluses. He contended the "flexible features" were postponed from 1949 because of "political expediency."

He said the current outlook for rent crop reports indicate that stockpiles of food will grow even bigger.

Dr. Wiegman commented that flexible prices are the best step in the right direction because they would be easy to administer, do not require a welfare program and would give the farmer" freedom to try, succeed or fail."

The professor contended the consumer has paid for the farm surplus twice—once in the market place and again in taxes—for products that can not be consumed.

The speaker listed four other possible solutions in addition to flexible prices:

1. A two price system, with a domestic price paid for part of the farm products, and world market price for the remainer.

2. Compensatory payments, with the government making up the difference between a guaranteed price and market price.

3. Forward pricing with the government announcing a support price each year in advance of production for quantity determined by consumer demands.

4. Continued high level price supports with marketing quotas, and payments for land taken out of production.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 —UP— Longshoremen were blocked by pickets here today from unloading a phosphate ore cargo from a Netherlands ship, the SS Charis.

The picket line was manned by members of the Seafarers International Union (AFL) in support of striking laborers in Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, SIU spokesmen said.

The vessel, part of the Royal Netherlands Steamship Co., tied up at a New Orleans wharf Thursday. Unloading of the cargo had progressed peaceably until longshoremen met pickets during a change of shifts last night.

Lindsey J. Williams, agent here for the SIU, said the picket line was manned at the request of Paul Hall, New York secretary-treasurer of the SIU. Williams said the strike has the backing of George Meaney, AFL president.

Williams said the picket here is in sympathy with members of the United Mining Union in Curacao, who have been on strike for "decent wages and working conditions" since mid-October.

The New Orleans port agent for the striking union said the picketing here is probably the first in this country in support of the Curacao strike.

Chicago Police Hunt Sadistic Mother Slayer

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Police today hunted for the sadistic slayer of a 50-year-old mother who was found beaten, strangled and raped in her home in suburban Harvey yesterday.

The naked body of Mrs. Ruth Beal, partially covered with rugs, was found in a rear bedroom by her husband, Larry, 52, when he returned home from work. The victim's hands were tied behind her back with a stocking, rags were stuffed in her mouth and a second stocking was tied around her neck.

Her death was the fifth by strangulation in the Chicago area within the last seven weeks. All of the slayings are unsolved.

Police Chief Matt Romer of the far South Side suburb said Mrs. Beal apparently had been assaulted and killed in a front bedroom then dragged to the rear room. The house had been ransacked, he said.

Mrs. Beal was the mother of two children, Frank, 16, a high school senior, and Mrs. Barbara Homan, 21, of Tempe, Ariz.

Romer said neighbors reported they had seen a man about 32 years old around the Beal home on two different occasions yesterday.

Chicago police pointed to the similarity of Mrs. Beal's slaying and that of Mrs. Edith Jamieson, 47, in Chicago Nov. 23. Mrs. Jamieson, mother of six children, was found slain in a South Side alley about 11 miles from the Beal home. She had been strangled and her hands had been tied behind her back. She had been killed while en route home early in the morning from her job at a Loop bank.

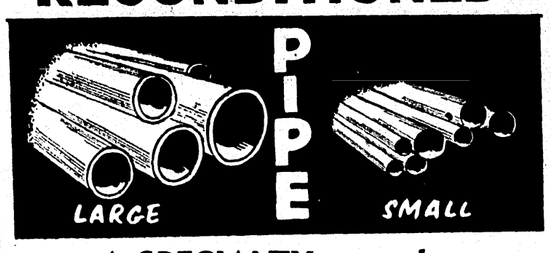

Strangulation also was the cause of the deaths of three boys whose nude bodies were found Oct. 18 in the Robinson Woods section of the forest preserve northwest of Chicago. The victims were Robert Peterson, 14, and the Schussler Brothers, John, 13, and Anton, 11.

Concordia Masons Set Past Masters Night, On Monday

Southern Gentlemen Say New Group Not Prompted By Catechism Teaching

ERATH, La., Dec. 3—UP—Officers of a new chapter of the Southern Gentlemen's organization say its formation here was not prompted by the recent race trouble centering around a Roman Catholic catechism teacher.

The group says it is dedicated to maintaining racial segregation by peaceful methods.

Organization of the chapter follows the beating of a woman lay teacher of a racially-integrated catechism class that led to the excommunication of two women by the Roman Catholic church.

The Most Rev. Jules B. Jeanmard, bishop of Lafayette, lifted the excommunication decree this week after the two women involved in the beating agreed to publicly apologize to Mrs. Lula V. Ortemond.

Although the Our Lady of Lourdes church in Erath is not racially segregated, parishioners have protested the teaching of white and Negro students in the same catechism class. In the church itself, Negroes usually occupy rear seats.

The pro-segregation chapter was formed last night in the town hall with about 200 persons attending.

Alvin Richard, rice farmer and cattleman, was named chairman of the chapter. Other officers are Murphy Menard, vice-chairman, and Aldo C. LeBlanc, secretary-treasurer. Both Menard and LeBlanc are local businessmen.

J. D. Constand was elected state executive committeeman of the Southern Gentlemen's organization.

Spring Hike For Crude Price Seen By Oil Industry

HOUSTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Much talk these days is about an increase in crude oil prices. The industry is divided. Indications are that no price changes will come before eary spring.

Practically all oilmen are talking about spiraling production and exploration costs but many fear a crude price increase could backfire.

Industry spokesmen recognize the current excess productive capacity for domestic wells does not encourage a price jump. Domestic crude output is considerably below productive capacity.

There also is fear that public and congressional reaction to higher crude prices might prejudice important industry problems scheduled for Washington consideration early next year.

The Senate is to consider House-approved legislation which would exempt natural gas prices from the jurisdiction of the Federal gas prices from the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission. A bitter struggle between producer and consumer areas is taking shape.

Many independent oil operators fear a crude hike would aggravate progress made in Washington toward limiting imports. Congress gave President Eisenhower authority last summer to limit imports which endanger national security. Importers were asked last month to make voluntary cutbacks or possibly face a government order.

Frank Porter, president of American Petroleum Institute, recently said a hike in crude prices is a strong possibility. Current prices, he said, have remained substantially the same while drilling and production costs have climbed the past several years.

The cost study committee of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America estimates the total cost of finding and developing domestic oil is about 20 per cent higher than in 1953, when the last big change came in the national average price of crude oil.

Average costs of equipment, materials, services and wages, the committee estimates, have increased at least 10 per cent. Total volume of exploratory and development drilling this year is estimated to be about 13 per cent higher than in 1953.

The IPAA group reports that total drilling in 1935-1939 located an average of 28 barrels of new oil per foot drilled, compared to 17 barrels for 1950-1954.

Independent operators long have argued that imports curbs would increase domestic output and lower the existing excess productive capacity. Some believe the domestic market will tighten and make the crude price hike unnecessary if current Washington efforts to limit imports are successful.

Some independents fear a price hike would strengthen the opposition against imports curbs and add to the attractiveness of low-price foreign crude.

Long Endorses Higher Pay Scale For Teachers

KROTZ SPRINGS, Dec. 3 (Special) — Further improvements to Louisiana's education system are basic to added progress in the state, Earl K. Long said in a campaign rally here Friday.

Long said he and Lether E. Frazar, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Long ticket, have given their full approval to the teachers pay recommendations made by the United Schools committee. The proposal sets minimum salaries at $3400 and $3600 respectively for teachers with bachelor's and master's degrees and raises the ceiling on salaries at both degree levels.

Frazar reminded the audience that school personnel have made their big gains under Long administrations in the past. Teacher tenure, retirement and leave laws were put on the books during the 1930's and the first statewide minimum salary law went into effect in 1948. Frazar was the author of the retirement law.

"You can judge the future by the past," said Long, who is now seeking election to another term as governor. "You know I am going to carry out the promises I make and that all the people in the state are going to get a square deal and an honest deal when I am your governor."

The school program proposed by Long and Frazar includes, in addition to the increased pay scale for teachers, higher pay for other school personnel, free hot lunches for all needy school children and a series of scholarships for young people wishing to enter the teaching profession.

"There's no one thing as important as our schools, for they are training the young people who are coming on," said Long. "They deserve our first and foremost consideration."

He listed among other major planks in his platform no bond issues unless they are submitted to the electorate for a vote and a return to responsible government in which the chief executive "won't hide behind any boards."

Candidates also speaking were Jack P. F. Gremillion, for attorney general, Sidney McCrory for commissioner of agriculture, Bill Dodd for state auditor and Lucille May Grace for register of state lands.

$750,000 FIRE SWEEPS CAROLINA FACTORY—The huge furniture factory of the Unagusta Manufacturing Corp. at Hazelwood, N. C., is swept by fire which did damage estimated by company officials at $750,000. The flames broke out in a section where chemicals were stored and spread quickly to another building of the sprawling plant. About 250 workers were in the factory but all escaped without injury. Two buildings were destroyed but another was saved by firemen from five towns of the area who battled for hours to control the flames. (AP Wirephoto)

LSU Professor Recommends New Farm Program

LAFAYETTE, La., Dec. 3 (AP)—A La. State University professor suggested today flexible farm prices that would prevent bankruptcy and at the same time allow adjustment of production to demand.

Dr. Fred Wiegmann, professor of agricultural economics, spoke at the fifth annual economics forum at Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

He said his suggestion offered the possible solution "having the most economic validity."

He said the solution of America's 8 billion dollar question—the staggering agriculture surplus—must be found between government control and free enterprise.

He questioned the current high level price support program, saying it has "ill served" income support—the purpose for which it was established.

While Dr. Wiegmann named no political parties, he blamed postponements of "flexible features" of the present farm program for the current surpluses. He contended the "flexible features" were postponed from 1949 because of "political expediency."

He said the current outlook for rent crop reports indicate that stockpiles of food will grow even bigger.

Dr. Wiegman commented that flexible prices are the best step in the right direction because they would be easy to administer, do not require a welfare program and would give the farmer" freedom to try, succeed or fail."

The professor contended the consumer has paid for the farm surplus twice—once in the market place and again in taxes—for products that can not be consumed.

The speaker listed four other possible solutions in addition to flexible prices:

1. A two price system, with a domestic price paid for part of the farm products, and world market price for the remainer.

2. Compensatory payments, with the government making up the difference between a guaranteed price and market price.

3. Forward pricing with the government announcing a support price each year in advance of production for quantity determined by consumer demands.

4. Continued high level price supports with marketing quotas, and payments for land taken out of production.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 —UP— Longshoremen were blocked by pickets here today from unloading a phosphate ore cargo from a Netherlands ship, the SS Charis.

The picket line was manned by members of the Seafarers International Union (AFL) in support of striking laborers in Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, SIU spokesmen said.

The vessel, part of the Royal Netherlands Steamship Co., tied up at a New Orleans wharf Thursday. Unloading of the cargo had progressed peaceably until longshoremen met pickets during a change of shifts last night.

Lindsey J. Williams, agent here for the SIU, said the picket line was manned at the request of Paul Hall, New York secretary-treasurer of the SIU. Williams said the strike has the backing of George Meaney, AFL president.

Williams said the picket here is in sympathy with members of the United Mining Union in Curacao, who have been on strike for "decent wages and working conditions" since mid-October.

The New Orleans port agent for the striking union said the picketing here is probably the first in this country in support of the Curacao strike.

Chicago Police Hunt Sadistic Mother Slayer

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Police today hunted for the sadistic slayer of a 50-year-old mother who was found beaten, strangled and raped in her home in suburban Harvey yesterday.

The naked body of Mrs. Ruth Beal, partially covered with rugs, was found in a rear bedroom by her husband, Larry, 52, when he returned home from work. The victim's hands were tied behind her back with a stocking, rags were stuffed in her mouth and a second stocking was tied around her neck.

Her death was the fifth by strangulation in the Chicago area within the last seven weeks. All of the slayings are unsolved.

Police Chief Matt Romer of the far South Side suburb said Mrs. Beal apparently had been assaulted and killed in a front bedroom then dragged to the rear room. The house had been ransacked, he said.

Mrs. Beal was the mother of two children, Frank, 16, a high school senior, and Mrs. Barbara Homan, 21, of Tempe, Ariz.

Romer said neighbors reported they had seen a man about 32 years old around the Beal home on two different occasions yesterday.

Chicago police pointed to the similarity of Mrs. Beal's slaying and that of Mrs. Edith Jamieson, 47, in Chicago Nov. 23. Mrs. Jamieson, mother of six children, was found slain in a South Side alley about 11 miles from the Beal home. She had been strangled and her hands had been tied behind her back. She had been killed while en route home early in the morning from her job at a Loop bank.

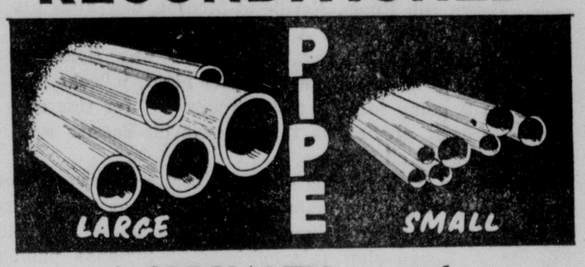

Strangulation also was the cause of the deaths of three boys whose nude bodies were found Oct. 18 in the Robinson Woods section of the forest preserve northwest of Chicago. The victims were Robert Peterson, 14, and the Schussler Brothers, John, 13, and Anton, 11.

Concordia Masons Set Past Masters Night, On Monday

VIDALIA, Dec. 3 (Special) — The Concordia Masonic Lodge 305 will hold Past Masters night at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Masonic Hall, according to Earl Matthews, secretary of the local lodge.

The purpose of the meeting is for the election of officers for the coming year, he said, and asked that all past masters and other Masons attend.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

It had to happen some time! After all these years of deciding tie games by first downs or penetrations, the Louisiana high school football races have finally registered a draw playoff contest. Sicily Island and Basile had a 7-7 tie in their bi-district playoff Friday, a 10-10 tie in first downs and a 2-2 tie in penetrations. The Tigers and Bears try again Tuesday night at Pineville to settle which meets Delhi in the state Class B semi-finals.

Coach Bill Ruple, Neville of Monroe, now aims his Tigers for their double-A semi-final playoff with De-Ridder there Friday night. After the way DeRidder handled a good ena Jteam the other night, it looks like Neville is going to have to be "really up" for this one despite early predictions that the Neville-Bossier winner would "go all the way."

The Fair Park Indians of Shreveport and Istrouma of Baton Rouge settle the state triple-A crown at Shreveport Friday night with the Tribe probably praying for rain and the Baton Rouge club (also nicknamed Indians) pulling for a sunny week to assure a fast field. The F. P. machine is huge but slow, yet rains in the past couple of weeks brought soggy turfs to assure their upset of Byrd's Jackets for the north district title and Lake Charles in their semi-final playoff.

Other than Neville, Delhi, and Sicily Island, only the Ferriday Bulldogs, defending state Class A champions, continue toward titles from this section. Ferriday brushed aside the LaSalle threat with Guy Hill on a scoring spree. The Concordia Canines still look like the best bet to go all the way.

Northeast Louisiana high school basketball officials will be rated in about another week with final examinations scheduled for Monday, December 12, for all those officials who took (and passed) the initial tests conducted recently.

T. H. "Muddy" Waters, commissioner of Louisiana prep athletics, will be in Monroe to conduct the final examination toward rating of the cage referees and umpires. However, it will not be necessary for all members of the recently organized Northeast Louisiana Basketball Officials Association to come to Monroe for exam. They have their choice of three locations and may report to the site nearest their home.

For the northeast area, the examinations will be conducted on the same day and hour, Dec. 12 at 7:30 p. m., at Sicily Island High School, Ruston High School, and the Science Building at Northeast Louisiana State in Monroe.

The district officials, at their meeting last Wednesday, elected David McKenzie, Monroe, president; Hoyt Moncrief, Monroe, vice-president; and James McKay, Monroe, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were J. M. McBeth, West Monroe; Bob Griffin, Bastrop; Hudson L. Miller, West Monroe; and Sam Davis, Monroe.

Most of the high school football coaches districts 2-A, 2-B, and 3-B have registered their ballots for the All-District football teams to be announced soon. The all-star teams of these three districts are being complied by our own staff, and other districts are being handled by other sports writers for distribution among the state's newspapers.

But the few coaches who have not answered our ballots should do so as soon as possible. Their votes are urgently needed to break ties in some positions. It is already evident that a few players are assured of all-district honors in the classes we're tabulating, but just as certainly some of the other position races are pretty tight.

The meeting of the sports writers to select All-State teams is scheduled for next Saturday at Shreveport. The All-District teams must be decided before then even if publication dates do run a little later. We'll be making the All-State meetings in the middle of a vacation starting tomorrow and will be back in this corner in a couple of weeks.

Sicily Island, Basile Break Tie Tuesday

State Schoolboy Grid Title Races Near Completion

By UNITED PRESS

Basile, Four-B District champion and Sicily Island, 3-B champion, will meet in another playoff game Tuesday night to see which one of them joins Delhi, Breaux Bridge and Holy Name of New Orleans in the Louisiana class B playoff semi-finals.

The two teams met last night and battled to a tie in all departments, including a 7-7 score. After the tie score, officials started checking and found that each team had 10 first downs apiece. So they turned to penetrations only to find a 2-2 tie there.

So as a result, the two will play again Tuesday night at the Louisiana College stadium in Pineville by mutual agreement between the rival coaches.

Winner of the Tuesday night game will meet Delhi in the semi-finals for the North Louisiana championship. Breaux Bridge and Holy Name play for the South Louisiana title with the two winners meeting for the state championship.

Breaux Bridge edged St. Amant 7-6 last night to enter the playoffs, while Delhi whipped Logansport 19-12 and Holy Name overpowered Clinton 19-0.

In the Double A semi-finals, it is De Ridder vs Neville of Monroe and Reserve vs Cathedral of Lafayette.

De Ridder smashed Jena 33 to 6 last night, while Reserve beat Morgan City on first downs after tieing the previously undefeated team 14-14.

Cathedral got a first-round bye and Neville edged Bossier City 14 to 13 last week.

Ferriday's defending champions rolled to their 37th straight victory last night and joined West Lake, Baker and Redemptorist of Baton Rouge in the semi-finals of the state class A playoffs.

Ferriday whipped La Salle of Olla 46 to 0, while West Lake smashed Marksville 14-6 and Redemptorist defeated La Rose-Cut Off 32 to 12. Baker defeated Franklin 32 to 6 last week in its first lin 32 to 6 last week in its first round game.

Fair Park defeated Lake Charles 20 to 6 for the North Louisiana crown, while Istrouma rolled over St. Alovsius of New Orleans 33 to 7 for the South Louisiana crown.

THE LEAST TIGER—Lightest performer in the regular starting lineup of the Neville High Tigers is Terry Reeves (above), 138-pound halfback, but the "Least Tigers" has had an important role in moving Neville to the state Class AA semi-finals against DeRidder High at DeRidder Friday.

Marion's Sextet, Farmerville Boys Win Cage Tourney

MARION, La., Dec. 3 (Special)—The Farmerville High boys and the Marion High girls emerged as champions of the annual Marion Invitational Basketball Tournament tonight with the Farmers dropping Downsbille, 40-39, in their final, and the Marion sextet tripping Farmerville's girls, 38-36, in an overtime game.

Joann Upshaw hooped 19 points in leading the Marion girls to victory, closely followed by Andrews with 18. High scorers for the Farmerville girls were Cole with 15, and Bridges with 12.

Levy Redden sparked the Farmerville boys' triumph with 16 points, and Mickey Haye contributed 13. Bill Terral led Downsville with 12.

Neville of Monroe won the boys' consolation, defeating Marion, 51-45, although Gary Brashier, Marion, went on a 35-point spree. Bob Groves led Neville with 15. The girls' consolation was won by Linville over Bernice, 56-43, as Cook set the pace with 23. Elliot led Bernice with 22.

In the day's two semi-final games, the Marion girls beat Bernice, 41-29, and the Downsville boys beat Neville, 30-27.

Linville's Edwina Pace was selected outstanding girl player, and Marion's Brashier as outstanding boy in the tournament.

The all-tourney teams:

Boys—Brashler, Marion; Levy Redden, Farmerville; Bill Terral, Downsville; Francis Genusa, Neville; and Mickey Haye, Farmerville.

Wagner Remains In Critical Condition

Wagner, called by many "the greatest shortstop of them all," sank into a coma last week. He has been unable to recognize members of his family since then.

Larsen Gains Finals Of Uruguay Tourney

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 3 (AP)—Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., defeated Giuseppe Merlo of Italy 9-7, 6-4, 6-0 today to enter the finals of the Uruguayan International Tennis Tournament.

Enrique Morea of Argentina defeated Luis Ayala of Chile 6-1, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1 in the other semi-final.

Tech Engineers Mob Home Of Governor For Protest

By JIM THOMASSON

ATLANTA, Dec. 3 (AP) Gov. Marvin Griffin's official residence and the Georgia State Capitol were stormed early today by a howling mob of Georgia Tech students angered by Griffin's move to keep Tech out of the Sugar Bowl.

The demonstrators, who several times burned Griffin in effigy, broke through a cordon of Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents and smashed their way into the Capitol.

But police lines reinforced with 25 cars of state troopers held back the crowd of more than 2,000 at the governor's mansion.

The demonstration was touched off by Griffin's request to the university system Board of Regents to bar state colleges from playing opponents having Negro players or in games where spectators are not racially segregated.

Pittsburgh has a Negro, Bobby Grier, a reserve back, on its football squad. And segregation will not be practiced in sale of Pitt's bloc of tickets to the Jan. 2 game in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

However, a few hours after the student demonstration broke up, a source close to the governor, who declined to be quoted by name, said, "Georgia Tech will be allowed to play in the Sugar Bowl."

This Griffin administration source pointed out that the governor's message to Regent Chairman Robert O. Arnold of Covington did not specifically mention the Sugar Bowl.

But in view of the sweeping segregation policy laid down by the governor and his call of "an immediate called meeting" of the regents to consider it, the request obviously was prompted by the forthcoming bowl game.

Arnold said today he has asked the regents to meet at 11:30 a.m. Monday to study the governor's request.

But in addition to the administration spokesman's statement, there were other indications that Tech's Sugar Bowl contract will not be disturbed.

Regent Quimby Melton, editor of the Griffin Ga., News and a close friend of the governor, first declined to comment on the matter, but later apparently laid down the administration's policy line. He suggested that Tech be allowed to carry out its Sugar Bowl contract, but that the regents adopt Griffin's suggestion for all future athletic events of state colleges.

Tech President Blake Van Leer told John Earp, Chicago NBC sports editor in a telephone interview, "I'm 60 years old and have never broken a contract and I'm not going to break one now." Van Leer also is chairman of the Tech Athletic Corporation, a separate agency set up by the Legislature to handle athletic affairs.

The race issue in connection with the Sugar Bowl was raised unofficially earlier in the week when Hugh G. Grant of Augusta, former diplomat and fervent prosegregationist, wired Tech coach Bobby Dodd a protest.

Dodd ignored it and Arnold at that time said it would be "no innovation" for Tech to play against a Negro.

But Griffin yesterday stepped into the picture with his telegram stating "it is my request that athletic teams of units of the University System of Georgia not be permitted to engage in contests with other teams where the races are mixed on such teams or where segregation is not required among spectators at such events."

Later, another alumnus and former Tech football player, Rep. M. M. (Muggsy) Smith said "it's political and 100 per cent ridiculous." Smith was credited with dispersing the Tech students who climaxed their demonstration with a predawn march on the governor's mansion.

Estimated by police at approximately 2,500, the crowd marched to Five Points in downtown Atlanta, then to the state capitol a few blocks away, and finally to the governor's mansion.

The marchers bore signs proclaiming "we play anybody" and "Griffin sits on his brains." They also sang "we'll hang old Marvin from a sour apple tree."

At the state capitol, the demonstrators smashed two ground floor doors, overrunning the lone guard, J. E. Rooks.

Secretary of State Ben W. Fortson Jr. said the guard "wrestled with a few of them but didn't try to use his gun or anything like that."

When the demonstrators headed for the governor's mansion, more than 25 state patrol cars and police cars from Atlanta, and three adjoining counties were called in.

Griffin took a light view of the mansion demonstration, which he said came in two waves, the last at 2 a.m.

"It was an orderly demonstration," he said. "They hooted and sang and hanged me from a sour apple tree, but it was just a bunch of college boys having a good time and I never get excited about that."

As the governor and his son, Sam, a Tech student, left on a hunting trip, he commented, "I'm going to shoot some quail and I haven't had much sleep."

None of the students reached the mansion and Griffin did not appear to speak to them.

Souchak's Margin Sliced To 2 Strokes At Havana

HAVANA, Dec. 3 (AP) — Husky Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N. Y., posted a two - under - par 70 for the third round of the $15,000 Havana Invitational Golf Tournament today but saw his lead cut to two strokes as Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., moved into second place with a 68.

Souchak's 70 gave him a 54-hole total of 204 in the tournament, which ends tomorrow with another 18-hole round. Wall's 68 was good for a 54-hole total of 206.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Ed Oliver of Lemont, Ill., were tied for third with 207, followed by Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City at 208. Maxwell carded a 70 in today's third round, Oliver shot a 69 and Wininger had a 68.

Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, who with Maxwell was runnerup going into the third round, posted a one-over-par 73 today.

Ouachita Cagers Invade Mangham For Double Fare

The Lions of Ouachita Parish high, who opened their season with a double triumph over Calhoun here Friday night, invade Mangham High tomorrow night for another boys and girls' double header, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Coach Herbert Holliman last night figured the Dragon quint will prove a strong opponent. "You remember, Mangham beat us by one point, 41 to 40 or 47 to 46, something like that, in the Baskin tournament last year, and they have four of that starting lineup back again this season."

Tulane Wins Over Memphis Quint In 1955 Cage Opener

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP) — Calvin Grosscup, playing his first varsity game, scored 27 points tonight as Tulane opened its 1955 basketball season with a 95-50 victory over Southwestern of Memphis.

The 6'4" forward from Auburn, Ind., hit on 11 of 15 field goal tries and on five straight free throws.

Hitting on 45 per cent of their shots, Tulane took the lead after eight minutes in the opening half and was never headed.

Tulane led 43-29 at halftime and came back with 19 points to Southwestern's one in the opening minutes of the second half.

The game began Tulane Coach Cliff Wells' 40th season as a basketball coach and his 11th at Tulane. He has never lost an opener.

Three new leagues have been formed in the Recreation Basketball Winter League, to be known as the Midget, Pee Wee "A", and Pee Wee "B".

Slated for the opening action this week, the Midget League, composed of five teams, finds the Horses meeting the Maroons Tuesday night at 7 p.m. at the L. T. I. gymnasium and the Hot Shots vs. the Whites on the same floor at 7:45. The fifth loop member, the L. T. I. Hawks, has drawn a bye for the first night of play.

On the same evening at the same gym, the Pee Wee "A" swings into action, with the Demons going against the Whites at 5:30, and College Place vs. the L. T. I. Falcons at 6:15. Also composed of five members, the St. Matthew's Maroons are idle opening evening.

At the Lexington gym on Tuesday all six teams of the Pee Wee "B" League are scheduled. Sherrouse meets Lexington in a 6 p.m. tussle; Ouachita plays Red Shield at 6:45, and Plum street meets Our Lady of Fatima at 7:30.

Chingacook, French candidate for Lourel's famed International on Nov. 11, is named after the Indian hero in James Fenimore Cooper's "Last of the Mohicans."

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

It had to happen some time! After all these years of deciding tie games by first downs or penetrations, the Louisiana high school football races have finally registered a draw playoff contest. Sicily Island and Basile had a 7-7 tie in their bi-district playoff Friday, a 10-10 tie in first downs and a 2-2 tie in penetrations. The Tigers and Bears try again Tuesday night at Pineville to settle which meets Delhi in the state Class B semi-finals.

Coach Bill Ruple, Neville of Monroe, now aims his Tigers for their double-A semi-final playoff with DeRidder there Friday night. After the way DeRidder handled a good ena Jteam the other night, it looks like Neville is going to have to be "really up" for this one despite early predictions that the Neville-Bossier winner would "go all the way."

The Fair Park Indians of Shreveport and Istrouma of Baton Rouge settle the state triple-A crown at Shreveport Friday night with the Tribe probably praying for rain and the Baton Rouge club (also nicknamed Indians) pulling for a sunny week to assure a fast field. The F. P. machine is huge but slow, yet rains in the past couple of weeks brought soggy turfs to assure their upset of Byrd's Jackets for the north district title and Lake Charles in their semi-final playoff.

Other than Neville, Delhi, and Sicily Island, only the Ferriday Bulldogs, defending state Class A champions, continue toward titles from this section. Ferriday brushed aside the LaSalle threat with Guy Hill on a scoring spree. The Concordia Canines still look like the best bet to go all the way.

Northeast Louisiana high school basketball officials will be rated in about another week with final examinations scheduled for Monday, December 12, for all those officials who took (and passed) the initial tests conducted recently.

T. H. "Muddy" Waters, commissioner of Louisiana prep athletics, will be in Monroe to conduct the final examination toward rating of the cage referees and umpires. However, it will not be necessary for all members of the recently organized Northeast Louisiana Basketball Officials Association to come to Monroe for exam. They have their choice of three locations and may report to the site nearest their home.

For the northeast area, the examinations will be conducted on the same day and hour, Dec. 12 at 7:30 p. m., at Sicily Island High School, Ruston High School, and the Science Building at Northeast Louisiana State in Monroe.

The district officials, at their meeting last Wednesday, elected David McKenzie, Monroe, president; Hoyt Moncrief, Monroe, vice-president; and James McKay, Monroe, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were J. M. McBeth, West Monroe; Bob Griffin, Bastrop; Hudson L. Miller, West Monroe; and Sam Davis, Monroe.

Most of the high school football coaches districts 2-A, 2-B, and 3-B have registered their ballots for the All-District football teams to be announced soon. The all-star teams of these three districts are being complied by our own staff, and other districts are being handled by other sports writers for distribution among the state's newspapers.

But the few coaches who have not answered our ballots should do so as soon as possible. Their votes are urgently needed to break ties in some positions. It is already evident that a few players are assured of all-district honors in the classes we're tabulating, but just as certainly some of the other position races are pretty tight.

The meeting of the sports writers to select All-State teams is scheduled for next Saturday at Shreveport. The All-District teams must be decided before then even if publication dates do run a little later. We'll be making the All-State meetings in the middle of a vacation starting tomorrow and will be back in this corner in a couple of weeks.

Sicily Island, Basile Break Tie Tuesday

State Schoolboy Grid Title Races Near Completion

By UNITED PRESS

Basile, Four-B District champion and Sicily Island, 3-B champion, will meet in another playoff game Tuesday night to see which one of them joins Delhi, Breaux Bridge and Holy Name of New Orleans in the Louisiana class B playoff semi-finals.

The two teams met last night and battled to a tie in all departments, including a 7-7 score. After the tie score, officials started checking and found that each team had 10 first downs apiece. So they turned to penetrations only to find a 2-2 tie there.

So as a result, the two will play again Tuesday night at the Louisiana College stadium in Pineville by mutual agreement between the rival coaches.

Winner of the Tuesday night game will meet Delhi in the semi-finals for the North Louisiana championship. Breaux Bridge and Holy Name play for the South Louisiana title with the two winners meeting for the state championship.

Breaux Bridge edged St. Amant 7-6 last night to enter the playoffs, while Delhi whipped Logansport 19-12 and Holy Name overpowered Clinton 19-0.

In the Double A semi-finals, it is De Ridder vs Neville of Monroe and Reserve vs Cathedral of Lafayette.

De Ridder smashed Jena 33 to 6 last night, while Reserve beat Morgan City on first downs after tieing the previously undefeated team 14-14.

Cathedral got a first-round bye and Neville edged Bossier City 14 to 13 last week.

Tulane Wins Over Memphis Quint In 1955 Cage Opener

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP) — Calvin Grosscup, playing his first varsity game, scored 27 points tonight as Tulane opened its 1955 basketball season with a 95-50 victory over Southwestern of Memphis.

The 6'4" forward from Auburn, Ind., hit on 11 of 15 field goal tries and on five straight free throws.

Hitting on 45 per cent of their shots, Tulane took the lead after eight minutes in the opening half and was never headed.

Tulane led 43-29 at halftime and came back with 19 points to Southwestern's one in the opening minutes of the second half.

Tech Engineers Mob Home Of Governor For Protest

By JIM THOMASSON

ATLANTA, Dec. 3 (AP) Gov. Marvin Griffin's official residence and the Georgia State Capitol were stormed early today by a howling mob of Georgia Tech students angered by Griffin's move to keep Tech out of the Sugar Bowl.

The demonstrators, who several times burned Griffin in effigy, broke through a cordon of Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents and smashed their way into the Capitol.

But police lines reinforced with 25 cars of state troopers held back the crowd of more than 2,000 at the governor's mansion.

The demonstration was touched off by Griffin's request to the university system Board of Regents to bar state colleges from playing opponents having Negro players or in games where spectators are not racially segregated.

Pittsburgh has a Negro, Bobby Grier, a reserve back, on its football squad. And segregation will not be practiced in sale of Pitt's bloc of tickets to the Jan. 2 game in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

However, a few hours after the student demonstration broke up, a source close to the governor, who declined to be quoted by name, said, "Georgia Tech will be allowed to play in the Sugar Bowl."

This Griffin administration source pointed out that the governor's message to Regent Chairman Robert O. Arnold of Covington did not specifically mention the Sugar Bowl.

But in view of the sweeping segregation policy laid down by the governor and his call of "an immediate called meeting" of the regents to consider it, the request obviously was prompted by the forthcoming bowl game.

Arnold said today he has asked the regents to meet at 11:30 a.m. Monday to study the governor's request.

But in addition to the administration spokesman's statement, there were other indications that Tech's Sugar Bowl contract will not be disturbed.

Regent Quimby Melton, editor of the Griffin Ga., News and a close friend of the governor, first declined to comment on the matter, but later apparently laid down the administration's policy line. He suggested that Tech be allowed to carry out its Sugar Bowl contract, but that the regents adopt Griffin's suggestion for all future athletic events of state colleges.

Tech President Blake Van Leer told John Earp, Chicago NBC sports editor in a telephone interview, "I'm 60 years old and have never broken a contract and I'm not going to break one now." Van Leer also is chairman of the Tech Athletic Corporation, a separate agency set up by the Legislature to handle athletic affairs.

The race issue in connection with the Sugar Bowl was raised unofficially earlier in the week when Hugh G. Grant of Augusta, former diplomat and fervent prosegregationist, wired Tech coach Bobby Dodd a protest.

Dodd ignored it and Arnold at that time said it would be "no innovation" for Tech to play against a Negro.

But Griffin yesterday stepped into the picture with his telegram stating "it is my request that athletic teams of units of the University System of Georgia not be permitted to engage in contests with other teams where the races are mixed on such teams or where segregation is not required among spectators at such events."

Later, another alumnus and former Tech football player, Rep. M. M. (Muggsy) Smith said "it's political and 100 per cent ridiculous." Smith was credited with dispersing the Tech students who climaxed their demonstration with a predawn march on the governor's mansion.

Estimated by police at approximately 2,500, the crowd marched to Five Points in downtown Atlanta, then to the state capitol a few blocks away, and finally to the governor's mansion.

The marchers bore signs proclaiming "we play anybody" and "Griffin sits on his brains." They also sang "we'll hang old Marvin from a sour apple tree."

At the state capitol, the demonstrators smashed two ground floor doors, overrunning the lone guard, J. E. Rooks.

Secretary of State Ben W. Fortson Jr. said the guard "wrestled with a few of them but didn't try to use his gun or anything like that."

When the demonstrators headed for the governor's mansion, more than 25 state patrol cars and police cars from Atlanta, and three adjoining counties were called in.

Griffin took a light view of the mansion demonstration, which he said came in two waves, the last at 2 a.m.

"It was an orderly demonstration," he said. "They hooted and sang and hanged me from a sour apple tree, but it was just a bunch of college boys having a good time and I never get excited about that."

As the governor and his son, Sam, a Tech student, left on a hunting trip, he commented, "I'm going to shoot some quail and I haven't had much sleep."

None of the students reached the mansion and Griffin did not appear to speak to them.

Louisiana Tech Lands 7 All-Gulf Stars

Yocom Represents Northeast Indians On Second Eleven

By JAMES SAGGUS
The Associated Press

Louisiana Tech placed an unprecedented seven players today on the All-Gulf States Conference football team selected for The Associated Press by the GSC coaches.

Two of the three unanimous selections were from Tech, which landed five spots in the line and two in the backfield. Two other Tech players took second team berths.

Unanimous selections from Tech were end Charles Anderson and tackle Tommy Hinton. Other Tech linemen on the first team were tackle Pat Hinton, older brother of Tommy, guard Bobby Stone and center Charles Glover.

Tech backs selected were quarterback Milford Andrews and halfback Russell Rainbolt.

Rounding out the first team were end Huey Husser of Southeastern Louisiana, the third player selected unanimously, guard James Hebert of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, halfback Gene Southern of Louisina College and fullback Jesse Castete of McNeese State.

The line features versatility and players combine size and speed. The Hinton brothers are the heavyweights at 225 pounds, but are mobile for their size. Husser was one of the GSC top pass receivers, while Anderson was a capable receiver and an outstanding defensive performer with his fumble recoveries and blocking of punts. Glover excelled as a linebacker and blocker. Hebert and Stone were equally good on tackling and running interference.

Andrews led the GSC in passing with 39 completions for 687 yards. Southern was the top rusher and pass receiver, with 344 yards as a receiver and 638 as a runner. Rainbolt had 615 yards rushing and Castete 577.

Hebert was all-conference in 1952 and 1954, missing 1953 with injuries. Castete and Husser were on the first team last year.

Named to the second team were Louis Roth of SLI at fullback, James McNew of Northwestern and A. L. Williams of Tech at halfbacks, Harold (Sonny) Clark of Louisiana College at quarterback, Herb Fondren of SLI and Billy White of Tech at ends, Don Peroyea of Southeastern and Francis Yocom of Northeast State at tackles, Rudie Soileau of McNeese and Dan Fournet of Southeastern at guards, and James Douglas of Louisiana College at center.

Roth was the hard-luck player in the voting. He got six first team votes, but they were split between halfback and fullback. McNew got votes at quarterback and halfback, but would not have made the first team if they had been concentrated.

Houston Grabs 3 Late Touchdowns To Sack Wyoming

HOUSTON, Dec. 3 (AP) — The University of Houston turned a blocked punt, a fumble recovery and Kenie Stegall's 69 - yard punt return into three fourth - period touchdowns today to complete its conquest of Sun Bowl football teams by defeating Wyoming, 26-14.

The quick turn of events broke a 7-7 deadlock the teams had ground out in the first half on a slippery field.

A crowd of 10,000 saw Houston end its season with a 6-4 record that also included a 7-0 victory over Texas Tech, Wyoming's Jan. 2 opponent in the El Paso Sun Bowl. Wyoming finished its regular campaign at 7-3.

Fullback Curley Johnson broke the 7-7 tie by plunging over from the two after guard Jim Blackston had blocked a Wyoming punt and covered on the eight on the first play of the final period.

Seconds later guard Rod Carpenter covered a fumble on the Wyoming 23 and Stegall, a senior halfback, carried over from the six.

On his long punt return, Stegall was chased out of bounds on the Wyoming 13 by wingback Butch Wilso. A penalty shoved the Cougars back, but quarterback Dimmy Dicket passed 16 yards to fullback Don Flynn for the touchdown and a 26-7 score.

Wyoming took the opening kickoff and moved 80 yards for a touchdown, with fullback Ova Stapleton powering over from the one. Houston matched this with a 71-yard second period drive that saw fullback Donnie Caraway ram over from the one.

Score by quarters:

Wyoming	7	0	0	7	—14
Houston	0	7	9	10	—26

Wyoming scoring — touchdowns: Stapleton, (1, plunge), Kutches (8, run). Conversions: Mastrogiovanni, Kutches.

Bonus Rule Fuss, Minor Demands Facing Majors

By JACK HAND

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—The ever-controversial bonus rule, the perennial radio-TV problem of the minors and the players' demands will keep the major league owners busy next week while the baseball clubs' managers talk trade.

The American and National Leagues will hold separate sessions Monday and Tuesday. A joint meeting is scheduled for Wednesday morning, although it might be moved up if the leagues dash through their private business.

Although proposed changes in the bonus rule were rejected by the minors at Columbus, they remain on the majors agenda and will be considered. The bonus rule sharply restricts movements of free agents signed for more than $4,000.

The Detroit club would toss out the rule altogether while Baltimore would like to permit bonus players to be optioned to the minors, instead of forcing them to stay on the major league roster for two years.

This plan, originally suggested by Chuck Dressen, Washington manager, would include the optioned bonus men on a club's player limit. (Baltimore has four bonus players). Another proposal would permit an unlimited draft of "second year men" who have had at least 30 days service in each of his first two years in baseball.

The majors also will discuss loosening up the June 15 midnight deadline for trading. Under one proposal, one day in July and one day in August would be set aside for trades within the same league only.

Inter-league games with the results to count in the league standings will be proposed again with little chance of success. Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, made the initial proposal two or three years ago.

Another suggested change would let major league clubs reward players with extra pay for hitting .300, winning 20 games or some similar performance according to each club's wishes. At the present time such extra pay is not permitted except in the case of contract agreements on more pay for specific club attendance.

The ban on commercial radio-TV broadcasts of big league games into minor league territory as passed by the minors will be considered. It also was given slight chance of survival.

Both leagues will consider a number of requests from the players, including an increase in minimum salary from $6,000 to $7,200, and permission for players to negotiate directly with winter league teams. The players also want a voice in negotiations for a new World Series—All-Star game TV contract after the current pact expires at the end of the 1956 series.

Commissioner Ford Frick planned to reveal Monday afternoon the final report of the fact-finding survey on baseball, conducted last summer by the Stephen Fitzgerald Company of New York. A preliminary report on "What's wrong with baseball" showed inadequate parking, TV, cost and slow games were keeping fans from the parks.

By Far Captures Governor's Run At Fair Grounds

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP)—The combination of owner T. A. Grissom and trainer V. R. (Tennessee) Wright clicked again today when their four-year old gelding By Far won the $5,000 Governor's Purse at the Fair Grounds.

By Far, sired by Preakness winner Faultless, broke from the starting gate on top and made every pole a winning one. He streaked across the finish line 2½ lengths in front of Valley View farm's Ed The Great. Larriewell, from the Three W stables, took the show spot.

The victory gave the Grissom-Wright combine a clean sweep of the first three feature races in the first 10 days of the Fair Grounds 83-day season. Tonsina took the $7,500 Thanksgiving Day Handicap and By Far won the Crescent City purse last Saturday.

By Far moved to a quick lead with Larriewell and Emil Denmark's Prince Eric in close pursuit. He showed a slim margin over Ed The Great as the field swung for home but opened up the advantage under jockey Johnny Heckman's urging. By Far traveled the six furlongs in 1:13 3-5.

By Far, favored in the betting with running mate My Fault, returned $5.60, $3.20 and $2.40. Ed The Great paid $4 and $3 with Larriewell returning $3.

The victory was By Far's 10th in 34 starts this year.

Apprentice jockey George Gibb rode both ends of the $24.80 daily double. Easter Model ($8.60) took the first race and Bon Zevial ($6.20) copped the second.

A crowd of 13,439 turned out in spring-like weather and wagered $524,708 on the eight-race program.

Ferriday High Girls Lose At Washington

FERRIDAY, La., Dec. 3 —The Ferriday High School girls were badly beaten by Red Lick, Miss.'s girls in the annual Washington, Miss., cage tournament in the opening day's play at Washington Thursday.

The game was one of the most lop-sided games in tournament history and found the Red Lick girls besting Ferriday by a score of 57-7.

Moore Hurts Ankle; Postpone Title Bout

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The scheduled world light heavyweight championship between champion Archie Moore and Yolande Pompey of Trinidad was postponed today because the champion sprained his ankle.

The fight had been scheduled for Jan. 10 at London's Earls Court Stadium. Promoter Jack Solomons said "The arena is booked for some time ahead and the new date will depend on when they can fit me in."

Rhode Island May Get Weather Nod For Refrigerator

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 3 (AP)—Rhode Island's Rams, who have been practicing in cold and snow, may have the weather advantage over Jacksonville State of Alabama tomorrow in the Refrigerator Bowl.

Chilly rain and falling temperatures were in prospect after the teams arrived last night in a warm drizzle.

Coach Hal Kopp of Rhode Island said his unbeaten but twicetied Rams had been practicing at home in cold so intense "we stuck our hands in refrigerators to warm 'em up!"

The annual Refrigerator Bowl games for smaller colleges is named for Evansville's three big refrigerator manufacturing plants. The weather generally is mild at this time.

Jacksonville, defeated once in 10 starts, played two games in rain but is unfamiliar with severe weather.

Jacksonville, which has two backfields — one fast and the other beefy — was second nationally among smaller colleges in rushing. It averaged 340.7 yards in 10 games, with a total offensive average of 366.4.

Rhode Island set a Yankee Conference defensive record, holding opponents to an average of 140.2 yards a game. Its line averages 197 pounds to Jcksonville's 190.

Most of the Jacksonville backs are bigger than the Rams' but Eddie DiSimone, a left halfback converted from a fullback, weighs 193 pounds. He led the Yankee Conference in scoring, rushing and total offense and averaged 5.1 yards a carry for the season.

THE FINAL ANSWER

NEW YORK (AP)—The publishers of Grantland Rice's autobiography "The Tumult and the Shouting," received many letters requesting more of Granny's verse. The requests have been answered with a new book "The Final Answer and Other Poems," published by A. S. Barnes. John Kieran selected the poems and wrote the foreword to the collection.

Waterproof, Vidalia Divide Double Bill

VIDALIA, La., Dec. 3 (Special) —Waterproof and Vidalia split a basketball card at Waterproof Thursday night with the Waterproof girls and the Vidalia boys emerging on top.

Berra 'Most Valuable' Of American Loop Aces

By JOE REICHLER

CHICAGO, Dec. 4 (AP) — Yogi Berra last season hit the biggest .272 in American League history.

That was decided yesterday by the Baseball Writers' Association of America which voted the great New York Yankee catcher the junior circuit's most valuable player of 1955 — even though 34 other regulars computed a higher batting average.

It was the third time Berra had won this coveted award, a feat accomplished only by three others—Joe DiMaggio, Jimmy Foxx and Stan Musial.

Second to Berra was Kaline, the fine young outfielder of the Tigers who compiled 201 points. Smith was third with an even 200. Ted Williams, the great Boston Red Sox slugger, was fourth, 143 points and center field star Mickey Mantle of the Yankees was fifth with 113.

Strength in third place votes was all that decided the verdict in Berra's favor. The 30 - year-old Yankee received six third place votes, counting for 48 points, to only three third place votes for Kaline (18 points) and none for Smith. The voting system is based on 14 points for a first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, and so down to one point for 10th. The committee was composed of 24 members, three from each American League city.

Statistically, Berra did not have one of his better years. His .272 batting average was well below his lifetime .293 figure. But his hits drove in 108 runs and many of them won important ball games. The most vital, perhaps, was the home run with two out in the ninth inning that broke a 3-3 tie with Boston last September and put the Yankees in first place to stay.

Berra won his first most valuable player award in 1951, when he beat out Ned Garver of the St. Louis Browns, 184 to 157. He copped again in 1954, topping Larry Doby of Cleveland, 230 to 210, he is the first Yankee to repeat in successive years. Foxx did it with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1932-33; Hal Newhouser of the Tigers did it in 1944-45.

Foxx also won in 1938 to become the first three - timer. DiMaggio's three awards were well spaced—in 1939, 41 and 47. Musial, only three - time winner in the N. L., racked them up in 1954, 46 and 48.

Louisiana Tech Lands 7 All-Gulf Stars

Yocom Represents Northeast Indians On Second Eleven

By JAMES SAGGUS
The Associated Press

Louisiana Tech placed an unprecedented seven players today on the All-Gulf States Conference football team selected for The Associated Press by the GSC coaches.

Two of the three unanimous selections were from Tech, which landed five spots in the line and two in the backfield. Two other Tech players took second team berths.

Unanimous selections from Tech were end Charles Anderson and tackle Tommy Hinton. Other Tech linemen on the first team were tackle Pat Hinton, older brother of Tommy, guard Bobby Stone and center Charles Glover.

Tech backs selected were quarterback Milford Andrews and halfback Russell Rainbolt.

Rounding out the first team were end Huey Husser of Southeastern Louisiana, the third player selected unanimously, guard James Hebert of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, halfback Gene Southern of Louisina College and fullback Jesse Castete of McNeese State.

The line features versatility and players combine size and speed. The Hinton brothers are the heavyweights at 225 pounds, but are mobile for their size. Husser was one of the GSC top pass receivers, while Anderson was a capable receiver and an outstanding defensive performer with his fumble recoveries and blocking of punts. Glover excelled as a linebacker and blocker. Hebert and Stone were equally good on tackling and running interference.

Andrews led the GSC in passing with 39 completions for 687 yards. Southern was the top rusher and pass receiver, with 344 yards as a receiver and 638 as a runner. Rainbolt had 615 yards rushing and Castete 577.

Hebert was all-conference in 1952 and 1954, missing 1953 with injuries. Castete and Husser were on the first team last year.

Named to the second team were Louis Roth of SLI at fullback, James McNew of Northwestern and A. L. Williams of Tech at halfbacks, Harold (Sonny) Clark of Louisiana College at quarterback, Herb Fondren of SLI and Billy White of Tech at ends, Don Peroyea of Southeastern and Francis Yocom of Northeast State at tackles, Rudie Soileau of McNeese and Dan Fournet of Southeastern at guards, and James Douglas of Louisiana College at center.

Roth was the hard-luck player in the voting. He got six first team votes, but they were split between halfback and fullback. McNew got votes at quarterback and halfback, but would not have made the first team if they had been concentrated.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4 (AP) — Yogi Berra last season hit the biggest .272 in American League history.

That was decided yesterday by the Baseball Writers' Association of America which voted the great New York Yankee catcher the junior circuit's most valuable player of 1955 — even though 34 other regulars computed a higher batting average.

It was the third time Berra had won this coveted award, a feat accomplished only by three others—Joe DiMaggio, Jimmy Foxx and Stan Musial.

Second to Berra was Kaline, the fine young outfielder of the Tigers who compiled 201 points. Smith was third with an even 200. Ted Williams, the great Boston Red Sox slugger, was fourth, 143 points and center field star Mickey Mantle of the Yankees was fifth with 113.

Strength in third place votes was all that decided the verdict in Berra's favor. The 30 - year-old Yankee received six third place votes, counting for 48 points, to only three third place votes for Kaline (18 points) and none for Smith. The voting system is based on 14 points for a first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, and so down to one point for 10th. The committee was composed of 24 members, three from each American League city.

Statistically, Berra did not have one of his better years. His .272 batting average was well below his lifetime .293 figure. But his hits drove in 108 runs and many of them won important ball games. The most vital, perhaps, was the home run with two out in the ninth inning that broke a 3-3 tie with Boston last September and put the Yankees in first place to stay.

Berra won his first most valuable player award in 1951, when he beat out Ned Garver of the St. Louis Browns, 184 to 157. He copped again in 1954, topping Larry Doby of Cleveland, 230 to 210, he is the first Yankee to repeat in successive years. Foxx did it with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1932-33; Hal Newhouser of the Tigers did it in 1944-45.

Foxx also won in 1938 to become the first three - timer. DiMaggio's three awards were well spaced—in 1939, 41 and 47. Musial, only three - time winner in the N. L., racked them up in 1954, 46 and 48.

Houston Grabs 3 Late Touchdowns To Sack Wyoming

HOUSTON, Dec. 3 (AP) — The University of Houston turned a blocked punt, a fumble recovery and Kennie Stegall's 69 - yard punt return into three fourth - period touchdowns today to complete its conquest of Sun Bowl football teams by defeating Wyoming, 26-14.

The quick turn of events broke a 7-7 deadlock the teams had ground out in the first half on a slippery field.

A crowd of 10,000 saw Houston end its season with a 6-4 record that also included a 7-0 victory over Texas Tech, Wyoming's Jan. 2 opponent in the El Paso Sun Bowl. Wyoming finished its regular campaign at 7-3.

Fullback Curley Johnson broke the 7-7 tie by plunging over from the two after guard Jim Blackston had blocked a Wyoming punt and covered on the eight on the first play of the final period.

Seconds later guard Rod Carpenter covered a fumble on the Wyoming 23 and Stegall, a senior halfback, carried over from the six.

On his long punt return, Stegall was chased out of bounds on the Wyoming 13 by wingback Butch Wilso. A penalty shoved the Cougars back, but quarterback Dimmy Dicket passed 16 yards to fullback Don Flynn for the touchdown and a 26-7 score.

Wyoming took the opening kickoff and moved 80 yards for a touchdown, with fullback Ova Stapleton powering over from the one. Houston matched this with a 71-yard second period drive that saw fullback Donnie Caraway ram over from the one.

In the closing minutes Wyoming moved 64 yards in nine plays, with tailback Pete Kutches scoring from the eight.

Score by quarters:

Wyoming	7	0	0	7	—14
Houston	0	7	9	10	—26

Wyoming scoring — touchdowns: Stapleton, (1, plunge), Kutches (8, run). Conversions: Mastrogiovanni, Kutches.

Rhode Island May Get Weather Nod For Refrigerator

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 3 (AP)—Rhode Island's Rams, who have been practicing in cold and snow, may have the weather advantage over Jacksonville State of Alabama tomorrow in the Refrigerator Bowl.

Chilly rain and falling temperatures were in prospect after the teams arrived last night in a warm drizzle.

Coach Hal Kopp of Rhode Island said his unbeaten but twice-tied Rams had been practicing at home in cold so intense "we stuck our hands in refrigerators to warm 'em up!"

The annual Refrigerator Bowl games for smaller colleges is named for Evansville's three big refrigerator manufacturing plants. The weather generally is mild at this time.

Jacksonville, defeated once in 10 starts, played two games in rain but is unfamiliar with severe weather.

Jacksonville, which has two backfields — one fast and the other beefy — was second nationally among smaller colleges in rushing. It averaged 340.7 yards in 10 games, with a total offensive average of 366.4.

Rhode Island set a Yankee Conference defensive record, holding opponents to an average of 140.2 yards a game. Its line averages 197 pounds to Jcksonville's 190.

Most of the Jacksonville backs are bigger than the Rams' but Eddie DiSimone, a left halfback converted from a fullback, weighs 193 pounds. He led the Yankee Conference in scoring, rushing and total offense and averaged 5.1 yards a carry for the season.

THE FINAL ANSWER

NEW YORK (AP)—The publishers of Grantland Rice's autobiography "The Tumult and the Shouting," received many letters requesting more of Granny's verse. The requests have been answered with a new book "The Final Answer and Other Poems," published by A. S. Barnes. John Kieran selected the poems and wrote the foreword to the collection.

Curtis Brothers Meet Roberts, Laye Tuesday

The popular Curtis brothers, Jack and George, return to Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night in a tag feature to take on Red Roberts and Charley Laye, a formidable relay duo.

With West Monroe's Bill Barney back at his familiar referee post, and regular admission prices prevailing, the feature will have a 90-minute time limit, and require two-of-three falls to win. Two short preliminaries between opposing main-eventers complete the card, with each having a ten-minute time limit and requiring but one fall to win.

Nothing need be said about Jack and George, for they are well-known in the Twin-Cities, as individuals and especially as a tag team. No one appearing here has ever surpassed their popularity at the Arena, either in a solo or relay match.

Both Roberts and Laye are well-known villains, and during the past few weeks, Charley has been alternating with Roberts and Marie Calente as a relay partner. The team of Roberts and Laye, since each are mean and husky as well as villainous, has proved more of a problem to opponents.

The Curtis brothers will have their work cut out for them Tuesday when they encounter the Roberts-Laye team.

Southwest Again Has Texas Tech's Membership Bid

DALLAS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Expansion of the Southwest Conference to include Texas Tech is due to come up at the winter meeting of the conference faculty committee here next weekend.

Softening of probationary action against Texas A. and M. for violating the recruiting rules and tightening of eligibility rules are other points high on the agenda for the Friday and Saturday session of the conference fathers.

Texas Tech has long been an applicant for membership and has been voted uopn several times. Thus far it has not received the necessary five votes.

But Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Chrsitian University who is sponsoring Tech's application this time, said prospects were pretty good that the big plains college would finally make the grade. He thought Tech would have the vote of T.C.U., Texas, Baylor and Arkansas and if it could snare one from among Texas A. and M., Rice and Southern Methodist would be "in."

Texas A. and M., now on 2-year probation for allegedly offering athletes more than the rules allowed, is forbidden to play in a post-season game in any sport. On the agenda for the meeting here is the question of lifting the ban as regards all sports other than football.

A proposal to make athletes or prospective athletes who knowingly violate conference regulations ineligible at all the member schools will be considered. At this time the conference can impose such a penalty but it is not mandatory. The proposal would make it mandatory.

Another point to be considered is that which calls for 90-day notice prior to assessment of a penalty against any school.

Rookie To St. Louis

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors today sold Bob Schafer, rookie from Villanova University, to the St. Louis Hawks in the National Basketball Association for an undisclosed sum of cash. Schafer left by plane this afternoon to join his new club at Rochester.

Eddie Gottlieb, owner of the Warriors said the sale of Schafer brought his league leading eastern division squad to within the N. B. A. player limit of 10 players.

Schafer scored 31 points in 8 minutes of action for the Warriors in 12 games.

Duke Barely Gets 6 To 0 Win Over Rugged Tar Heels

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 3 (AP)—An unheralded sophomore halfback, Oliver Rudy, raced 35 yards for the only touchdown today as Duke gained a 6-0 edge over a rugged North Carolina team that fought the Blue Devils to a standoff in a nationally televised football game.

A crowd of 34,000 saw Duke move past the North Carolina's 20-yard line three times, but the Tar Heel defense held on each occasion. North Carolina, trying to salvage something from a pitiful season of three wins and six losses, made a battle of it and had Duke hanging on at the finish.

In the closing minutes, Tar Heel tackle Jack Maultsby recovered a fumble by quarterback Dale Boyd on the Blue Devils' 18. However, Duke dug in and threw the Tar Heels back to the 26 after they had moved to the 12.

Duke drove once to the Tar Heels' two, again to the 25, 31, 12, and 18—only to see its arch neighborhood rival make a great defensive stand each time. Except for the closing minutes, North Carolina could not offer a serious scoring threat, and was uable to move past midfield during the first half.

In the third period, Duke quarterback Sonny Jurgensen ran back an intercepted pass 37 yards for a touchdown, but a clipping penalty nullified the score.

Score qy quarters:

Duke	0	8	0	0	—6

Duke scoring: Touchdown—Rudy (35, run).

RED WINGS HAVE YOUTH

Searching Takes Gallorette Race On Pimlico Oval

BALTIMORE, Dec. 3 (AP) — Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Searching brought the curtain down on Maryland's 1955 turf season at Pimlico today when she galloped to an easy victory in the $15,000 - added Gallorette Stakes, featured seventh race.

The heavy favorite at only 40 cents on a dollar, Searching went to the front early and without difficulty and then slowly eased away to win by about three lengths from Cain Hoy stable's Brightest Star, who was three parts of a length to the good of Happy Hill farm's June Fete.

Turning a mile and a furlong in 1.53 3-5, Searching, who was purchased for only $15,000 by trainer Hirsch Jacobs last June, earned a winner's share of $10,975 and sent her earnings for her New York owner above the $80,000 mark.

The Maryland Jockey Club management was booed long and loud by the large getaway crowd of 22,958 when a decision to cancel show betting on the seven - horse Gallorette field was announced after betting had begun and $12 was bet in the show pool. The $12 was refunded and show betting closed to avoid a minus pool.

Conn McCreary, who flew from Miami to ride Searching, was in no hurry with the 3-year-old daughter of War Admiral and Big Hurry during the early furlongs. He made his move leaving the three - quarter marker and had the lead at the half-mile post. His mount was not threatened in the final three - furlongs and had something left at the finish.

Shipped from New York especially for the race, Cain Hoy stable's Brightest Star ran the best race thus far of her career in coming from off the pace to be second.

California Run To Trackmaster For $18.80 Pay

SAN BRUNO, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Trackmaster, coming up from seventh place in the stretch, won the $34,750 California Derby today, a length and a half ahead of Pay Section.

Trackmaster, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seley, raced in the middle of the 13-horse field to the second turn and then responded to vigorous handling by jockey Don Lewis.

Fabulous Vegas was third.

The winner did the mile and a furlong in 1:52 1-5 over a muddy track, returning $18.80, $9.60 and $5.80.

Lewis, a 17-year-old apprentice, remarked that "I thought he would run a good race but I really wasn't sure we could win this one."

L. S. U. Handing Dietzel New Contract, Pay Boost

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Louisiana State University today okayed a new four-year contract for football coach Paul Dietzel, giving him $14,000 a year—a $1,000 raise.

The four-year pact will replace the existing three-year contract.

The board of supervisors authorized L.S.U. president Troy H. Middleton to execute new contracts with Dietzel and his assistants.

Dietzel, the young, former Army assistant, came to Tigertown a year ago after the board shook up its athletic program, ousting Athletic director T. P. Heard and coach Gus Tinsley.

While Dietzel managed only a 3-5-2 record his first season, the all-out performance of his Tigers, playing to the hilt every minute, drew the largest L.S.U. crowds in years.

Dietzel's squad managed to beat Kentucky, Mississippi State and Arkansas, and tied traditional for Tulane in the final game.

The coach had a three-year contract at $13,000, L.S.U. officials said. It was replaced with the new contract dating from Feb. 1, 1956, to Jan. 31, 1960 at $14,000 yearly.

Other contracts authorized, all for one year:

Chief assistant Charles McClendon $8,500, unchanged.

Line coach William Peterson, $7,300, with $300 raise.

Robert Erskine $6,600 plus room and board.

PERFECT BOOTING

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—When Tulane upset Auburn 27-13, a punt by quarterback Johnny Caruso was one item that long will be remembered. Caruso spiraled a 34-yard kick that just missed the red goal-line flag. It went out of bounds on the one-foot line.

'Bait Advertising' Gets Tongue-Lashing By FTC

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today denounced "bait advertising" as a Federal Trade Commission today denounced "bait advertising" as a menace to the public's pocketbook.

It was understood that the statement was the first of several in which the commission would pinpoint trade practices which it considers especially undesirable.

Bait advertising is the practice of advertising a cheap piece of merchandise with the idea of luring the customer into buying a higher priced article. The FTC regularly orders firms it discovers using such advertising to stop. If they violate the order they are subject to a $5,000 per day penalty.

The FTC said many poor people are victimized by the practice, including old folk living on small pensions. It cited the recent case of a New Jersey widow who was baited by a $29.50 sewing machine.

"She reasoned that she could eke out this amount from her $80-a-month income and, in the long run, pay for it by making her own clothes," the statement said.

"Seeing the machine advertised in a local paper, she telephoned the appliance store selling it. A salesman arrived at her home, without the 'bargain' machine the store was out of them at the moment—but he asked for and got a $10 deposit. Several days later, he brought her the advertised machine. The widow tried to sew on it, but she testified she couldn't use it because 'it jumped all over the table.'

"The salesman, of course, had another machine with him for $169 and the down payment would, by happy coincidence, amount to just $29.50. Cheap at the price, too, he confided, because there was a scratch on it. Bewildered she paid the remaining $19.50.

"The ensuing payments were too steep for her and her machine was taken away. There was no refund of the money she had paid, and no homemade clothes to repay her over the long run. Bait advertising had claimed another victim."

The FTC said it got an order to the firm involved to stop the practice.

The agency said bait advertising cannot be spotted by any single warning sign but that a combination of the following should put a buyer on guard:

"1. A product priced at a startlingly lower price than that charged for the same kind of product at other stores.

"2. Reluctance on the part of salesmen to show the advertised product.

"3. Disparagement of the advertised product, and insistence by the salesman on showing more expensive types.

"4. Explanation that the advertised product on hand is only a floor sample and that long delay will be encountered in getting others like it.

Long Backs Hike In Sugar Prices, Cuts For Cotton

HOUMA, Dec. 3 (Special)—Earl K. Long said here Saturday the price of sugar has not kept pace with other commodities and an increase would provide a solution to the present economic and labor problems of the sugar industry.

"Sugar is the only thing I know of that hasn't tripled in price in the last few years" Long said. "You have to pay more for meat, for flour, for fruit, for shoes—for just about everything you buy. I can remember when I was a boy going to the grocery and buying sugar for just about the same price you pay now. It was ten pounds for a dollar and maybe 11 pounds on Saturdays. You can sometimes get five pounds for 39 cents now.

"If you raised the price about two cents a pound the sugar people would get more money for their crop and they could pay better wages all along the line."

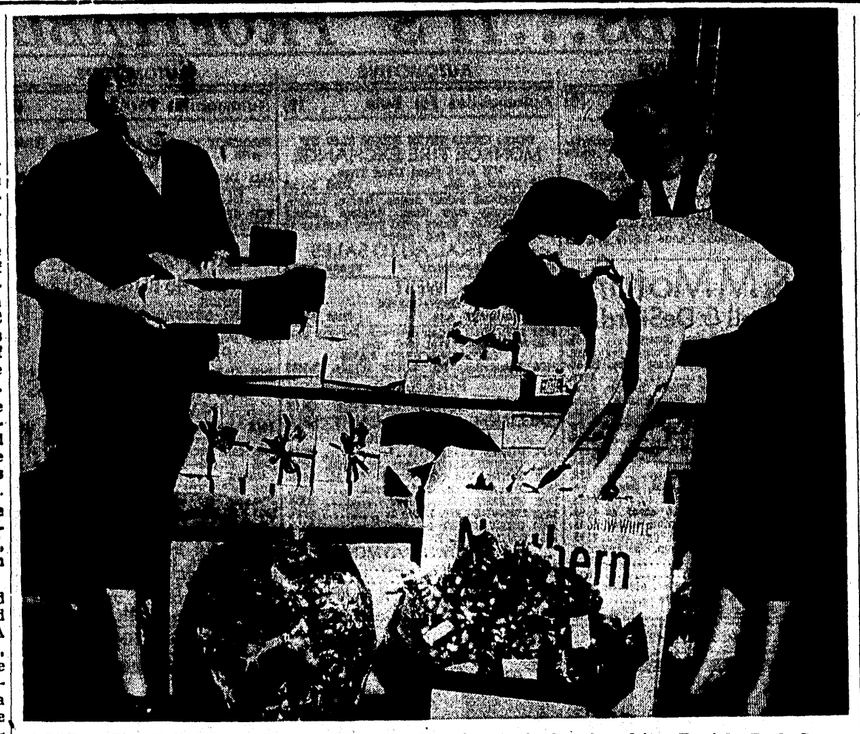

Long said the sugar cane acreage should have been increased instead of being cut 14 per cent as has been announced. "Thats one of the few commodities we don't produce enough of" he said. He added he believed in helping out other countries from which cane is imported, but that such help should not work to the disadvantage of this country.

Cotton, on the contrary, has been almost priced out of the market, he said. If prices were lower cotton would be in a more competitive position with synthetics and part of the cut they have made into the cotton market could be regained.

Speaking to a crowd on the courthouse square, Long said Louisiana is the richest state in the union. "What we need is a governor with a heart and a will to see that our natural resources and our great God-given advantages are used for the benefit of all the people of this state and not for just a few" he said.

The former governor now seeking another term spoke Saturday at White Castle and Bellerose before the meeting in Houma. Rallies were also scheduled for Raceland Goldenmeadow and Grand Isle.

Candidates speaking will be Long, Lether E. Frazar, for lieutenant governor; Sidney McCrory, for commissioner of agriculture; Jack Gremillion, for attorney general; Bill Dodd, for state auditor, and Lucille May Grace, for register of state lands.

lems in a halfhearted way. We are out wholeheartedly to conserve and expand the values of American life for all of our people."

"My name will go into nomination by the New York delegation," Harriman said. He amplified that it would not be as a favorite son.

Asked about the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson, 1952 nominee who is the only avowed candidate so far this year, Harriman said:

"It is too early to make up our minds on candidates. What's important now is get the party together and decide what are the issues."

Harriman said his name will not be entered in any preferential primaries. Stevenson, who spoke to the Young Democrats yesterday, had announced he would enter the Minnesota primary and perhaps Florida.

The New York governor declined to get into a party dispute over whether Democrats will have a "moderate" or "progressive" program.

Angola Convict Missing At Farm

ANGOLA, La., Dec. 3 (AP)—State prison authorities tonight were searching cane fields for a convict who slipped away from a cutting crew today.

Warden Maurice Sigler, who said guards were positive the fugitive had not passed boundaries of the farm, identified the missing man as Joseph Hashka, serving 18 months from Terrebonne Parish for simple burglary. Sigler said Hashka was a native of Vancouver, British Columbia, and had been at Angola only about a month.

Series Of Traffic Mishaps Reported In Monroe Area

Monroe police Saturday reported 12 automoble accidents, mostly minor, and caused by slippery pavement and rain. Only one person suffered probable serious injuries.

Police said that Lynn Rogers, 52, Negro, of 1306½ Washington, received bruises and cuts about the head at 6 p.m. when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Lois Akin Waldron, of Edgewater Gardens, Monroe. Rogers was said to have been walking about eight feet from the curb in the street when hit by Mrs. Waldron, who told police she did not see Rogers.

He was taken by Mulhearn ambulance to Charity hospital. The extent of his injuries could not be learned last night.

Two of the accidents were termed by police as hit-and-run. Johnie Mathew, 34, of 3704 Pippin, Monroe, was driving south on Powell about 5:40 p.m. when he was struck by a car going north which did not stop. No one was reported injured and damage to Mathew's car was reported as not heavy.

The other hit - and - run accident, police said, occurred when Lizzie Lee Staten, 30, 2109, DeSiard, was driving south on North Third and was struck by another car whose driver drove through the safety zone and did not stop.

Nine other minor accidents were reported, from which no serious injuries resulted, police said. No arrests had been made in the accident cases late last night.

Officers investigating the accidents were J. Standard, C. W. Hand, G. E. Cowart and Joe Battaglia.

Humphrey Asserts

Benson's sincerity," Humphrey said, "Obviously something has suddenly changed his mind. Perhaps it is a rude awakening to the fact there is an election next year, and farmers are after his scalp."

The senator said Benson is circulating a proposed administration bill that will be sent to the new session of Congress. This draft bill, Humphrey said, would "write Benson a blank check with no standards as to how much land should be taken from production . . . how much . . . farmers should receive."

Under it, Humphrey said, "there could be no effective program at all, or one so extreme it would create shortages instead of abundance."

"There could be payments offered so low no farmer would bother to participate, or so high the public would call a halt to the whole idea in disgust," he said.

Humphrey, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he hopes the next session will enact a "soil bank program."

"It is just a realistic way of helping farmers convert production to present requirements, just as we paid the bill for helping industry convert from wartime to peacetime demands," he said.

Rains Cut Short

largest army maneuver since World War Two.

Natchitoches is in the heart of the maneuver area.

Roads leading into Natchitoches were nearly impassable due to heavy rains and large transports. An unusual sight was large army tanks, guns and trucks parked along the road leading to the oldest town in the Louisiana Purchase.

Soldiers mingled with the large crowds and also showed disappointment that the show would not go on.

The Natchitoches festival first got under way in 1926 and has been presented each year since except during the war years. The event was conceived by local citizens and now is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of local merchants.

In 1954 approximately 60,000 people were present for the festival and a larger crowd had been expected this year and even larger preparations had been made for the annual event.

Late tonight the heavy rains were continuing in Natchitoches, but people still milled around on the streets looking at the Christmas lights.

3 Persons Hurt In Collision Of Truck And Auto

WINNSBORO, Dec. 3 (Special)—Three persons were in the Winnsboro hospital tonight after being injured in an automobile accident at the Two Mile Inn south of Wisner at 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Sergeant First Class J. C. Bradshaw, 28, of Fort Sill, Okla., suffered head lacerations. His wife, Mrs. Bessie Bradshaw, 29, also of Fort Sill, received lacerations, bruises, and a fractured right knee. Mrs. Lelo Bradshaw, 49, of Rayville, mother of the sergeant, suffered lacerations, cuts and bruises.

A three - month - old son of the sergeant, J. C. Bradshaw, Jr., was not injured.

According to State Trooper M. E. Barnette, the Bradshaw family was traveling south in a pickup truck and was turning left at the Two Mile Inn when they collided with a car going north.

Driver of the other car was not immediately identified. The state police officer said no charges will be filed, pending completion of investigation.

The two Mrs. Bradshaws and the baby were brought to the hospital by the Mulhearn ambulance and Franklin parish Deputy Sheriff J. D. Busby brought Sgt. Bradshaw to the hospital.

Man Is Charged With Indecent Exposure Here

A Monroe man was arrested by Monroe city police early Saturday night and booked on a charge of indecent exposure in public view.

Troy Hendrix, young father of two children, of Route Four, Bon Air Drive, Monroe, was booked at 7:10 p. m. Saturday following his arrest for indecent exposure before three juvenile girls.

He was released under $750 property bond and ordered to appear in city court on December 5.

The indecent action was alleged to have occurred at 411 Seventh street, Monroe, about 4 p.m. Saturday. The juveniles, who reported the man's actions immediately to police, were aged eight, 11 and 13, police said.

Captain W. A. Corbin, Sgt. J. C. Kelly of the police juvenile division and Patrolman D. L. Barnes made the investigations.

Air Force

away radar because it can be jammed." He pointed out that the Air Force is seeking a maximum ability to jam radar just as urgently as it is trying to develop anti-jamming devices.

Other officers said there is no more need to rule out radar because it can be jammed than to abandon airplanes because they can be shot down or ships because they can be sunk.

Radar is vulnerable to many attacks but jamming techniques follow two basic lines. Approaching planes hurl "chaff" or tinfoil which momentarily blocks radar scopes. Another technique, which was employed in Louisiana, is to carry high-powered transmitters which send out signals on the same frequencies as ground radar and thus foul it.

Officers here and in Louisiana said the successful bomber attacks in the maneuvers were "realistic" exhibitions of what could happen in a local war where airplane strikes are launched in surprise at close range.

Even in Louisiana, where the attackers were familiar with the radar they were jamming, they did not completely knock it out. About 30 per cent of the attacking planes were spotted immediately. However, the radar defense was thin, consisting of a line of mobile units, and once it was penetrated there was no means of tracking planes as there would be in the continental defense system being built.

The jamming was done by three C-54 transports manned by some of the Air Force's best instructors and carrying heavyweight broadcasting equpment.

La Presna Closed Pending Return To Rightful Owners

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 3 (AP) — The newspaper La Prensa was closed today by the government after it appeared for the last time under the direction of the General Confederation of Labor.

After an inventory, it will reappear under the ownership and guidance of Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, from whose family the famed independent newspaper was taken in 1951 by ex-President Juan D. Peron's regime.

CORRECTION

Due to an unfortunate composing room error involving the "B" section of today's Morning World the pictures of an orchestra leader and a church official were transposed. The picture appearing on 18-B above the cutlines captioned "Church Speaker," is that of orchestra leader Ted Weems instead of Fred Forester, state brotherhood secretary, which should have been there. Forester's picture erroneously appears on page 19-B over the headline proclaiming that "Ted Weems here Saturday for League Dance." The World regrets this error which was discovered too late to rectify.

Virginia Assembly

marked, "this is the first step in a process designed to preserve educational opportunities for children throughout Virginia and to avoid enforced mixing of the races in the public schools."

Present in the executive offices as the governor signed the act at 4:37 p.m. were Sen. Garland Gray of Waverly, chairman of the Governor's Commission on Public Education; Delegate Harry B. Davis of Princess Anne, chief patron of the House bill; and House Speaker E. Blackburn Moore of Berryville.

Tuition grants are a vital part of the program worked out by Gray's commission, which spent 14 months developing a plan to prevent enforced racial integration in the public schools. Its proposals were made public in mid-November after their submission to the governor.

Another vital part of the program is a plan of assignment whereby local school boards would assign individual pupils to schools for such reasons as aptitude or health, but not race.

And, as the first step toward later legislative consideration of its school program, the commission recommanded the special session of the Legislature to consider the constitutional convention referendum bill.

Final passage of the bill came this afternoon when the Senate approved a minor amendment to the House measure and then voted 38-1 for adoption. The sole dissenting vote was cast by State Sen. Ted Dalton of Radford, Virginia's Republican national committeeman.

Knowland said he believes a tax reduction will depend a great deal on the government's revenue situation in the next 19 months. He said his own idea is that it would be a mistake to cut taxes if that would lead to deficit financing.

Martin said he considered it "essential to the free world that Eisenhower "should continue."

Asked whether that means he believes the President will be a candidate next year, Martin replied:

"Personally I think yes. I do think so. Personally, my opinion is that he will find, assuming that he will pass the (medical) examinations—which we all believe he will, and hope for—I think he will come to that stage next year where he will simply, for the world's sake—he will have to continue."

Martin said his views were "all on my own," that "we had no discussion at all that would lead me to think that he will."

Well Near Wisner Reported Producer

The M. W. Anderson well No. One, near Wisner, was reported brought in Saturday, it was learned last night, although no official word was released by the drillers, Shell Oil Co.

The well, six miles west of Wisner, was to be perforated Saturday and reports were that the usual "flare" was burning late yesterday afternoon, indicating the well had been brought in. Storage tanks were on the scene, reportedly ready for use.

Murder-Suicide Verdict Ruled In Vicksburg Killings

VICKSBURG, Miss., Dec. 3 (AP)—Warren County Coroner Dave West ruled murder-suicide today in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Webster.

Police found the couple shot to death late yesterday following a telephone call from a neighbor who heard the shooting.

Police Chief Otto Finanw said Webster, 46, apparently shot his 44-year-old wife four times, then turned his gun on himself. The woman was found on a living room couch, he said, and Webster was found in the bathroom with a revolver in his hand.

The couple had been separated two months, he said. Webster, an employe of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, apparently returned to their home to discuss a reconciliation, he said.

Their five children, aged five to 18, were not at home when the shooting occurred, he said.

U. S. BACKS PHILIPPINES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 — UP— The United States still firmly supports the Philippines for a seat on the United Nations Security Council despite the long deadlock over selecting a successor to Turkey, the State Department announced Saturday. In a special statement, the department said it hopes the Philippines will be elected to the Security Council when voting resumes next week.

'Bait Advertising' Gets Tongue-Lashing By FTC

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)— The Federal Trade Commission today denounced "bait advertising" as a Federal Trade Commission today denounced "bait advertising" as a menace to the public's pocketbook.

It was understood that the statement was the first of several in which the commission would pinpoint trade practices which it considers especially undesirable.

Bait advertising is the practice of advertising a cheap piece of merchandise with the idea of luring the customer into buying a higher priced article. The FTC regularly orders firms it discovers using such advertising to stop. If they violate the order they are subject to a $5,000 per day penalty.

The FTC said many poor people are victimized by the practice, including old folk living on small pensions. It cited the recent case of a New Jersey widow who was baited by a $29.50 sewing machine.

"She reasoned that she could eke out this amount from her $80-a-month income and, in the long run, pay for it by making her own clothes," the statement said.

"Seeing the machine advertised in a local paper, she telephoned the appliance store selling it. A salesman arrived at her home, without the 'bargain' machine the store was out of them at the moment—but he asked for and got a $10 deposit. Several days later, he brought her the advertised machine. The widow tried to sew on it, but she testified she couldn't use it because 'it jumped all over the table.'

"The salesman, of course, had another machine with him for $169 and the down payment would, by happy coincidence, amount to just $29.50. Cheap at the price, too, he confided, because there was a scratch on it. Bewildered she paid the remaining $19.50.

"The ensuing payments were too steep for her and her machine was taken away. There was no refund of the money she had paid, and no homemade clothes to repay her over the long run. Bait advertising had claimed another victim."

The FTC said it got an order to the firm involved to stop the practice.

The agency said bait advertising cannot be spotted by any single warning sign but that a combination of the following should put a buyer on guard:

"1. A product priced at a startlingly lower price than that charged for the same kind of product at other stores.

"2. Reluctance on the part of salesmen to show the advertised product.

"3. Disparagement of the advertised product, and insistence by the salesman on showing more expensive types.

"4. Explanation that the advertised product on hand is only a floor sample and that long delay will be encountered in getting others like it.

Long Backs Hike In Sugar Prices, Cuts For Cotton

HOUMA, Dec. 3 (Special)—Earl K. Long said here Saturday the price of sugar has not kept pace with other commodities and an increase would provide a solution to the present economic and labor problems of the sugar industry.

"Sugar is the only thing I know of that hasn't tripled in price in the last few years" Long said. "You have to pay more for meal, for flour, for fruit, for shoes—for just about everything you buy. I can remember when I was a boy going to the grocery and buying sugar for just about the same price you pay now. It was ten pounds for a dollar and maybe 11 pounds on Saturdays. You can sometimes get five pounds for 39 cents now.

"If you raised the price about two cents a pound the sugar people would get more money for their crop and they could pay better wages all along the line."

Long said the sugar cane acreage should have been increased instead of being cut 14 per cent as has been announced. "Thats one of the few commodities we don't produce enough of" he said. He added he believed in helping out other countries from which cane is imported, but that such help should not work to the disadvantage of this country.

Cotton, on the contrary, has been almost priced out of the market, he said. If prices were lower cotton would be in a more competitive position with synthetics and part of the cut they have made into the cotton market could be regained.

Speaking to a crowd on the courthouse square, Long said Louisiana is the richest state in the union. "What we need is a governor with a heart and a will to see that our natural resources and our great God-given advantages are used for the benefit of all the people of this state and not for just a few" he said.

The former governor now seeking another term spoke Saturday at White Castle and Bellerose before the meeting in Houma. Rallies were also scheduled for Raceland Goldenmeadow and Grand Isle.

Candidates speaking will be Long, Lether E. Frazar, for lieutenant governor; Sidney McCrory, for commissioner of agriculture; Jack Gremillion, for attorney general; Bill Dodd, for state auditor, and Lucille May Grace, for register of state lands.

lems in a halfhearted way. We are out wholeheartedly to conserve and expand the values of American life for all of our people."

"My name will go into nomination by the New York delegation," Harriman said. He amplified that it would not be as a favorite son.

Asked about the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson, 1952 nominee who is the only avowed candidate so far this year, Harriman said:

"It is too early to make up our minds on candidates. What's important now is get the party together and decide what are the issues."

Harriman said his name will not be entered in any preferential primaries. Stevenson, who spoke to the Young Democrats yesterday, had announced he would enter the Minnesota primary and perhaps Florida.

The New York governor declined to get into a party dispute over whether Democrats will have a "moderate" or "progressive" program.

Angola Convict Missing At Farm

Warden Maurice Sigler, who said guards were positive the fugitive had not passed boundaries of the farm, identified the missing man as Joseph Hashka, serving 18 months from Terrebonne Parish for simple burglary. Sigler said Hashka was a native of Vancouver, British Columbia, and had been at Angola only about a month.

Series Of Traffic Mishaps Reported In Monroe Area

Monroe police Saturday reported 12 automoble accidents, mostly minor, and caused by slippery pavement and rain. Only one person suffered probable serious injuries.

Police said that Lynn Rogers, 52, Negro, of 1306½ Washington, received bruises and cuts about the head at 6 p.m. when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Lois Akin Waldron, of Edgewater Gardens, Monroe. Rogers was said to have been walking about eight feet from the curb in the street when hit by Mrs. Waldron, who told police she did not see Rogers.

He was taken by Mulhearn ambulance to Charity hospital. The extent of his injuries could not be learned last night.

Two of the accidents were termed by police as hit-and-run. Johnie Mathew, 34, of 3704 Pippin, Monroe, was driving south on Powell about 5:40 p.m. when he was struck by a car going north which did not stop. No one was reported injured and damage to Mathew's car was reported as not heavy.

The other hit - and - run accident, police said, occurred when Lizzie Lee Staten, 30, 2109, DeSiard, was driving south on North Third and was struck by another car whose driver drove through the safety zone and did not stop.

Nine other minor accidents were reported, from which no serious injuries resulted, police said. No arrests had been made in the accident cases late last night.

Officers investigating the accidents were J. Standard, C. W. Hand, G. E. Cowart and Joe Battaglia.

Benson's sincerity," Humphrey said, "Obviously something has suddenly changed his mind. Perhaps it is a rude awakening to the fact there is an election next year, and farmers are after his scalp."

The senator said Benson is circulating a proposed administration bill that will be sent to the new session of Congress. This draft bill, Humphrey said, would "write Benson a blank check with no standards as to how much land should be taken from production . . . how much . . . farmers should receive."

Under it, Humphrey said, "there could be no effective program at all, or one so extreme it would create shortages instead of abundance."

"There could be payments offered so low no farmer would bother to participate, or so high the public would call a halt to the whole idea in disgust," he said.

Humphrey, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he hopes the next session will enact a "soil bank program."

"It is just a realistic way of helping farmers convert production to present requirements, just as we paid the bill for helping industry convert from wartime to peacetime demands," he said.

Rains Cut Short

largest army maneuver since World War Two.

Natchitoches is in the heart of the maneuver area.

Roads leading into Natchitoches were nearly impassable due to heavy rains and large transports. An unusual sight was large army tanks, guns and trucks parked along the road leading to the oldest town in the Louisiana Purchase.

Soldiers mingled with the large crowds and also showed disappointment that the show would not go on.

The Natchitoches festival first got under way in 1926 and has been presented each year since except during the war years. The event was conceived by local citizens and now is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of local merchants.

In 1954 approximately 60,000 people were present for the festival and a larger crowd had been expected this year and even larger preparations had been made for the annual event.

Late tonight the heavy rains were continuing in Natchitoches, but people still milled around on the streets looking at the Christmas lights.

FERRIDAY, Dec. 3 (Special)— Funeral for Mrs. C. M. Bennett, 70, who died Thursday at a New Orleans hospital, was held Friday afternoon at the Waterproof Methodist church.

Survivors included a daughter, Mrs. Walter Wood, and two grandchildren, Walter Wood, Jr. and Anita Ruth Wood, all of Lions.

3 Persons Hurt In Collision Of Truck And Auto

WINNSBORO, Dec. 3 (Special)— Three persons were in the Winnsboro hospital tonight after being injured in an automobile accident at the Two Mile Inn south of Wisner at 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Sergeant First Class J. C. Bradshaw, 28, of Fort Sill, Okla., suffered head lacerations. His wife, Mrs. Bessie Bradshaw, 29, also of Fort Sill, received lacerations, bruises, and a fractured right knee. Mrs. Lelo Bradshaw, 49, of Rayville, mother of the sergeant, suffered lacerations, cuts and bruises.

A three - month - old son of the sergeant, J. C. Bradshaw, Jr., was not injured.

According to State Trooper M. E. Barnette, the Bradshaw family was traveling south in a pickup truck and was turning left at the Two Mile Inn when they collided with a car going north.

Driver of the other car was not immediately identified. The state police officer said no charges will be filed, pending completion of investigation.

The two Mrs. Bradshaws and the baby were brought to the hospital by the Mulhearn ambulance and Franklin parish Deputy Sheriff J. D. Busby brought Sgt. Bradshaw to the hospital.

Man Is Charged With Indecent Exposure Here

A Monroe man was arrested by Monroe city police early Saturday night and booked on a charge of indecent exposure in public view.

Troy Hendrix, young father of two children, of Route Four, Bon Air Drive, Monroe, was booked at 7:10 p. m. Saturday following his arrest for indecent exposure before three juvenile girls.

He was released under $750 property bond and ordered to appear in city court on December 5.

The indecent action was alleged to have occurred at 411 Seventh street, Monroe, about 4 p.m. Saturday. The juveniles, who reported the man's actions immediately to police, were aged eight, 11 and 13, police said.

Captain W. A. Corbin, Sgt. J. C. Kelly of the police juvenile division and Patrolman D. L. Barnes made the investigations.

Air Force

away radar because it can be jammed." He pointed out that the Air Force is seeking a maximum ability to jam radar just as urgently as it is trying to develop anti-jamming devices.

Other officers said there is no more need to rule out radar because it can be jammed than to abandon airplanes because they can be shot down or ships because they can be sunk.

Radar is vulnerable to many attacks but jamming techniques follow two basic lines. Approaching planes hurl "chaff" or tinfoil which momentarily blocks radar scopes. Another technique, which was employed in Louisiana, is to carry high-powered transmitters which send out signals on the same frequencies as ground radar and thus foul it.

Officers here and in Louisiana said the successful bomber attacks in the maneuvers were "realistic" exhibitions of what could happen in a local war where airplane strikes are launched in surprise at close range.

Even in Louisiana, where the attackers were familiar with the radar they were jamming, they did not completely knock it out. About 30 per cent of the attacking planes were spotted immediately. However, the radar defense was thin, consisting of a line of mobile units, and once it was penetrated there was no means of tracking planes as there would be in the continental defense system being built.

The jamming was done by three C-54 transports manned by some of the Air Force's best instructors and carrying heavyweight broadcasting equpment.

La Presna Closed Pending Return To Rightful Owners

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 3 (AP) — The newspaper La Prensa was closed today by the government after it appeared for the last time under the direction of the General Confederation of Labor.

After an inventory, it will reappear under the ownership and guidance of Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, from whose family the famed independent newspaper was taken in 1951 by ex-President Juan D. Peron's regime.

CORRECTION

Due to an unfortunate composing room error involving the "B" section of today's Morning World the pictures of an orchestra leader and a church official were transposed. The picture appearing on 18-B above the cutlines captioned "Church Speaker," is that of orchestra leader Ted Weems instead of Fred Forester, state brotherhood secretary, which should have been there. Forester's picture erroneously appears on page 19-B over the headline proclaiming that "Ted Weems here Saturday for League Dance." The World regrets this error which was discovered too late to rectify.

Virginia Assembly

marked, "this is the first step in a process designed to preserve educational opportunities for children throughout Virginia and to avoid enforced mixing of the races in the public schools."

Present in the executive offices as the governor signed the act at 4:37 p.m. were Sen. Garland Gray of Waverly, chairman of the Governor's Commission on Public Education; Delegate Harry B. Davis of Princess Anne, chief patron of the House bill; and House Speaker E. Blackburn Moore of Berryville.

Tuition grants are a vital part of the program worked out by Gray's commission, which spent 14 months developing a plan to prevent enforced racial integration in the public schools. Its proposals were made public in mid-November after their submission to the governor.

Another vital part of the program is a plan of assignment whereby local school boards would assign individual pupils to schools for such reasons as aptitude or health, but not race.

And, as the first step toward later legislative consideration of its school program, the commission recommanded the special session of the Legislature to consider the constitutional convention referendum bill.

Final passage of the bill came this afternoon when the Senate approved a minor amendment to the House measure and then voted 38-1 for adoption. The sole dissenting vote was cast by State Sen. Ted Dalton of Radford, Virginia's Republican national committeeman.

Knowland said he believes a tax reduction will depend a great deal on the government's revenue situation in the next 19 months. He said his own idea is that it would be a mistake to cut taxes if that would lead to deficit financing.

Martin said he considered it "essential to the free world that Eisenhower "should continue."

Asked whether that means he believes the President will be a candidate next year, Martin replied:

"Personally I think yes. I do think so. Personally, my opinion is that he will find, assuming that he will pass the (medical) examinations—which we all believe he will, and hope for—I think he will come to that stage next year where he will simply, for the world's sake—he will have to continue."

Martin said his views were "all on my own," that "we had no discussion at all that would lead me to think that he will."

Well Near Wisner Reported Producer

The M. W. Anderson well No. One, near Wisner, was reported brought in Saturday, it was learned last night, although no official word was released by the drillers, Shell Oil Co.

The well, six miles west of Wisner, was to be perforated Saturday and reports were that the usual "flare" was burning late yesterday afternoon, indicating the well had been brought in. Storage tanks were on the scene, reportedly ready for use.

Murder-Suicide Verdict Ruled In Vicksburg Killings

VICKSBURG, Miss., Dec. 3 (AP)— Warren County Coroner Dave West ruled murder-suicide today in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Webster.

Police found the couple shot to death late yesterday following a telephone call from a neighbor who heard the shooting.

Police Chief Otto Finanw said Webster, 46, apparently shot his 44-year-old wife four times, then turned his gun on himself. The woman was found on a living room couch, he said, and Webster was found in the bathroom with a revolver in his hand.

The couple had been separated two months, he said. Webster, an employe of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, apparently returned to their home to discuss a reconciliation, he said.

Their five children, aged five to 18, were not at home when the shooting occurred, he said.

U. S. BACKS PHILIPPINES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 — UP— The United States still firmly supports the Philippines for a seat on the United Nations Security Council despite the long deadlock over selecting a successor to Turkey, the State Department announced Saturday. In a special statement, the department said it hopes the Philippines will be elected to the Security Council when voting resumes next week.

"Red" Glasco Sells '56 FORDS at McCain-Richards

"I've been with McCain-Richards for many years, and I've never seen anything like the trade-in allowances they're giving now on '56 Fords," says Red Glasco, shown above. "I have people telling me every day that they've looked all around—in town and out—and they find that McCain-Richards is not kidding for minute when they say 'we'll go you one better than any deal you can get on any car offered by anyone . . . anywhere.'" Glasco suggests to his friends that they give him a personal call and let him tell them just how high a trade they'll get toward the purchase of a '56 Ford, and he reminds everyone that they can buy a '56 Ford now and make first payment February 1.

Two Fertile Northeast Louisiana Delta Farms Will Be Sold December 10, 1955 To Settle An Estate

One farm consisting of 1174.4 acres (approximately) known as Gossyppia Plantation in East Carroll Parish, Lake Providence, La., has 700 acres of better-than-average seeded pastures, 400 acres of cultivatable land, a base cotton acreage of 142 for 1956, and a high yielding 30-year-old 50-acre Stuart Pecan grove. This is in the front yard of a two-story brick ante-bellum home built in 1856 with slave labor, which is now in excellent repair.

This home and farm face the Mississippi River Levee in this area. Concrete highway divides property.

The other farm, known as Hollywood Plantation, consisting of 721 acres, all open, lies along beautiful Lake Providence within a mile of Lake Providence, La. All land is cultivatable, and the farm has a base cotton acreage of 293.4 for 1956.

Interested parties will contact the law firm of McIntosh, Hester and Gilfoil, P. O. Box 468, Lake Providence, La. for any further information.

Sealed bids will be received until 2:00 P.M., December 10, 1955, in care of the above law firm.

Terms can be arranged for those furnishing proper references.

HUDSON LANE

HERE'S a reasonably priced and well located home on the northside with that "elusive" separate dining room as well as these features: recently completely re-modeled; a pleasing shade of green asbestos siding; 2 large bedrooms (one's 18x11 with double closets); has roomy 13x24 living room; and a host of other features that we'll gladly show today! It's on a corner lot, and priced at only $10,500.

NORTH 9th (W. M.)

IF YOU'VE ever enjoyed the soothing sound of wind blowing pine trees, that could be just one of the reasons you'd "fall" for this thrilling 2 bedroom and den home! It's "snuggled" under some tremendous size pines on a 167' frontage lot (corner at that) in a wonderful location. Among the 1316 sq. feet of living area are: gleaming oak floors; 2 spacious bedrooms (both with 2 sliding door closets;) a well-proportioned 14x21 living room with a real fireplace and beautiful drapes; has a relaxing pine-paneled 14x14 den; spacious 20x10 kitchen; a distinctive tile bath; double garage and a "host" of other features that we'll gladly show today! $2650 down on FHA makes the move, or only $750 down plus closing costs on a G. I. loan.

AVANT

IT'S JUST occasionally that you'll happen across a home such as is this discriminating brick! Among its roomy 2,046 sq. feet of living area you'll thrill to such features as: a 14x22' living room; a 12x17' kitchen with tile counter tops, pantry, stove hood and breakfast area; its 3 bedrooms which are: 13x15, 13x14, and 14x20 (all with sliding door closets and one with a cedar closet); 2 tile baths (one with tub, the other with glass-door shower; it's large screened breezeway; its circulating hot water system; its central heating, its hardwood floors and last, but not least, its tree-studded 125'x150' lot! Here's convincing value and we'll gladly show today!

HALSELL DRIVE

IT'S OUT and away from the noises of city living, but yet it's only a 5 minute drive to downtown West Monroe! Here's a "charmer" that's only a year old with these features: 2 nice size bedrooms; and a paneled den; a unique paneled living room; a well-arranged kitchen with built-in breakfast nook and nice cabinet space; a 12x12 screened porch overlooking the shaded back yard; copper plumbing throughout; carport with storage and "to boot" there's a well-constructed "hobby shop" in the rear of the lot! Speaking of lots . . . this one's 117x180' and literally "loaded" with stately oaks! $2150 down makes the move on FHA financing!

JONESBORO ROAD

TALK ABOUT good value! How's this? 2,090 sq. feet of living area (plus 500 in the attached garage) with 3 acres of pine tree covered land directly across the street from the new Woodland School! The price? A reasonable $16,400 and look what it buys: 3 spacious bedroom: (the master bedroom is 19x23 with a real wood-burning fireplace); the interior is completely pine - paneled throughout; has a spacious 18x18 kitchen; it's brick veneer with aluminum frame windows; the living room's 17x27'; has a 12x17 screened porch that by enclosing one wall would convert to a den! It's already financed on an FHA loan and we'll gladly show today!

ARKANSAS ROAD

UNCONSCIOUSLY, or consciously, you've probably admired this "show place" in the past while driving past! And for good reasons, for its 1694 sq. feet of living area contain many an exciting feature! Such as: 3 unusually large bedrooms; a spacious 25x14 living room; a well-arranged 10x20 kitchen with washer plumbing, outlet for electric and gas stove; American Kitchen cabinets; the bath is a pleasing pink ceramic tile; the floors are glistening oak; it's only 3 years old; has a huge double attached garage with overhead doors that would make one splendid "rumpus" room with just a little effort! It's all on a 100'x150' corner lot in a wonderful neighborhood and only $2700 down makes the move on an FHA loan or only $750 down on a G. I. loan!

STUART

HERE 'TIS — 2 bedroom white siding home in one of the better northside neighborhoods. For as little as $95, you can move in, and enjoy its comfortable central heating, large closets, its beautiful 75x150 ft. lot. DON'T BE LATE—call now.

SOUTH 5th

YOU'D "PLAY the devil" getting any closer to the Plum Street School, and you'd "Play the devil" finding better value in a 2-bedroom home than this "charmer" is! It possesses: A nice size living room and a separate dining room; the kitchen's well - arranged with nice cabinet space and washer plumbing; has floor furnace; oak floors; nice fenced back yard, and it's reasonably priced at $8,000.

ALABAMA

HERE'S A nifty home with a very nice yard (St. Augustine grass, small trees and completely fenced in yard). Selling for only $7,750 (and $1,350 including closing costs moves you in) with low monthly payments. Consists of: 2 bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. Carport with storage, and nice hardwood floors. Wanta' see?

BELMONT DRIVE

ACHING FOR acreage? Well . . . here's an acre and a quarter in a splendid area of West Monroe with an unusual new brick on it! It consists of: 1470 sq. feet; 3 large bedrooms, all with sliding door closets; a 12x14 paneled den; well arranged kitchen with paneling, Formica cabinet tops, built-in oven and range; has 2 baths (both with built-in dressing tables); the 12x18 living room has a Roman brick fireplace and it's carpeted; has central heating; double garage with large storage room and many another feature that we'll gladly show today! Wanta' see?

RIVERBEND

MAN, Talk about a buy! Here's one priced only $8,950 and it's got three bedrooms (yes, 3), separate dining room, screened back porch; 8x12 kitchen; hardwood floors; attic fan and it's only 3 blocks to school! Not to mention the lot that's extra nice with lots of shubbery, small trees, and rose garden! All you need is $650 (not a penny more) and it's yours! It's vacant, too!

LEE AVE.

IF YOU demand a "lot for your money"—you'd better look at this one today! It's selling for $9,989.50—and it has three big bedrooms (one has cedar closet); living room; separate dining room; 10x13 kitchen; 9x28 front screened porch; 8½-x14 breakfast room; 8x28 enclosed back porch and single detached garage; hardwood floors; attic fan and it's only 1½ blocks to school! Down payment? Just $1,539 (plus closing costs). Got an hour to spare?

DICK TAYLOR

YOU'LL BE glad you called when you see this above—the—average 2 bedroom white siding home with more than 950 sq. ft. of well arranged living area with its sparkling oak floors, fenced yard, and fig trees. Only 5 blocks to school.

ADA

POP'S PRIDE, Mom's joy, children's delight. This charming 3 bedroom home on a well shaded lot adjoining Woodland Grammar School will afford the secluded yet convenient, roomy comfortable living most families want, but seldom find. Priced at only $11,500. Available on G. I. for only 2 per cent down plus closing costs. Its compact, yet roomy kitchen plus dining room will be Mom's joy; it's loaded with other features, such as: central heating, and cork floors! Don't delay—we're available today!

HUDSON LANE

HERE'S a reasonably priced and well located home on the northside with that "elusive" separate dining room as well as these features: recently completely re-modeled; a pleasing shade of green asbestos siding; 2 large bedrooms (one's 18x11 with double closets); has roomy 13x24 living room; and a host of other features that we'll gladly show today! It's on a corner lot, and priced at only $10,500.

NORTH 9th (W. M.)

IF YOU'VE ever enjoyed the soothing sound of wind blowing pine trees, that could be just one of the reasons you'd "fall" for this thrilling 2 bedroom and den home! It's "snuggled" under some tremendous size pines on a 167' frontage lot (corner at that) in a wonderful location. Among the 1316 sq. feet of living area are: gleaming oak floors; 2 spacious bedrooms (both with 2 sliding door closets;) a well-proportioned 14x21 living room with a real fireplace and beautiful drapes; has a relaxing pine-paneled 14x14 den; spacious 20x10 kitchen; a distinctive tile bath; double garage and a "host" of other features that we'll gladly show today! $2650 down on FHA makes the move, or only $750 down plus closing costs on a G. I. loan.

AVANT

IT'S JUST occasionally that you'll happen across a home such as is this discriminating brick! Among its roomy 2,046 sq. feet of living area you'll thrill to such features as: a 14x22' living room; a 12x17' kitchen with tile counter tops, pantry, stove hood and breakfast area; its 3 bedrooms which are: 13x15, 13x14, and 14x20 (all with sliding door closets and one with a cedar closet); 2 tile baths (one with tub, the other with glass-door shower; it's large screened breezeway; its circulating hot water system; its central heating, its hardwood floors and last, but not least, its tree-studded 125'x150' lot! Here's convincing value and we'll gladly show today!

HALSELL DRIVE

IT'S OUT and away from the noises of city living, but yet it's only a 5 minute drive to downtown West Monroe! Here's a "charmer" that's only a year old with these features: 2 nice size bedrooms; and a paneled den; a unique paneled living room; a well-arranged kitchen with built-in breakfast nook and nice cabinet space; a 12x12 screened porch overlooking the shaded back yard; copper plumbing throughout; carport with storage and "to boot" there's a well-constructed "hobby shop" in the rear of the lot! Speaking of lots . . . this one's 117x280' and literally "loaded" with stately oaks! $2150 down makes the move on FHA financing!

JONESBORO ROAD

TALK ABOUT good value! How's this? 2,090 sq. feet of living area (plus 500 in the attached garage) with 3 acres of pine tree covered land directly across the street from the new Woodland School! The price? A reasonable $16,400 and look what it buys: 3 spacious bedrooms (the master bedroom is 19x23 with a real wood-burning fireplace); the interior is completely pine - paneled throughout; has a spacious 18x18 kitchen; it's brick veneer with aluminum frame windows; the living room's 17x27'; has a 12x17 screened porch that by enclosing one wall would convert to a den! It's already financed on an FHA loan and we'll gladly show today!

ARKANSAS ROAD

UNCONSCIOUSLY, or consciously, you've probably admired this "show place" in the past while driving past! And for good reasons, for its 1604 sq. feet of living area contain many an exciting feature! Such as: 3 unusually large bedrooms; a spacious 25x14 living room; a well-arranged 10x20 kitchen with washer plumbing, outlet for electric and gas stove; American Kitchen cabinets; the bath is a pleasing pink ceramic tile; the floors are glistening oak; it's only 3 years old; has a huge double attached garage with overhead doors that would make one splendid "rumpus" room with just a little effort! It's all on a 100'x150' corner lot in a wonderful neighborhood and only $2700 down makes the move on an FHA loan or only $750 down on a G. I. loan!

STUART

HERE 'TIS — 2 bedroom white siding home in one of the better northside neighborhoods. For as little as $950, you can move in, and enjoy its comfortable central heating, large closets, its beautiful 75x150 ft. lot. DON'T BE LATE—call now.

SOUTH 5th

YOU'D "PLAY the devil" getting any closer to the Plum Street School, and you'd "Play the devil" finding better value in a 2-bedroom home than this "charmer" is! It possesses: A nice size living room and a separate dining room; the kitchen's well - arranged with nice cabinet space and washer plumbing; has floor furnace; oak floors; nice fenced back yard, and it's reasonably priced at $8,000.

ALABAMA

HERE'S A nifty home with a very nice yard (St. Augustine grass, small trees and completely fenced in yard). Selling for only $7,750 (and $1,350 including closing costs moves you in) with low monthly payments. Consists of: 2 bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. Carport with storage, and nice hardwood floors. Wanta' see?

BELMONT DRIVE

ACHING FOR acreage? Well . . . here's an acre and a quarter in a splendid area of West Monroe with an unusual new brick on it! It consists of: 1470 sq. feet; 3 large bedrooms, all with sliding door closets; a 12x14 paneled den; well arranged kitchen with paneling, Formica cabinet tops, built-in oven and range; has 2 baths (both with built-in dressing tables); the 12x18 living room has a Roman brick fireplace and it's carpeted; has central heating; double garage with large storage room and many another feature that we'll gladly show today! Wanta' look?

RIVERBEND

MAN, Talk about a buy! Here's one priced only $8,950 and it's got three bedrooms (yes, 3), separate dining room, screened back porch; 8x12 kitchen; hardwood floors; attic fan and it's only 3 blocks to school! Not to mention the lot that's extra nice with lots of shubbery, small trees, and rose garden! All you need is $650 (not a penny more) and it's yours! It's vacant, too!

LEE AVE.

IF YOU demand a "lot for your money"—you'd better look at this one today! It's selling for $9,989.00—and it has three big bedrooms (one has cedar closet); living room; separate dining room; 10x13 kitchen; 9x26 front screened porch; 8½-x14 breakfast room; 8x28 enclosed back porch and single detached garage; hardwood floors; attic fan and it's only 1½ blocks to school! Down payment? Just $1,539 (plus closing costs). Got an hour to spare?

DICK TAYLOR

YOU'LL BE glad you called when you see this above—the—average 2 bedroom white siding home with more than 950 sq. ft. of well arranged living area with its sparkling oak floors, fenced yard, and fig trees. Only 5 blocks to school.

ADA

POP'S PRIDE, Mom's joy, children's delight. This charming 3 bedroom home on a well shaded lot adjoining Woodland Grammar School will afford the secluded yet convenient, roomy comfortable living most families want, but seldom find. Priced at only $11,500. Available on G. I. for only 2 per cent down plus closing costs. Its compact, yet roomy kitchen plus dining room will be Mom's joy; it's loaded with other features, such as: central heating, and cork floors! Don't delay—we're available today!

TOYLAND VISIT

Monroe Morning World
December 4th, 1955

Children of the Twin Cities this week joined others throughout the nation in previewing toylands of 1955. Heralding the holiday season with splendor and creative playthings, this year toylands are an endless source of delight.

ABOVE—Among the younger set making her first visit to Santa's toyshop this year was Lynn Loflin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Jr., who adds charm to a miniature grand piano.

MRS. JEROME W. WEBSTER, JR.

Miss Krough Becomes Bride Of Jerome W. Webster, Jr.

Miss Mary Krough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Krough, of St. Peter, Minn., and Jerome W. Webster, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Webster of this city, were married in a beautiful afternoon ceremony at 3:30 o'clock Friday, November 25, at St. Matthew Catholic Church. Father Michael Hannon performed the double ring nuptials.

Two bouquets adorned the altar and matching baskets of white gladiolas and bronze mums were placed to the side. White cathedral tapers in branched candelabra illuminated the setting.

Mr. Leon Hammonds was organist and accompanied the soloist, J. D. Cameron who sang "Oh! Beautiful Mother" and "Panis Angelicus."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned with a rounded neckline outlined in beads with a drop waist and long tight fitting sleeves which ended in points over the wrist. The waltz - length skirt feaured lace scalloped ruffles. A rhinestone tiara held her fingertip veil which was bordered with lace roses and leaves. Her bouquet was a yellow orchid surrounded by feathered carnations tied with white streamers.

Miss Sharon Anthony was maid of honor. Her gown was of bronze French taffeta with a scooped neckline designed princess style with a ballerina skirt. Her headdress was a braid of gold and bronze velvet trimmed in pearls. She carried a nosegay bouquet of bronze mums centered with yellow pom poms.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Martha Mitchell and Miss Maxine Ritchie. Their dresses were identical to the honor attendant's, fashioned in yellow French taffeta. Their bouquets were of yellow mums centered with bronze pom poms.

James L. Phelps, Jr., served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Robert Krough, Billy McWhorter, Chuck Anders and Bob Miller.

Mrs. Krough chose for her daughter's wedding a beige and bronze brocade satin dress with brown accessories. She wore a feathered bronze mum shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Webster, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a mauve pink crepe dress with matching accessories and a beige orchid trimmed with yellow feathered carnations.

Presiding at the punch service was Mrs. E. L. Ritter. Mrs. J. W. Womack and Mrs. Stanley Hodges served the wedding confection.

Those assisting with courtesies were Mrs. Merle Edwards, Mrs. Victor Schonnover, Miss Essie O'Neil, and Mrs. F. Cloyd.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast and New Orleans, the bride changed to a beige brocade dress with a scooped neckline and beige accessories. Upon return, they will make their home at 3507 Claiborne street, Monroe.

The bride is a graduate of Gustavus Adolphus college in St. Peter, Minn., where she holds membership in Alpha Pi sorority.

Mr. Webster, a graduate of Neville High school, is attending Northeast State College. He is a member of Phi Kappa and Alpha Theta Chi fraternities.

Among the out - of - town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dean and Hershel of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Webster of Tyler, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Krough, Robert and James Krough of St. Peter, Minn.; Miss Sharon Anthony of St. Peter, Minn.

Rehearsal Party

An after rehearsal party was held Wednesday night at Palowsky's on DeSiard road.

Centering the table was a miniature bridal party and white candles. Bronze mums were attractively arranged around the U-shaped table and at points of interest in the dining room.

Guests in addition to the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Krough, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cameron, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McWhorten, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anders, Father Michael Hannon, Miss Maxine Ritchie, Miss Sharon Anthony, James Phelps, Leon Hammond, James Krough and Robert Krough.

Jr. Charity League Presents Ted Weems At Christmas Ball

Christmas festivities will begin on Saturday evening, December 10, when the Junior Charity League presents its annual ball on the roof of the Hotel Frances. The time is nine o'clock.

The ball is one of the most highly anticipated of the year's social events, as it is custom to present annually a nationally known band, and the ballroom is always elegantly and distinctively done in the glittering Christmas colors.

This year the league presents famous Ted Weems, who features with his orchestra, well-known "Red" Ingle, Ted Stanford, Phyllis Webb, The Ted Weems Trio, Hal Skeen and Philbert, Dave Bedal.

Mrs. Theo Terzia, dance chairman, announces that Mrs. Larry Fox, who may be reached at telephone number 2-1089, or any other member of the league may be contacted for tickets. Heading the decorations committee is Mrs. Fred Sartor, chairman, and working with her, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. Ben Marshall, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. Robert Downing, Mrs. Fred Carter, Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, and Mrs. Paul Ransom.

Surprise Party Honors Mrs. D. O. Birken

Mr. D. O. Birken was guest of honor recently at a tea given by Miss Edith Faris in her home on Louise Ann Ave. The party was a surprise and honored Mrs. Birken on her birthday.

Pink and lavender chrysanthemums decorated the reception rooms and also carried out the decorations of the birthday cake which centered the table in the dining room. Miss Faris was assisted by Miss Philomene Goodwin.

The guests included: Mrs. O. Brandao, Mrs. Bessie L. Sciara, Mrs. Thelma S. Cheesman, Mrs. Irene P. Baldwin, Miss Emily R. Braddock, Miss Guylyn B. Womble, Mrs. L. Braddock, Mrs. Marguerite McCoy, Mrs. Alice M. Roye Mrs. Joy Pardue, Mrs. Irvin J. Wolff, Mrs. Alyce H. Jones, Mrs. Allyne Rogers, Miss Sara Scalia, Mrs. Freda Cannon, Mrs. Fay Hales, Mrs. Lil Carter.

Also, Mrs. Lucille Tannehill, Mrs. Annie Dunn, Mrs. Lucille Koch, Miss Robbie Lee Smith, Mrs. Sadie Faust, Mrs. Laura L. Kutz, Mrs. Lucille R. Breard, Mrs. Cora Wilkerson, Mrs. Alta G. Johnson, Mrs. Dot Biggar, Mrs. M. Odom, Mrs. Iris Moore, Mrs. Delia Cameron, Mrs. Lucille McKeithen.

Paintings By LSU Art Faculty On Exhibit

NATCHITOCHES — Northwestern State College's art department will present an exhibition of paintings by the Louisiana State University art faculty beginning Sunday afternoon and lasting for two weeks hence.

According to Orville Hanchey, head of the N. S. C. art department, the paintings will be shown in the art gallery of the Fine Arts building from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. this Sunday, and from Dec. 5 to Dec. 16, during the afternoon from 1 to 3:30 o'clock. Everyone in this area is invited to attend the exhibit.

Artists from L. S. U. whose works will be shown include Caroline Durieux, Kenneth Ervin, Thomas Fern, George Wardlaw and Ralph Wickiser.

Miss Durieux, whose lithographs and color etchings are known throughout the south, will have a dozen paintings and drawings on exhibit.

Valued at around $3,000, a total of 24 paintings and lithographs will be shown during the two - week exhibit, Hanchey said.

Girl Scout News

During Thanksgiving week Troop 45, which didn't get to Pine Wood for the work and play day earlier in the month, spent a fun-filled day at camp with leaders, Mrs. J. H. Kelly and Mrs. R. A. Bamburg in charge. It was fun to have the camp to themselves though the girls would have enjoyed the large crowd on the above - mentioned holiday.

A little sprinkle of rain sent them into the kitchen to cook instead of making their stew over an outdoor fire. Last year's members had had experience in following a kaper chart and were eager to share their knowedge with new members of the troop.

Recently registered in the troop are the following girls, all in the fourth grade at Millsaps school: Judith Bamburg, Elizabeth Ann Bourg, Aundrea Bromley, Delinda Bryan, Mary Clampit, Martha Clampit, Paula Kay Carroway, Angela Darlene Curtis, Kerry M. Dowdy, Elsie Ruth Downey, San Juana Frantom, Sharon Heard, Sheila Heard, Barbara Hoff, Laura Ann Jarvis, Hazel Mae Love, Judy Mahoney, Rita Diane Moore, Paula Lanette Moreland, Charlotte Ruth Terry, Doity Thornton, Betty Anne Wright, Kathleen Goodwin and Jateen Kelly. Mrs. Clell Thornton is serving on the troop committee.

A new intermediate troop made up of sixth - grade girls at Crosley school has completed Tenderfoot rank and the girls, since their investiture, have been working on Second Class rank. Mrs. E. J. Norman and Mrs. Sidney S. Ray are leaders of the troop, with Mrs. Noah Turnipseed, Mrs. L. V. Elee, Mrs. R. J. Gates, Mrs. Bill Norris, and Mrs. Junius Taylor serving on the troop committee, and the following girls registered: Mary Sue Barnes, Frances Gail Blair, Charlotte Daniel, Billie Ruth Dykes, Lyndae Gayle Elee, Joan Diane Branks, Beverly Gates, Pat Godwin, Frances Jean Norman, Kay Norris, Beverly Jean Ray, Peggy Joyce Thompson, Patricia Traylor and Carol Turnipseed.

There was much planning and plotting last week before the program fair yesterday. Plans for exhibits ranged through the program fields from agriculture to out of doors, and included singing, crafts, ceremonies, nature projects, games, first aid, posters, Girl Scouting in action.

Last summer's Wawbansee campers were looking forward to seeing themseves in the camp movie, taken by Mr. and Mrs. Strausser during the encampment in August. We should have interesting details on the program fair for next Sunday's column.

Mrs. Pracher Is Hostess To Miro Book Club

On Nov. 21 the Miro Book club met with Mrs. John Pracher. In the absence of the president, the meeting was called to order by the vice - president, Mrs. D. M. Moore, with all members giving the salute to the flag and the reading of the collect in unison.

Mrs. Thomas Jett reminded the members that Dec. 1 was Safety Drive day and Dec. 15, Bill of Rights Day, asking each one to reread the Bill of Rights.

At this time Mrs. Horace Fluker, chairman of community affairs completed plans for the Miro members to act as hostesses at the Red Cross Canteen.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Jett received reading certificates from the state library for completing twelve books during the year. Mrs. A. S. Tidwell gave an interesting report on "Education." Mrs. Moore introduced Miss Catherine Livaudais, who gave a very outstanding report on the "Louisiana Purchase" by Robert Tallant.

Present at the meeting with the hostess were Mrs. John Filhiol, Jr., Mrs. H. V. Fluker, Mrs. Thomas Jett, Miss Catherine Livaudais, Mrs. J. H. McCormick, Mrs. Neal McHenry, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. R. L. Wood and Mrs. A. S. Tidwell.

PTA GAINS

CHICAGO—Mrs. Rollin Brown, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers Association, predicts that there will be 10,000,000 PTA members in the country by the end of the year. The organzation has been staging a membership drive to reach that goal from last year's membership of 9,409,282. "We may even top our goal of 10,000,000 before the end of the year," Mrs. Brown said.

MRS. DONALD W. COOPER

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Miss Falk, Donald Cooper

Claiming social interest was the marriage of Miss Connie Falk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McCoy, and Donald W. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Cooper of Lake Providence.

The Reverend James F. Horton officiated at the ceremony which was held in the home of the bride's parents on Hilton street, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, November 26.

The vows were said before an improvised altar of white chrysanthemums in tall standards. Similar blossoms were used throughout the house for decorations. Mrs. Wilbur Humphries at the organ and Mrs. Cortland McCoy provided the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace and nylon net. The tight fitting bodice was fashioned of lace which extended in deep points over the very full skirt of net, over taffeta. She wore finger tip mitts of lace and her veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap. She carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid.

Miss Carol Falk was her sister's only attendant. Her floor length frock was of dusty rose satin with tiers of matching net forming the skirt. She carried a nose gay of red roses.

Daniel M. Cooper, Jr., was his brothers best man.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. McCoy, wearing a dress of biege silk shantung with an orchid corsage, was assisted in receiving her guests, by Mrs. Cooper, the mother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Cooper chose an afternoon suit of tan silk with which she wore a small white hat and a corsage of orchids.

The bride's table, in the dining room, was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake. Tall candles, in silver candelabra garlanded with gardenias and smilax, burned at either end.

For her wedding trip to South Louisiana the bride traveled in an early spring costume suit of blue wool. Her accessories were matching and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They are at home in Opeloussas.

Among the out of town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Oliver, Bill Oliver, Mrs. Leata Oliver of Houston, Texas; Mrs. T. C. Doggett, Oakdale; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Humphries, Grayson; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney M. Johnson, ElDorado, Ark.; Lt. and Mrs. L. B. Pettit, Jr., Sherman, Texas; and Mrs. Sara Hulbert, Gulfport, Miss.

Brittain-Williams Vows Said In Morning Ceremony

Of interest here and elsewhere in Louisiana was the wedding, November 25, celebrated in the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Natchitoches of Miss Ann Maria Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Williams, of Natchitoches to Jack Oliver Brittain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Brittain of this city.

The ceremony which took place at 10 o'clock in the morning was performed by Monsignor De Keeuer. Decorating the altar of the church were massive arrangements of dubonnet chrysanthemums, palms and cathedral candles burning in gold candelabra. The family pews were marked with dubonnet bows and sprigs of ivy. Richard and John Williams, brothers of the bride, were altar boys.

Mrs. M. H. Phelps provided a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss Linda Fields of Shreveport, soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wide skirted gown of white tulle over taffeta. The tight fitting bodice was made of tucked tulle alternating with narrow inserts of lace. There was a small bow of the same material at the neck of the Empire style bodice. The full skirt had a cotillion train. Her veil was attached to a small lace cap with seed pearls and sequins at the back and she carried a bouquet of gardenias.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William Ellis, III, of Columbia, Mo. Miss Claudie Williams was her cousin's maid of honor. They wore full length dresses of ice blue taffeta and carried dubonnet satin baskets of chrysanthemums and ivy and in their hair they wore bandeaus of blue velvet.

MRS. JACK OLIVER BRITTAIN

Other attendants were Miss Mary Gunn, Miss Mignonne Yancey, Miss Julie Cusachs, Miss Marion Watson, Miss Rebecca Campbell. Serving as junior bridesmaids, were Miss Mary Jane Grace and Miss Ann DeBlieux. They wore dresses identical to the honor attendants in Royal blue taffeta. Carolyn Williams and Connie Grace, dressed in ice blue taffeta, were the flower girls and Joseph Payne Williams, brother of the bride, ring bearer.

Mr. Brittain was his son's best man. Groomsmen and ushers included William Boles, Miller Frey, Roy Ewing, Luther Moore, Charles Marvin and Bennett Humphries.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Williams received her guests in a dress of light blue peau de soie with matching blue hat and an orchid corsage. She was assisted by Mrs. Brittain, mother of the bridegroom who chose a Dior blue dress of crepe, trimmed with matching folds of satin at the neck. With this she wore a small pink satin hat and a corsage of orchids.

Arrangements of dubonnet chrysanthemums and gladioli were used to decorate the receiving rooms. White blossoms were used in the dining room and the bride's table held the tiered wedding cake and the bride's bouquet for the centerpiece.

Assisting were Mrs. Mallory Grace, Mrs. C. Vernon Cloutier, Mrs. J. H. Williams, Mrs. G. H. Pierson, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Bruce Humphries. Mrs. G. A. Oden, aunts of the groom, Mrs. Sherwood Burgdorf, Mrs. Norman Koonce, Mrs. A. O. Hendricks, Jr., Miss Juanita Barberousse, Miss Lucy Stewart, Miss Loyce Todd, Miss, Lucille Williams, Miss Frances Jouett, Miss Joe Bath, Miss Alice Margaret Phelps. Mrs. Robert DeBlieux registered the guests.

For her wedding trip to Mississippi, the bride travelled in a dress of navy blue tweed, featuring a boat neck of satin folds. Her hat was of navy felt trimmed with bands of satin and her accessories were matching. On their return they will be at home, 1506 Letitia, Baton Rouge, where both attend Louisiana State University.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Oden, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Humphries, Bennett Humphries and Mr. and Mrs. Miller Frey of Monroe and William Boles of Bastrop.

STAY-GRAY RINSE

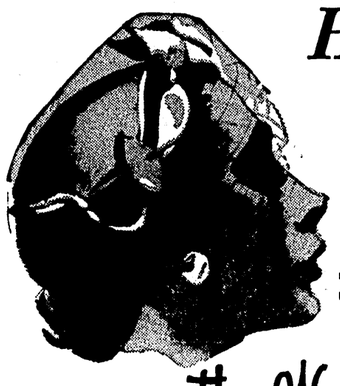

NEW YORK — One cosmetics house is out with a rinse for the gray-haired woman who wants to stay gray. The maker said the temporary hair-coloring removes the yellow tinge from gray and white hair, without adding the artificial blue or purple casts.

Like baked eggs? They're easy to prepare, and nutritious. Just butter a custard cup and then break an egg into the cup. Pour a tablespoon of cream over the egg and set the cup in a pan of hot water. Bake the egg in a moderate oven until it is firm—about 20 minutes or longer. Sprinkle with salt and paprika and serve. Tiny crisp buttered croutons may also be sprinkled on top of the egg.

MR. AND MRS. A. D. SIMS, JR.

Sims-Kelly Vows Said In Calhoun Church

Miss Billie Ann Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kelley, Jr., of Bernice, became the bride of A. D. Sims, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sims of Calhoun, in an impressive double ring ceremony at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed in the Liberty Baptist Church at Calhoun with the Rev. S. W. Tullos officiating.

The couple pledged their vows beneath an arch entwined in greenery and flanked by baskets of yellow mums. Cathedral tapers in branched candelabra illuminated the setting.

Mrs. Artis Scott presented nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. M. A. Porter, soloist, who sang "I Take Thee, Dear," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a becoming blue suit with navy accessories and carried a white Bible topped with a purple orchid surrounded by small white mums.

Miss Sue Roach, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a rust velveteen suit with beige and brown accessories and carried a gold and rust nosegay.

Emerson E. Oaks III was best man. Ushers were Joe Fowler, a cousin of the bride and Faye Burdeaux, Jr.

Mrs. Kelly, the bride's mother, chose for the wedding a beige suit with black accessories and a blue blouse complemented by a corsage of blue carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Bernice High School. Mr. Sims graduated from Calhoun High School.

Among the out - of - town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kelly and family of Bernice; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Porter of Bernice; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson E. Oakes III and son of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. H. Best of Simsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roach of Bernice; Mrs. A. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kelly, Jr., of Bernice; Miss Sue Roach of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fowler of Ruston; Mrs. Artis Scott of Bernice.

Serve heated small cocktail sausages with a cheese dip as an appetizer along with tomato juice.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY PERRY COX

Miss McDuffie Becomes Bride In Afternoon

Simplicity and beauty characterized the wedding of Miss Annirie McDuffie to Henry Perry Cox. The ceremony was solemnized at the College Place Baptist church at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 26 with the Rev. T. Earl Ogg officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John B. McDuffie and the late Mr. McDuffie. The groom is the son of Mrs. Lucy Cox of Montgomery, Ala.

Standards of white gladioli and maiden - hair fern flanked the central altar arrangements of white tapers and jade leaves.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. C. L. Dillingham at the organ and Mrs. Don Hoyem who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. C. K. Crandall. She wore a teal - blue ballerina - length gown with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. JoAnn McDuffie Jernigan of Montgomery, Ala., attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a pink ensemble and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Candlelighters were Miss Ella Pearl Sutton and Miss Polly McDuffie, cousins of the bride.

The ushers were Don Hoyem and Melvin Bradley.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McDuffie chose a mauve lace gown with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a pink lace gown with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with a linen cut-work tablecloth over pink. The lovely centerpiece was an arrangement of chrysanthemums tinted a pale pink flanked by tall silver candelabra holding long pink tapers. The beautiful tiered wedding cake rested on a large mirror surrounded by pink - tinted chrysanthemums and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting with the courtesies were: Mrs. A. G. Hicks, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mrs. C. K. Crandall, Mrs. A. D. Foreman III, Mrs. J. R. Eunson, Mrs. G. W. McDuffie and Mrs. Ivy Smith.

The young couple will make their home in Montgomery, Alabama.

Out - of - town guests were: Mrs. Lucy Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Strickland and Mickey, Mr. George Cox, Mrs. JoAnn McDuffie Jernigan and Pat and Jimmy Jernigan, all from Montgomery, Alabama and Mrs. Annie Willie Hancock of Atlanta and Fort Gaines, Georgia.

There are times when flowers alone provide consolation. The strength in their fragile beauty could only be the gift of God. Our faith renews itself with every blossom. The flowers you send for these hours of greatest loneliness afford a blessed comfort that will be long remembered.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cleve McCoy of this city and Mr. and Mrs. John Kottenbrook of Gibsland. Mr. and Mrs John C. Lawson of Monroe are the great grandparents.

Mr. Sol Cahn departed this week for his home at Miami Beach, Fla., after spending several days in Monroe visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Albert Martin and children, Frank and Louise, of Cocoa Beach, Fla., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wink.

BROILING MADE EASY

A new aluminum foil broiler pan has high sides and a deep-grooved corrugated bottom to catch grease. It may be used several times or thrown away after a particularly messy use. If used over just sprinkle with detergent and run the hot water over it.

Want a gently flattened cookie shape instead of a bumpy irregular drop? Measure out tablespoons of the dough on your greased cookie sheet, then flatten them by stamping with the base of an ordinary tumbler completely covered with a damp cloth.

MISS LINDA LENORE DANIELS

Miss Daniels' Betrothal Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Jules W. Daniels of St. Louis, Mo., formerly of this city, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda Lenore, to Jerry Dent Aston of Monroe.

The announcement was made at a tea given for Miss Daniels by her parents at their home in St. Louis.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Aston of this city.

Miss Daniels and Mr. Aston are both graduates of Neville High School. Miss Daniels is a student at Northeast State College.

MISS WANDA MAE RICHMOND'S engagement to Lynn Wilbur Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Duncan of Compton, Calif., is announced today by her mother, Mrs. Audra Richmond of Bastrop. The wedding will be solemnized in the First Baptist Church of Bastrop on December 31.

Miss Ruth Warren Tells Personnel

FERRIDAY — Miss Ruth Elise Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren of Ferriday, and Louis Clinton Jones, son of Mrs. Palestine S. Jones of Baton Rouge, and the late Louis C. Jones, Sr., announce the attendants for their forthcoming wedding.

Miss Jane Lancaster will be the maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Lindy Lou Noble of Zachary, and Miss Diane Cross, of Ferriday. Best man will be Leslie L. Jones, brother of the groom. Groomsmen will be Gene Duke of Baton Rouge, and Earl Castilaw, of Baton Rouge. Ushers will be Leon Bergueon, Baton Rouge, and Bobby Glenn Harmon, Ferriday. Mrs. F. F. Griffen, pianist of Baker, and Bob Lincoln of Ferriday, will be the soloist.

A reception will be held in the annex of the church immediately following the ceremony.

Plan the Christmas dinner so that the turkey is out of the oven 20 to 30 minutes before serving. This makes the meat juicier, the carving easier.

McCann-Gunn Nuptials Are Pledged In Home Ceremony

On Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, November 23, at 4 o'clock Miss Rita Gunn and Mr. Thomas McCann of this city pledged their nuptial vows in an impressive home ceremony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Moore on Rapids street. The Rev. Earl T. Ogg performed the double ring ceremony.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar of greenery and pink crysanthemums. Pink tapers in cathedral candelabra formed an arch for the bridal party.

Mr. Lamar Moore, brother - in - law of the bride, served as best man.

The bride was wearing a ballerina ceration of blush pink lace over satin, fashioned on empire lines featuring a crushed girdle of the satin. A fitted jacket with self covered buttons and lily point sleeves, joined the bouffant skirt which was banded in blush satin and seed pearls. The shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of starched lace studded in miniature rhinestones and seed pearls. The brides only ornament was a string of pearls with matching ear rings, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible crested with white orchids, and shower streamers tied in lovers knots with white maline.

Mrs. Lamar Moore attended her sister as matron of honor. She was attired in an original creation of mauve silk taffeta embroidered with matching braid, pearls, and rhinestones. Her half hat was of white velour with a matching design of pearls. She carried a bouquet of broze crysanthemums centered with green cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home. The guests were greeted by Mrs. John McCarter.

The table, overlaid with an embroidered linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake surmounted with a bridal couple. The punch bowl and wedding mints were framed with silver candlabra holding pink tapers tied with shower streamers. Mrs. A. R. Altenberg served punch and Mrs. Ruby Richardson and Mrs. Ivy Smith served the wedding cake.

Mrs. Marcus Mapp invited the guests into the spacious den overlooking Bayou DeSiard where the wedding gifts were displayed Mrs. A. C. Breckinridge, Jr., poured at the coffee service placed on a beautifully appointed table. Petit-fors and mints were served by Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Eloy Fominaya, and Mrs. W. B. Buchanan. Mrs. William Rasberry presided over the guest book.

Out - of - town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hall McCann of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Mr. Walter Kitter of Meridian, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Blanchard of Houma; Mrs. A. C. Breckinridge Jr. and son, Doug, of Longview, Tex.

After the reception the couple departed on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride changed to a costume suit of champagne cashmere with matching accessories and an orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. McCann is the daughter of the late Mr. Robert Emmet Gunn and Mrs. Minnie Lee Moore Gunn of Lena, Miss. She is a graduate of Lena High School and B.M.I. Business School in Monroe.

Mr. McCann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann of Columbus, Miss. He graduated from S. D. Lee High School at Columbus and from Mississippi State College at Starkville where he majored in social science and was a member of Theta Xi fraternity. He holds his Masters Degree from Peabody University, Nashville, Tenn. He is now a member of the faculty at Northeast Louisiana State College in Monroe.

The young couple are at home on Delano Drive awaiting the completion of their new home on College Avenue.

Perfume is perfectly proper for office wear, but go easy on the application. Choose a light scent which will not be over-powering to those sitting near you.

MR. AND MRS. JIM MARVIN GRANTHAM

Miss Hall Is Bride Of Jim M. Grantham

Miss Arthuree Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hall, and Jim Marvin Grantham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grantham, were married at 4 o'clock Thanksgiving afternoon, November 24, in the Edgewood Baptist Church. The Rev. O. P. Bazer performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with a massive arrangement of silvered greenery and a myriad of candelabras.

Miss Elaine Hesketh was organist and accompanied Mrs. Jackie Moore, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an ice blue satin wedding gown featuring a fitted bodice and empire waist line, which fell into a full ballerina length skirt. A deep V neckline accentuated the simplicity of the gown designed with three-quarter length sleeves.

She wore a crown covered with tiny seed pearls and a shoulder length veil of tulle and carried a bouquet centered with a white orchid and tube roses.

Miss Gayle Roark was maid of honor. She was wearing a gown identical to the bride in a pale blue taffeta with a matching headdress and carried a bouquet of blue Kramer chrysanthemums.

Claude J. Irby, Jr., served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Henry Grant and Max Dillingham.

The bride's table, overlaid in an imported lace cloth lined with blue was centered with an artistic arrangement of white chrysanthemums surrounded by blue tapers in silver candelabras.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and Louisiana Business College.

Toy Facts, Figures

NEW YORK — Facts and figures on 1955 toy buying:

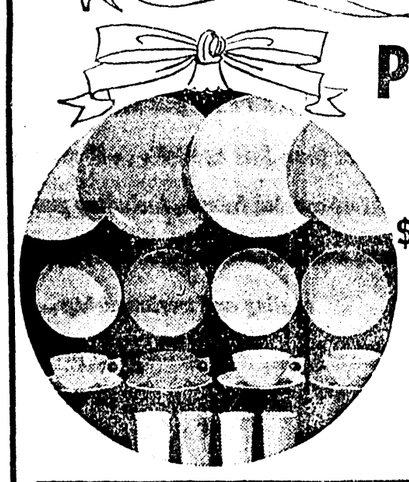

The Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. estimates this year's sales at $1,250,000,000, a record and a 20 per cent increase from last year ... Boys receive more toys than girls. Twenty-seven per cent of all toys bought go to boys aged two to six ... Some $3,000,000 will be spent this year for toy trains and model railroad accessories for little girls! ... Dolls lead all other toys in sales ... The average American family will purchase toys for three to four children during the Christmas season ... More than one-third of all toys bought this year will cost $1.00 or less. The average toy price is $3.18 ... Most of this year's spending will be for children in the two to six age bracket. They will receive 50 per cent of all toys bought.

Crossett Club Has Monthly Dinner Meeting

CROSSETT: The Crossett Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular dinner meeting on Monday evening at the Rose Inn. Miss Joyce Seymour, chairman of Public Affairs, was in charge of the program.

The Crossett Club went on record at the meeting as approving the legislative platform as sponsored by the National Federation of B & PW Clubs. The platform provides for the advancement of the position of women and the use of their full capacities as citizens by supporting the Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution; Jury Service for women; Equal Pay for Comparable Work; Uniform retirement age under the Social Security Act; Increase in the amount of earned income permitted to a person receiving Social Security benefits; Removal and prevention of discrimation on the basis of age, sex or marital status. It supports legislation which will strengthen the United Nations and the NATO.

It would make adjustments in the tax law so that a son or daughtre might take double income tax exemption for a parent aged 65 years or blind to whom they have contributed more than one-half of their support. It opposes compulsory government controlled health insurance and medical care.

Mr. Al Hallgren, Ashley County Chairman of the March of Dimes, spoke briefly to the group and asked its support in the drive for funds for the coming drive. The club voted to contribute $48.00 to the March of Dimes Fund.

Mrs. Sue Langley was named delegate to the 1955-56 National Convention to be held in Miami, Florida, next July. Mrs. Louise Deal was named alternate.

Mrs. Danna Williams, Style Show chairman, named the following committee chairmen for the annual fashion show which will be held early next year: Publicity, Olivia Bingham; entertainment, Sue Langley; programs, Janice McKelvy; music, Janie Mills; tickets, Bernice Crawford; staging, Louise Deal; ushers, Nancy Wesson.

Four new members were voted into the club: Mrs. Louise Ray, Mrs. Winfred Brewster, Mrs. Ann Tiebel and Mrs. Otho Taylor.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and Louisiana Business College.

Toy Facts, Figures

NEW YORK — Facts and figures on 1955 toy buying:

The Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. estimates this year's sales at $1,250,000,000, a record and a 20 per cent increase from last year ... Boys receive more toys than girls. Twenty-seven per cent of all toys bought go to boys aged two to six ... Some $3,000,000 will be spent this year for toy trains and model railroad accessories for little girls! ... Dolls lead all other toys in sales ... The average American family will purchase toys for three to four children during the Christmas season ... More than one-third of all toys bought this year will cost $1.00 or less. The average toy price is $3.18 ... Most of this year's spending will be for children in the two to six age bracket. They will receive 50 per cent of all toys bought.

Crossett Club Has Monthly Dinner Meeting

CROSSETT: The Crossett Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular dinner meeting on Monday evening at the Rose Inn. Miss Joyce Seymour, chairman of Public Affairs, was in charge of the program.

The Crossett Club went on record at the meeting as approving the legislative platform as sponsored by the National Federation of B & PW Clubs. The platform provides for the advancement of the position of women and the use of their full capacities as citizens by supporting the Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution; Jury Service for women; Equal Pay for Comparable Work; Uniform retirement age under the Social Security Act; Increase in the amount of earned income permitted to a person receiving Social Security benefits; Removal and prevention of discrimation on the basis of age, sex or marital status. It supports legislation which will strengthen the United Nations and the NATO.

It would make adjustments in the tax law so that a son or daughtre might take double income tax exemption for a parent aged 65 years or blind to whom they have contributed more than one-half of their support. It opposes complusory government controlled health insurance and medical care.

Mr. Al Hallgren, Ashley County Chairman of the March of Dimes, spoke briefly to the group and asked its support in the drive for funds for the coming drive. The club voted to contribute $48.00 to the March of Dimes Fund.

Mrs. Sue Langley was named delegate to the 1955-56 National Convention to be held in Miami, Florida, next July. Mrs. Louise Deal was named alternate.

Mrs. Danna Williams, Style Show chairman, named the following committee chairmen for the annual fashion show which will be held early next year: Publicity, Olivia Bingham; entertainment, Sue Langley; programs, Janice McKelvy; music, Janie Mills; tickets, Bernice Crawford; staging, Louise Deal; ushers, Nancy Wesson.

Four new members were voted into the club: Mrs. Louise Ray, Mrs. Winfred Brewster, Mrs. Ann Tiebel and Mrs. Otho Taylor.

MRS. UNION SANDERS ROANE, JR.

Mary Ann Hunt U. S. Roane, Jr., Marry In Dallas

Miss Mary Ann Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Booth Hunt, Conway Springs, Kansas, became the bride of Union Sanders Roane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Union S. Roane of Ruston, on Thursday, November 24th, at 5 p. m.

Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, Jr., officiated at the ceremony which was solemnized in Dickerson Chapel of the First Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas. Soloist was Miss Millicent Hunt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of royal blue velvet and carried a white orchid. The maid - of-honor was Miss Millicent Hunt, Colorado Springs, Colorado, sister of the bride. Her dress was candlelight beige and her flowers yellow rosebuds.

Mr. Edward G. Berg of Dallas was best man.

A dinner was held following the ceremony for members of the immediate families.

Mrs. Roane attended Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, and was graduated from the University of Kansas at Lawrence. She is a member of Alpha Phi social sorority and Gamma Alpha Chi, honorary advertising sorority.

Mr. Roane attended Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge and is a graduate of Louisiana Tech, Ruston. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity and Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 5022 Bowser avenue, Dallas.

Proper Daily Diet Coed's Best Friend

HOUSTON, Tex.—Note to teenagers:

Diet—not diamonds—is your best friend. The diamonds come later.

A year-long nutrition study at Texas State College for Women at Denton, has proved conclusively that fat on the dinner table does not necessarily become fat on the body.

And Dr. Pauline Berry Mack, dean and research director of the TSCW college of household arts and sciences can show off a shapely group of 122 college girls to prove it.

The study was supported by a grant-in-aid from Lever Bros. Co. and the results were announced here by TSCW President Dr. John A. Guinn at a public showing of the campus belles.

Teen-age food fads which eliminate fat from the diet got a sharp rap on the knuckles from Dr. Guinn. Of the girls placed on a rigidly controlled diet a year ago, Dr. Guinn said, not one of the girls in the highest fat ratio group became overweight. Some overweight girls, on higher fat content diets, actually lost weight.

Best-fed Year

And of the overweight girls who selected low fat diets in hopes of reducing, 70 per cent of them stayed overweight.

The scientific conclusion — fat does not make you fat.

The study began on the campus with a survey of the student volunteer's food habits and preferences. It was found the general diet plan was poor. Many of the girls never drank enough milk. Snacks were poorly chosen. Fad reducing diets were frequent.

During the study, the girls were fed meat, poultry or fish as the main dish once a day and some dish containing high protein foods was served at another meal each day.

Whole-grained or enriched breads and milk were included in every menu. A wide variety of fruits, vegetables and salads was featured twice a day.

All diet groups received approximately the same calories, 2,400—as recommended by the National Research Council for girls between the ages of 16 and 20.

What did the campus belles think of the experiment?

"Why we call it the best-fed year of our lives," said proportion-perfect Anna Lee Skaggs, a junior from Sherman, Tex.

MISS SALLY LOU FARMER is betrothed to Fred M. Leachman, of Ruston, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Leachman, of Choudrant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer, of Downsville. The ceremony will be held in the Downville Methodist Church, Dec. 29, at 7 p.m.

MISS MARY ELAINE BEACH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beach, of Rayville, will marry Richard Lee Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Campbell of this city, during the Christmas holidays.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY DALE BOWEN

Bowen-Ford Vows Pledged In Marion

The Baptist Church of Marion was the scene recently of the marriage of Miss Billie Nell Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Ford, and Jimmy Dale Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Bowen, both of Marion.

The Reverend H. E. Henderson performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and many candles burning in branched candelabras. The wedding music was presented by Miss Helen Tucker, organist, and Mrs. Mildred Johnson, of Linville, soloist.

The candles were lighted by Miss Evelyn Allen of Spencer and Miss Faye Ford, sister of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown of white lace over net and taffeta. It was fashioned along princess lines with cap sleeves, worn with elbow length lace mitts. A tiara of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of pink carnation mounted on a white testament.

Miss Gaye Ford, served her sister as maid of honor. Her frock was of yellow taffeta with a matching headpiece and she carried orchid chrysanthemums.

Buddy Bowen was his brothers best man. The ushers were James Green of Monroe and Murphy Oliver.

The flower girls were Sandra Ford, another sister of the bride and Lila Jean Chambers, of Shreveport, cousin of the bridegroom. Benny Ford, the bride's brother was ring bearer.

The home seamstress can now achieve innumerable designs on her sewing machine. One company has made available 16 new decorative stitch discs that may be used easily on the machine.

Extension Agents Attend Conference

Reminder

Logtown Club is honoring Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Sr. and Mrs. W. J. Lowe today from 3-6 p. m. at the W. A. Calloway home.

Extension Agents at L. S. U.

All extension agents will be out of the parish from December 5-9th attending the annual conference at L. S. U. This year this conference includes all of the segments of the college of agriculture — research, resident instruction and extension service. The purpose of the joint conference is to give all workers in the field of agriculture and homemaking a better understanding of one another's goals and activities — thus be more efficient in our services to the people. Extension offices will be open and secretaries will take request and answer calls for information.

Garden Soils Need Organic Matter

Most gardens need organic matter, called humus. There are several ways of getting organic matter for the garden soil, and right now one of the best materials is falling from the limbs of the trees. It is leaves. Leaves are considered to be among the most bothersome kinds of waste materials, yet leaves make some of the best compost there is. So instead of raking and burning the leaves, start a compost pile with them, and add other similar disease - free and insect-free waste materials. From time to time sprinkle a layer of animal manure over each six-inch - thick layer of compost materials, or apply some commercial fertilizer. Over a 6-inch layer of compost 5-feet long and 10-feet wide apply about a pint of commercial fertilizer. If the weather becomes extremely dry, sprinkle water on the compost pile. You may wish to locate your compost pile so it will be screened by a building, or you may wish to plant some shrubbery to screen one you already have going.

Watch Fall Growing Vegetables For Insect Pests

Fall - growing vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli may become infested with caterpillars, beetles, spider mites and thrips as well as other insect pests. The warning for you to be on the "look-out" for damaging insects that attack cool weather crops is issued by Kirby Cockerham, entomologist with the agricultural extension service at L. S. U. Watch for thrips on shallots, although they may become more severe later in the cool weather season, he points out. On plants such as cabbage and cauliflower that form heads you can control cabbage caterpillars with DDT before the plants head. Use a 5-per cent DDT dust. After the plants begin to head use 1-per cent rotenone dust instead of the DDT. Use malathion to control thrips on shallots. The best way to play safe in using any of these insecticides is to follow label directions.

Pork In The Home Freezer

While the supply of pork is so plentiful and stores are offering specials, how about buying some of this meat for your home freezer. A pork roast or other favorite pork cuts can be convenient to have in readiness at home in freezer. Though pork does not keep its quality in frozen storage as long as other meats, fresh pork can be frozen satisfactorily for at least three months — and up to six months, provided it is properly wrapped and kept at zero F. or lower.

The right wrap is important for good keeping even for a short time. Use a material that is moisture-vapor - resistant, such as heavy freezer foil, and wrap losely to keep all possible air from the contact with the meat. Use an overwrap, such as heavy paper, to prevent puncturing or breaking the foil in the freezer.

Christmas Cards More Colorful, More Varied

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (UP) — Take a measure of stardust, add equal portions of sunset and midnight sky, blend thoroughly and sprinkle the mixture liberally in an infinite variety of designs.

That's the story of this year's Christmas cards.

Whatever the sender's preference—whether brilliant hues or subdued tints—it can be fulfilled easily from the assortment of Yuletide greetings now in stores throughout the land.

Sharing the variegated spotlight is art-work styling that goes hand-in-hand with the latest in contemporary design and more than a hatful of fresh ideas. The use of glitter and sparkle, embossing and a new process that produces a realistic gem attachment have contributed additional glamour to the designs.

One of the most striking new trends is the "slim jim" proportion that permits the presentation of mural-like designs in sweeping panorama fashion, according to a leading manufacturer (Hallmark Cards). A large percentage of the firm's 1955 Christmas card designs are in the slender styling, in keeping with the streamlined approach to modern living, he said.

Among the most popular card motifs, Santa Claus, glittering Christmas trees, boughs of holly and crisp snow scenes still rank as favorites.

The public's increased interest in religious Christmas cards is reflected in an expanded offering of such greetings this year, the Hallmark spokesman reported. Madonnas, the Wise Men, the Nativity and such revered subjects are among the leading designs in the religious card field.

MISS SALLY LOU FARMER is betrothed to Fred M. Leachman, of Ruston, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Leachman, of Choudrant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer, of Downsville. The ceremony will be held in the Downville Methodist Church, Dec. 29, at 7 p.m.

MISS MARY ELAINE BEACH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beach, of Rayville, will marry Richard Lee Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Campbell of this city, during the Christmas holidays.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY DALE BOWEN

Bowen-Ford Vows Pledged In Marion

The Baptist Church of Marion was the scene recently of the marriage of Miss Billie Nell Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Ford, and Jimmy Dale Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Bowen, both of Marion.

The Reverend H. E. Henderson performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and many candles burning in branched candelabras. The wedding music was presented by Miss Helen Tucker, organist, and Mrs. Mildred Johnson, of Linville, soloist.

The candles were lighted by Miss Evelyn Allen of Spencer and Miss Faye Ford, sister of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown of white lace over net and taffeta. It was fashioned along princess lines with cap sleeves, worn with elbow length lace mitts. A tiara of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of pink carnation mounted on a white testament.

Miss Gaye Ford, served her sister as maid of honor. Her frock was of yellow taffeta with a matching headpiece and she carried orchid chrysanthemums.

The flower girls were Sandra Ford, another sister of the bride and Lila Jean Chambers, of Shreveport, cousin of the bridegroom. Benny Ford, the bride's brother was ring bearer.

The home seamstress can now achieve innumerable designs on her sewing machine. One company has made available 16 new decorative stitch discs that may be used easily on the machine.

Extension Agents Attend Conference

Reminder

Logtown Club is honoring Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Sr. and Mrs. W. J. Lowe today from 3-6 p. m. at the W. A. Calloway home.

Extension Agents at L. S. U.

All extension agents will be out of the parish from December 5-9th attending the annual conference at L. S. U. This year this conference includes all of the segments of the college of agriculture — research, resident instruction and extension service. The purpose of the joint conference is to give all workers in the field of agriculture and homemaking a better understanding of one another's goals and activities — thus be more efficient in our services to the people. Extension offices will be open and secretaries will take request and answer calls for information.

Garden Soils Need Organic Matter

Most gardens need organic matter, called humus. There are several ways of getting organic matter for the garden soil, and right now one of the best materials is falling from the limbs of the trees. It is leaves. Leaves are considered to be among the most bothersome kinds of waste materials, yet leaves make some of the best compost there is. So instead of raking and burning the leaves, start a compost pile with them, and add other similar disease - free and insect-free waste materials. From time to time sprinkle a layer of animal manure over each six-inch - thick layer of compost materials, or apply some commercial fertilizer. Over a 6-inch layer of compost 5-feet long and 10-feet wide apply about a pint of commercial fertilizer. If the weather becomes extremely dry, sprinkle water on the compost pile. You may wish to locate your compost pile so it will be screened by a building, or you may wish to plant some shrubbery to screen one you already have going.

Watch Fall Growing Vegetables For Insect Pests

Fall - growing vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli may become infested with caterpillars, beetles, spider mites and thrips as well as other insect pests. The warning for you to be on the "look-out" for damaging insects that attack cool weather crops is issued by Kirby Cockerham, entomologist with the agricultural extension service at L. S. U. Watch for thrips on shallots, although they may become more severe later in the cool weather season, he points out. On plants such as cabbage and cauliflower that form heads you can control cabbage caterpillars with DDT before the plants head. Use a 5-per cent DDT dust. After the plants begin to head use 1-per cent rotenone dust instead of the DDT. Use malathion to control thrips on shallots. The best way to play safe in using any of these insecticides is to follow label directions.

Pork In The Home Freezer

While the supply of pork is so plentiful and stores are offering specials, how about buying some of this meat for your home freezer. A pork roast or other favorite pork cuts can be convenient to have in readiness at home in freezer. Though pork does not keep its quality in frozen storage as long as other meats, fresh pork can be frozen satisfactorily for at least three months — and up to six months, provided it is properly wrapped and kept at zero F. or lower.

The right wrap is important for good keeping even for a short time. Use a material that is moisture-vapor - resistant, such as heavy freezer foil, and wrap losely to keep all possible air from the contact with the meat. Use an overwrap, such as heavy paper, to prevent puncturing or breaking the foil in the freezer.

Christmas Cards More Colorful, More Varied

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (UP) — Take a measure of stardust, add equal portions of sunset and midnight sky, blend thoroughly and sprinkle the mixture liberally in an infinite variety of designs.

That's the story of this year's Christmas cards.

Whatever the sender's preference—whether brilliant hues or subdued tints—it can be fulfilled easily from the assortment of Yuletide greetings now in stores throughout the land.

Sharing the variegated spotlight is art-work styling that goes hand-in-hand with the latest in contemporary design and more than a hatful of fresh ideas. The use of glitter and sparkle, embossing and a new process that produces a realistic gem attachment have contributed additional glamour to the designs.

One of the most striking new trends is the "slim jim" proportion that permits the presentation of mural-like designs in sweeping panorama fashion, according to a leading manufacturer (Hallmark Cards). A large percentage of the firm's 1955 Christmas card designs are in the slender styling, in keeping with the streamlined approach to modern living, he said.

The public's increased interest in religious Christmas cards is reflected in an expanded offering of such greetings this year, the Hallmark spokesman reported. Madonnas, the Wise Men, the Nativity and such revered subjects are among the leading designs in the religious card field.

Cadet Colonel Is Irked, But Ball Continues

He ordered the cadets to stay in their rooms during the ball, they were to get into full dress uniforms and sit at attention in their rooms while other cadets cavorted at the ball. No letter writing also, was the command.

However, some 300 LSU coeds sidetracked Vancleave's efforts to install discipline. Their appeal for the release of their dates was brought to the attention of Col. J.B. Lovelace, professor of military science.

The professor, in the best Southern tradition of chivalry, issued the order: "restriction lifted."

It also was rumored about that the colonel was a bit unhappy that Vancleave took the drastic action without the approval of his superiors.

By JAMES MCLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—With Christmas approaching, some 90,000 Louisianians on old age relief today began receiving their December welfare checks containing $5 or $6 raises.

Nearly half a million dollars will be scattered around the state, adding to the six million now spent monthly to help needy oldsters.

The December checks were mailed Thursday and Friday.

And with Christmas approaching, an election is approaching too, a gubernatorial election with most candidates promising even higher old age assistance.

Louisiana is generous with its aged and its needy, and it has been generous with its war veterans.

Spending more than 110 million dollars a year for public welfare, Louisiana has the highest public assistance rate in the nation. Six out of 10 persons over 65 are on old age rosters.

Despite its tremendous size, there has been little evidence of corruption or wrongdoing in the old age program.

The new Legislature in 1952 echoed with demands to open the secret welfare rolls to public scrutiny—which was done—and little ever came of it.

Recently, a Welfare Department investigator reported a spot check showed there were few if any instances of irregularities.

While the Public Affairs Research Council has attempted to point the way to an eventual lighter taxpayers' load in handling the welfare program, especially by means of greater educational efforts, the politically astute Legislature has consistently refused to tinker with welfare.

And now once again it is one of the major issues in a gubernatorial campaign, with some candidates actually promising more than others.

The Kennon administration, acting at legislative request, recently authorized the newly increased old age payments. The money became available with the healthy growth in sales tax revenues.

The $55 monthly maximums for single persons on old age rosters has been pushed up to $60, and the $104 maximum for couples has been raised to $110.

Not everyone on old age relief gets the maximum, only the most needy, those with little or no outside help.

About 120,000 persons are on old age rolls, but only about 90,000 will benefit with the raises. They are the ones showing greatest need.

The welfare board authorized the raises when finance officers reported the sales tax revenue had reached a level permitting it. The 1955 Legislature, prodded by Sen. Cove Davis of Olla, ordered the raises. Davis, however, originally asked for $75 top monthly and still insists it can be done.

Some candidates for governor, while advocating raises, also have promised to explore the possibility of easing restrictions on the old folks earning outside income without losing welfare eligibility.

But the Welfare Department already has hammered away on that door without getting any, where.

Since the summer of 1954, the department, again acting under legislative orders, has attempted to win federal approval of a new system which would permit the old folks to earn up to $30 a month on their own without affecting their welfare checks. They are limited to $12 outside income now.

The proposed state revision would establish $85 monthly as the minimum amount on which a person could be expected to live. The budget would have consisted of the former monthly maximum payment of $55, plus the $30 allowed in outside income.

But the federal government refused its approval, blocking the stepup. Appeals to higher authorities also failed.

Welfare officials now say the state's only alternative is to appeal in the courts, seeking to overhaul the federal blockade.

OPPOSE GOV'T BUSINESSES

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Economic Council today opposed "federal government's ownership and operation of any business-type enterprise in competition with privately owned enterprise."

Gerard Brandon of Natchez, MEC president, said the MEC voted to seek the "best possible plan to transfer federal enterprises to private enterprises."

Until such transfer, he said, the federal government should pay "taxes" to state and local government on the same basis as private enterprise and pay to the federal treasury interest on funds invested in federal enterprise.

Cadet Colonel Is Irked, But Ball Continues

He ordered the cadets to stay in their rooms during the ball, they were to get into full dress uniforms and sit at attention in their rooms while other cadets cavorted at the ball. No letter writing also, was the command.

However, some 300 LSU coeds sidetracked Vancleave's efforts to install discipline. Their appeal for the release of their dates was brought to the attention of Col. J.B. Lovelace, professor of military science.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. The late Raymond Willoughby interviewed 1,400 married and unmarried women and found that married women increased in self-consciousness about their appearance up to age 50—had a decided drop until 45, followed by a steady rise until 60, and then remained about the same until 70. Unmarried decreased from 20 to 25 (⅛), then moderately increased to 35, followed by considerable decrease to 55, a sharp increase to 65, then a drop until 70. There were exceptions, but each followed these ups and downs with surprising regularity.

Are you shy? Be yourself and be at ease. For the booklet, "Overcoming Self-Consciousness," send 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed (name city and state) envelope to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2

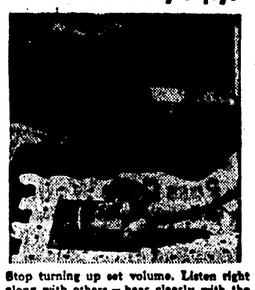

2. Quoting a public-school teacher, Donald McLean says (paraphrased): "A teacher with knowledge of many children can often reassure a worried parent." A mother told this teacher of her twelve-year-old son who always seemed tired or terribly lazy. She had almost to pull him out of bed. He ate so slowly that she feared he'd be late for school and wouldn't clean his shoes until told many times. Should she take him to a doctor? The teacher said, "No, this is normal behavior in a twelve-year-old boy."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Although they may hurt animals, it may not be genuine cruelty. A child of two or three doesn't always distinguish between his toys and a live animal. He thinks a little puppy, bird, goldfish, or butterfly can be pulled apart and banged around like a toy. Mothers should watch this period and help the tot to see the difference. If he continues after this age, he needs coaching and understanding, or cruelty may develop into a real habit.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By FLETA D. LATHAM

"Dial M for Murder," Little Theatre's current production is top-drawer suspense drama. This well directed, well acted play is another Little Theatre achievement.

Velma Kettenring tells us that reservations are coming in rapidly, so don't delay. Get busy and telephone her at 3-4263 for your reservations. There are only three nights left to see the show—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Random notes: Be sure and see the paintings in the coffee room. The following artists are represented in the exhibit:

Mrs. Herbert Faust, an art major, has been painting since childhood and has studied under private teachers from the Chicago Art Institute. She is showing a landscape in oils. . . .

Graduate of Yale University, Carl Mittell has taught fine art at the University of Georgia and Florida. He shows a fine technique in the portrait and still life on exhibit. . . .

Mary Dalton, local artist of long standing, paints as a hobby. She studied with Charles Reinike of New Orleans and at Ursaline College. Interested in free watercolor style, she is exhibiting a water color landscape. . . .

Paul Newman, Jr., presently residing in New Orleans, is a graduate of Kansas City Art Institute. He paints in water colors and oils and is of the realistic school. His water color being shown is of Bellegrove Plantation near Donaldsonville, La. . . .

Mrs. Hans Fischer, newcomer to art circles, majored at Indiana State College. A water colorist, she is exhibiting a Mexican landscape done in that medium. . . .

A great deal of credit for the attractive stage settings at the playhouse go to the people who give so generously of material things as well as time and talent.

It may well be the chair or sofa on the stage that seems so familiar is from the home of your best friends. Among such items loaned to Little Theatre for "Dial M" is the mantel clock belonging to the Phil Siragusa's.

Sidney Gill contributed the electric heater, Bert Root loaned the mirror, Sam Rubin the tennis trophies, Louis Kusin the sofa and coffee table, C. G. Pearce the logs and fireset and David Kaplan the desk.

Our thanks to these and all the other wonderful people who contribute so much to the success of Little Theatre productions.

Anti-Integration Group Asks Rally Of 5 Candidates

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Southern Gentlemen's organization today invited the five candidates for governor to a Dec. 10 rally in Hammond protesting Negro enrollment in white colleges.

The secret pro-segregation group will form a motorcade at Livingston, 20 miles east of Hammond, and then move to Hammond and the Southeastern College campus there.

W. M. Lawrence, Southern Gentlemen executive secretary, said the public is invited to participate in the motorcade and rally at Hammond.

Negroes, in lawsuits backed by the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, have been gaining admission to some white colleges.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. The late Raymond Willoughby interviewed 1,400 married and unmarried women and found that married women increased in self-consciousness about their appearance up to age 50—had a decided drop until 45, followed by a steady rise until 60, and then remained about the same until 70. Unmarried decreased from 20 to 25 (⅛), then moderately increased to 35, followed by considerable decrease to 55, a sharp increase to 65, then a drop until 70. There were exceptions, but each followed these ups and downs with surprising regularity.

Are you shy? Be yourself and be at ease. For the booklet, "Overcoming Self-Consciousness," send 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed (name city and state) envelope to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Quoting a public-school teacher, Donald McLean says (paraphrased): "A teacher with knowledge of many children can often reassure a worried parent." A mother told this teacher of her twelve-year-old son who always seemed tired or terribly lazy. She had almost to pull him out of bed. He ate so slowly that she feared he'd be late for school and wouldn't clean his shoes until told many times. Should she take him to a doctor? The teacher said, "No, this is normal behavior in a twelve-year-old boy."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Although they may hurt animals, it may not be genuine cruelty. A child of two or three doesn't always distinguish between his toys and a live animal. He thinks a little puppy, bird, goldfish, or butterfly can be pulled apart and banged around like a toy. Mothers should watch this period and help the tot to see the difference. If he continues after this age, he needs coaching and understanding, or cruelty may develop into a real habit.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By FLETA D. LATHAM

"Dial M for Murder," Little Theatre's current production is top-drawer suspense drama. This well directed, well acted play is another Little Theatre achievement.

Velma Kettenring tells us that reservations are coming in rapidly, so don't delay. Get busy and telephone her at 3-4263 for your reservations. There are only three nights left to see the show—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Random notes: Be sure and see the paintings in the coffee room. The following artists are represented in the exhibit:

Mrs. Herbert Faust, an art major, has been painting since childhood and has studied under private teachers from the Chicago Art Institute. She is showing a landscape in oils. . . .

Graduate of Yale University, Carl Mittell has taught fine art at the University of Georgia and Florida. He shows a fine technique in the portrait and still life on exhibit. . . .

Mary Dalton, local artist of long standing, paints as a hobby. She studied with Charles Reinike of New Orleans and at Ursaline College. Interested in free watercolor style, she is exhibiting a water color landscape. . . .

Paul Newman, Jr., presently residing in New Orleans, is a graduate of Kansas City Art Institute. He paints in water colors and oils and is of the realistic school. His water color being shown is of Bellegrove Plantation near Donaldsonville, La. . . .

Mrs. Hans Fischer, newcomer to art circles, majored at Indiana State College. A water colorist, she is exhibiting a Mexican landscape done in that medium. . . .

A great deal of credit for the attractive stage settings at the playhouse go to the people who give so generously of material things as well as time and talent.

It may well be the chair or sofa on the stage that seems so familiar is from the home of your best friends. Among such items loaned to Little Theatre for "Dial M" is the mantel clock belonging to the Phil Siragusa's.

Sidney Gill contributed the electric heater, Bert Root loaned the mirror, Sam Rubin the tennis trophies, Louis Kusin the sofa and coffee table, C. G. Pearce the logs and fireset and David Kaplan the desk.

Our thanks to these and all the other wonderful people who contribute so much to the success of Little Theatre productions.

Anti-Integration Group Asks Rally Of 5 Candidates

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Southern Gentlemen's organization today invited the five candidates for governor to a Dec. 10 rally in Hammond protesting Negro enrollment in white colleges.

The secret pro-segregation group will form a motorcade at Livingston, 20 miles east of Hammond, and then move to Hammond and the Southeastern College campus there.

W. L. Lawrence, Southern Gentlemen executive secretary, said the public is invited to participate in the motorcade and rally at Hammond.

Negroes, in lawsuits backed by the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, have been gaining admission to some white colleges.

Why Grow Old?

Here Are Important Facts To Know About Exercise

Everyone should know the following, well established facts about exercise:

1. Exercise is one of the factors which contributes greatly to physical fitness. But remember, capacity for exercise differs with the individual. Sometimes even young people do not react well to it.

2. Your ability to recuperate after exercise is a good gauge of how much you should take, whatever your age. If you are tired and weak following exercise, even after a rest period, you are doing too much. If your heart and breathing are still too fast after ten minutes following exercise, you do not react well to it.

3. Hard competitive games should not be played after the age of 30 or 35 unless you have been playing them constantly and are accustomed to them.

4. If you are out of training you should not compete with those in training or with those much younger than you.

5. You should have your heart and blood pressure checked before beginning any course of exercise.

6. The improved circulation which exercise demands makes the heart stronger and more efficient. Prolonged inactivity does just the opposite.

Soft?

7. If you are "soft" or out of condition you will need a conditioning period. By this I mean that you will have to begin exercise very slowly and build up the amount you do very gradually.

8. Swimming and golf are two sports you can profit by at any age if you are moderate.

9. Exercise is a splendid antidote for tensions and fatigue. Few persons do enough physical exercise to experience physical fatigue. It may feel like that but more often you actually are tired from tension. A period of exercise will refresh you.

10. Protect your heart curve. Never jump out of bed in the morning and begin strenuous exercises. Walk about the room for a few rounds or walk in place before you begin your regular motions. Do the same thing at the end of your exercise period.

You no doubt will remain youthful longer and enjoy life more if exercise is a usual part of your daily life, but use judgment and good sense in this matter.

Political Dopesters Try To Map Results Of Times Grevemberg Editorials

IN RACE—Parker Wink, paper mill employe, has entered the ward five police jury race. Wink, a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and a longtime employe of the paper mill, issued his campaign statement last Sunday.

By JOHN CORPORON

BATON ROUGE — UP —Political dopesters are doing some figuring today as to just what effect the information that Francis Grevemberg once owned part interest in a hotel with bootleg liquor and slot machines will have on the governors race.

The experts want to know how Grevemberg's admission will set with his followers, especially his strongly religious supporters.

As state police superintendent, he gained national fame for his sensational and effective raids on state gambling dens. In his current campaign for governor, Grevemberg has made heated attacks on gamblers and their influence.

He contended stories about his interest in the Miramar Hotel at Pass Christian, Miss., are being distorted by his opponents who are throwing "mud-smeared spitballs" at him.

"I am advised that the Shreveport Times this morning used about three-quarters of its editorial page to discredit me personally," Grevemberg said in Eunice. "This is not the first time they have tried this, and I know it won't be the last."

The Times printed a letter it said was proof that Grevemberg was one of two persons personally taking out federal licenses for gambling which is illegal under Mississippi state law.

"Mississippi tax collection records show he was one of the two persons paying import tax on liquor illegal to sell in Mississippi and that he was listed in the state records as a 'retail liquor dealer' at the Miramar Hotel," the Times reported.

Grevemberg admitted last night in Baton Rouge he had once owned part interest in the hotel but he said there were only two slot machines involved and liquor was sold only to keep up with competition from other Gulf Coast hotels.

He said he bought in 1948, but sold 14 months later and took a $10,000 loss.

"I said a month ago at Pelican stadium in New Orleans that I had owned an interest in a hotel... which had two slot machines in it," he said.

The Times said Grevemberg's connections with the hotel showed two things:

"First, that Col. Grevemberg is far from a knight in golden armor and white plumery when it comes to vice operations, for he has walked on both sides of the law enforcement street—on the side of violation as well as enforcement," the paper said.

"Second, that when knowledge of his Miramar connection became known publicly, he told only part of the truth and thereby gave false impressions to the public as to his Miramar connection. . ."

The Times said Grevemberg and his wife each owned a quarter interest in the hotel and the other two owners were Mr. and Mrs. Liddell Caffery of Pass Christian. They reportedly paid $45,000 down on the business, which was estimated to be worth about $110,000.

C. Of C. Members Meet Dec. 13th

The annual membership-at-large meeting of the Monroe - West Monroe Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Frances Hotel December 13, James Williams, secretary - manager of the Chamber, said Friday.

Guest speaker at the banquet meeting will be Tom Collins, publicity director of the City National Bank and Trust Co., Kansas City, Mo.

Collins has made more than 5,000 talks to groups all over the United States and at least 70 per cent of them have been return appearances. He served during World War Two as advisor with the Seventh Service Command and headed an organization of 10,00 volunteer speakers in nine states of the middle-western area. His speaking career has stretched over 24 years. He is thought of as a humorist and philosopher.

Williams stressed that a limited number of reservations will be available for those who wish to attend the banquet and urged that reservations be made early.

The deadline for making reservations is 12 noon, December 12.

Highlight of the banquet will be the announcement of recently elected 1956 Chamber of Commerce officers, Williams said.

Other business will include the annual report for 1955 by Shelby Cage, this year's Chamber president.

Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. officials will be recognized at the banquet meeting. Also, chairmen of the various committees will be recognized.

Competing Unions Explore Possible Actions To Merge

NEW YORK —UP— Competing AFL and CIO trade and craft unions explored merger possibilities Saturday, inspired by the action of their two parent groups that will unite at an inaugural convention Monday into a single organization of almost 16 million members.

All the preliminary mechanics of the AFL-CIO merger were carried out in separate conventions of the two groups which concluded Friday.

Both gave overwhelming approval, although Michael Quill, president if the CIO Transport Workers Union, pleaded fervently for defeat of the resolution merger on the grounds it failed to provide proper safeguards against racism, racketeering and raiding.

No New Leads Found In Negro Shooting

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Brig. Gen. T. B. Birdsong, commissioner of public safety, said today investigation into the shooting of a Negro leader in Belzoni has produced no leads.

Gus Courts, former president of the Belzoni chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot as he stood in his grocery, Nov. 25.

First reports were that "white men" shot Courts but Courts and witnesses later said they were not sure whether the gunman was white or a light-skinned Negro.

Powell In Enviable Spot, Can Tell Wife What To Do At Least 8 Hours Per Day

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dick Powell is in the position, enviable to some husbands, of being able to tell his wife what to do for eight hours each day.

Multi-talented Powell is producing and directing a new, musical version of "It Happened One Night." The stars are Jack Lemmon and June Allyson, who happens to be Mrs. Powell. That means that Powell is her boss during studio hours. Afterwards? Well, that's another matter.

So far, the experience seems to be going along fine, despite the show June occasionally puts on to titillate the onlookers. When he raises his voice to give directions in a scene, she'll snap:

But foolishness aside, she expresses admiration for her daytime boss.

"He's so talented," she says, "He can do everything better than we can. He can act better, he can sing better. The only thing he can't do is dance better. That's his weak suit.

"Jack and I aren't so dumb. We get him to act out our parts so we can see how it's supposed to be done."

She gave some insight on what love can do for an actress. As one of MGM's top stars, she led a rather sheltered life on the set. Since becoming one of the most sought-after free-lancers, she is often treated like a hot-house flower. But not on "It Happened One Night."

She enumerated her injuries: sprained neck, torn leg muscles, scraped leg. These and other aches and pains were acquired from sliding down haystacks, doing strenuous dances, etc.

There was one place where she drew the line: working overtime. She has a clause in her contract that prohibits the studio from making her work after 6 p.m.

Candidates To Meet Dec. 8

The League of Women Voter's will sponsor a candidates meeting at the parish court house December 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Vera Troy, president of the local League, said that the six candidates for state representatives and two for state senator from Ouachita parish had been invited to present their platform.

A question and answer period will also be a part of the program, Mrs. Troy said.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Powell In Enviable Spot, Can Tell Wife What To Do At Least 8 Hours Per Day

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dick Powell is in the position, enviable to some husbands, of being able to tell his wife what to do for eight hours each day.

Multi-talented Powell is producing and directing a new, musical version of "It Happened One Night." The stars are Jack Lemmon and June Allyson, who happens to be Mrs. Powell. That means that Powell is her boss during studio hours. Afterwards? Well, that's another matter.

So far, the experience seems to be going along fine, despite the show June occasionally puts on to titillate the onlookers. When he raises his voice to give directions in a scene, she'll snap:

But foolishness aside, she expresses admiration for her daytime boss.

"He's so talented," she says. "He can do everything better than we can. He can act better, he can sing better. The only thing he can't do is dance better. That's his weak suit.

"Jack and I aren't so dumb. We get him to act out our parts so we can see how it's supposed to be done."

She gave some insight on what love can do for an actress. As one of MGM's top stars, she led a rather sheltered life on the set. Since becoming one of the most sought-after free-lancers, she is often treated like a hot-house flower. But not on "It Happened One Night."

Stress Radio In Work With Jap Christians

Japanese Christians, like those in America, are placing increasing emphasis on radio, movies and other mass communication media as ways to make Christianity known to their countrymen, reports from the National Christian Council of Japan indicate.

Three events this fall, two completed and one yet to come, point up the growing emphasis on mass communications, the Council, a federation of Protestant churches, said. The events: formation of a Japan Christian Broadcasters Association, release of a commercially - made movie, "The Bronze Christ," based on the persecution of seventeenth century Japanese Christians, announcement of a radio program titled "Hymn Time" carried over the Japan Broadcasting Company from November 26 to December 25.

The broadcasters' association was formed at a meeting of representatives of eleven organizations which produce Christian radio broadcasts. The meeting at the Christian audio - visual center of Aoyama College, in Tokyo, brought together twelve Japanese and eight missionaries who produce sixteen programs for weekly broadcast on stations scattered across Japan. Besides organizing, the broadcasters exchanged information on programs and stations, decided to establish a central library of tape recordings of music and sound effects and agreed to meet twice a year.

Tallulah Methodist Church Plans On Roundup Suppers

Two fall round - up suppers have been scheduled by the Tallulah Methodist Church for Monday, December 5 and Tuesday, December 6, at 7:00 p. m. in the "home pasture" or fellowship hall of the church.

These round-up suppers will be unusual. Two nights of friendly western style "get togethers" complete with chuck wagon serving, barbeque beef and beans and a western style program have been planned to the romance of the roundup.

These two round-up suppers will be the biggest family get together the Tallulah Methodist Church has ever had. Food, fun, and fellowship along with a big city dude as our special guest speaker will be the evening's program.

Due to the space limitations all people whose last names begin A-M are asked to attend Monday, December 5 and all who's last names begin N-Z, Tuesday, December 6.

Mental Health Is To Be Discussed In Tuesday Meet

The northeast branch of the Louisiana Association for Mental Health will meet Tuesday in the auditorium of the United Gas building, 2301 Jonesville.

Two important "fronts" in the battle against mental illness will be discussed by G. Kriser Stevens, field representative of Mental Health Association.

The first discussion will be what can be done for ex-patients of mental hospitals. The second will comprise a report on a proposed training program for professional health workers in this state.

The Rev. W. H. McFadden is president of the local group.

DR. R. O. CAWKER

Dr. Cawker To Give Talk To Training Union

An attendance goal of 1,000 has been set for the annual Training Union "M" night of Ouachita Parish Baptist Association. The meeting is to be held in the First Baptist Church of Monroe on Monday December 5, at 7:30 p. m.

"M" night is really mobilization night for Baptist Training Unions everywhere as a large group is assembled to preview the program events to be sponsored in 1956. A Southern Baptist convention emphasis, simultaneous "M" night meetings were begun in 1946 with an attendance of 75,961. The attendance last year was 323,349, and the southwide goal for this year is 460,000.

The theme of the program is "Prepared unto Every Good Work." R. N. Lanningham, Training Union director for the association, will preside, and Al Bankston, education director of First Baptist Church will lead the music. Inspirational speaker for the evening will be Dr. R. O. Cawker, pastor of Highland Baptist Church in Shreveport. Dr. Cawker is a very popular speaker among church and civic groups and is expected to deliver a very timely and interesting address. All members of Baptist churches in Ouachita Parish Association are urged to attend this important meeting.

Army Chaplains Moving Fast In Manuever Areas

FORT POLK, La. (AP) — Army chaplains in Exercise Sagebrush, keeping up with fast-moving troops spread over a wide area, travel farther and faster than circuit riding ministers of frontier days.

A good example is Capt. Frederick H. Ostlye, chaplain of the 41st Signal Battalion. Ostlye's unit helped construct and operate the communications network for the maneuvers. The nine stations are spread over almost half of the state of Louisiana.

He is responsible to see that each group gets a chance to attend services each week.

Ostlye's weekly schedule goes like this:

Sunday: Chapel services for Headquarters troops at Fort Polk, Monday 120 miles to Ashland for services.

Tuesday: 60 miles for noon services at Cloverland, then another 20 mile jaunt to visit with troops at Manoe. Before dark, he drives 70 miles to Natchitoches for services.

Wednesday: 20 miles to Eagle Hill and 24 miles more to Fort Polk.

Friday: 90 miles to Eagle Hill for night services and return to Fort Polk.

Saturday: Work at headquarters.

La. Moral And Civic Fdtn. To Meet In City

Youth director of Louisiana Moral and Civic Foundation, Charles Flurry, who is in charge of statewide educational activities among young people, will be the speaker at a joint meeting of Royal Ambassador Chapters and Girls Auxiliaries at Central Baptist Church, on December 6, at 7:30, according to announcement of Mrs. E. D. Morrison, W. M. U. Youth director of Ouachita Parish Association.

Mr. Flurry, a native of Corinth, Miss., was educated at Howard College, Birmingham, Ala., Washburn University, Topeka, Kansas, and at the Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism, Loma Linda, Calif.; is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Pacific area; taught high school classes in Kansas, and for two years was director of Alcohol Education in Kansas.

He presents the facts to the youth with great clarity, flashing humor, and his message is not one of negatives and denunciations; it is affirmative; is a teacher and a character - building workman. The Ouachita Parish High school singers will make their first appearance of the year on this program.

Members of the organization counsellors and pastors are extended a cordial invitation to attend this meeting, Mrs. Morrison and other officers state.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I would like to believe in God. Although I have asked many who believe in him to explain God to me, they have never done so to my satisfaction. Will you tell me if there is any proof for the existence of God in the Bible and also explain God to me so that I can believe F. E.

ANSWER: Actually, the Bible does not offer formal proof for the existence of God. God is not found at the end of a logical process, but rather the Bible assumes His existence. Only when you assume that God is, can you find an answer to the perplexing problem of life. If the scientist did not assume that nature is orderly he could not pursue his experiments, and if the theologian does not assume God he cannot find the answer to the problems of the human soul. Furthermore, you do not get a full knowledge of God in order that you can believe in Him. You act upon the assumption that God is, and upon that basis you proceed to confirm your assumption. The Bible says, "He that cometh unto God must believe that He is, and that He is the rewarder of them that diligently seek Him." If you could understand all about God, you would not be satisfied with Him. It is to be expected that a knowledge of God is obtained as we trust Him and test Him in all the various circumstances of life.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
First Church of Christ, Scientist
No. 2nd at Auburn

"God The Only Cause And Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, December 4, 1955.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else." (Isa. 45:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth." (Ps. 33:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is the grand creator and there can be no power except that which is derived from Mind. If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion and power everlastingly due its holy name." (page 143).

Plan On 22nd Baptist Church For Ouachita

A new mission Baptist church is to be established at McBride and Avants avenue, Sunshine Heights, West Monroe. It will be sponsored by the 21 churches in the Trenton association.

The Trenton Missions Committee composed of Rev. C. C. Martin, chairman; Rev. H. L. Driskell, Rev. O. P. Bazer, Rev. H. J. Mott, Rev. Jaroy Weber, Rev. J. C. Smith and Rev. J. B. Ryals, met in the Edgewood Baptist Church recently and in the light of the success of the mission it was voted to proceed with permanent plans for a new Baptist church.

The mission group is currently having regular meetings in the Jordan home on Avants street. A temporary home for the mission is being constructed at the corner of McBride and Avants streets. A permanent site for the church will be located after surveys are made to determine the best location.

The mission is being led by Rev. A. L. New, district three missionary. Rev. New has been elected to steer the mission group until its organization into the church.

Presbyterians To Induct New Officers Sunday

At the eleven o'clock service of the First Presbyterian Church on December 4th the newly elected elders and deacons will be ordained and installed. The elders elected by the congregation are as follows: R. W. Cretney, T. W. Davenport, H. J. Hunter, M. B. Mapp, Dr. Rabun Smith, and K. M. Blue. The deacons elected by the congregation are as follows: F. V. Allison, Grant Boardman, Lawrence Fox, Charles McBride, Tom McCann, Joe Monroe, and Alden Shotwell.

The ordination and installation of new church officers is a beautiful and impressive service. The public is invited to attend.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 15:4-5—"Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.... for without me ye can do nothing."

* * *

Though only three, Timmy is the most independent little fellow I've ever met. When he came to the house he insisted on opening the door himself. He wiggled out of his coat unassisted, scrambled up on a chair all alone. And nobody dared to cut his ham or butter his bread for him. His parents noted proudly, "And he won't even be four until next month."

"Oh, can I help you celebrate your birthday, Timmy?" I asked.

We all laughed heartily. But I pondered, too. So soon can a child outgrow the parental relationship. So consistently can a person assert his self-sufficiency, even to the point of being ridiculous.

Indeed, how very like the essence of sin! Such is the pride which alienates the creature from his Creator. God may smile, but more likely He weeps, to see His children cockily strike out for themselves, disavowing their dependence upon Him. For in so doing they accuse as a liar Him Who said, "Without me ye can do nothing."

Stress Radio In Work With Jap Christians

Japanese Christians, like those in America, are placing increasing emphasis on radio, movies and other mass communication media as ways to make Christianity known to their countrymen, reports from the National Christian Council of Japan indicate.

Three events this fall, two completed and one yet to come, point up the growing emphasis on mass communications, the Council, a federation of Protestant churches, said. The events: formation of a Japan Christian Broadcasters Association, release of a commercially - made movie, "The Bronze Christ," based on the persecution of seventeenth century Japanese Christians, announcement of a radio program titled "Hymn Time" carried over the Japan Broadcasting Company from November 26 to December 25.

The broadcasters' association was formed at a meeting of representatives of eleven organizations which produce Christian radio broadcasts. The meeting at the Christian audio - visual center of Aoyama College, in Tokyo, brought together twelve Japanese and eight missionaries who produce sixteen programs for weekly broadcast on stations scattered across Japan. Besides organizing, the broadcasters exchanged information on programs and stations, decided to establish a central library of tape recordings of music and sound effects and agreed to meet twice a year.

Tallulah Methodist Church Plans On Roundup Suppers

Two fall round - up suppers have been scheduled by the Tallulah Methodist Church for Monday, December 5 and Tuesday, December 6, at 7:00 p. m. in the "home pasture" or fellowship hall of the church.

These round-up suppers will be unusual. Two nights of friendly western style "get togethers" complete with chuck wagon serving bar-b-que beef and beans and a western style program have been attuned to the romance of the roundup.

Last Sunday all children and adults were "branded" for the round-up in one of two "outfits."

These two round-up suppers will be the biggest family get together the Tallulah Methodist Church has ever had. Food, fun, and fellowship along with a big city dude as our special guest speaker will be the evening's program.

Due to the space limitations all people whose last names begin A-M are asked to attend Monday, December 5 and all whose last names begin N-Z, Tuesday, December 6.

Mental Health Is To Be Discussed In Tuesday Meet

The northeast branch of the Louisiana Association for Mental Health will meet Tuesday in the auditorium in the United Gas building 2809 Louisville.

Two important "fronts" in the battle against mental illness will be discussed by G. Kinsey Stewart, field representative of Mental Health Association.

The first discussion will be what can be done for ex-patients of mental hospitals. The second will comprise a report on a proposed training program for professional health workers in this state.

The Rev. W. H. McFadden is president of the local group.

DR. R. O. CAWKER

Dr. Cawker To Give Talk To Training Union

An attendance goal of 1,000 has been set for the annual Training Union "M" night of Ouachita Parish Baptist Association. The meeting is to be held in the First Baptist Church of Monroe on Monday December 5, at 7:30 p. m.

"M" night is really mobilization night for Baptist Training Unions everywhere as a large group is assembled to preview the program events to be sponsored in 1956. A Southern Baptist convention emphasis, simultaneous "M" night meetings were begun in 1946 with an attendance of 75,964. The attendance last year was 323,349, and the southwide goal for this year is 400,000.

The theme of the program is "Prepared unto Every Good Work." R. N. Lanningham, Training Union director for the association, will preside, and Al Bankston, education director of First Baptist Church will lead the music. Inspirational speaker for the evening will be Dr. R. O. Cawker, pastor of Highland Baptist Church in Shreveport. Dr. Cawker is a very popular speaker among church and civic groups and is expected to deliver a very timely and interesting address. All members of Baptist churches in Ouachita Parish Association are urged to attend this important meeting.

Army Chaplains Moving Fast In Manuever Areas

FORT POLK, La. (AP) — Army chaplains in Exercise Sagebrush, keeping up with fast-moving troops spread over a wide area, travel farther and faster than circuit riding ministers of frontier days.

A good example is Capt. Frederick H. Ogilve, chaplain of the 41st Signal Battalion. Ogilve's unit helped construct and operate the communications network for the maneuvers. The nine stations are spread over almost half of the state of Louisiana.

He is responsible to see that each group gets a chance to attend services each week.

Ogilve's weekly schedule goes like this:

Sunday—Chapel services for Headquarters troops at Fort Polk.

Monday—120 miles to Ashland for services.

Tuesday—60 miles for noon services at Choudrant, then another 20 mile jaunt to visit with troops at Monroe. Before dark, he drives 70 miles to Natchitoches for services.

Wednesday—20 miles to Eagle Hill and 20 miles more to Fort Polk.

Thursday—South 60 miles to Lake Charles and back to Fort Polk.

Friday—40 miles to Eagle Hill for night services and return to Fort Polk.

Saturday—Work at headquarters. Ogilve is a Southern Baptist chaplain from Anna, Tex. He does his traveling in a jeep. In addition to worship services, he helps the men with their personal problems.

La. Moral And Civic Fdtn. To Meet In City

Youth director of Louisiana Moral and Civic Foundation, Charles Flurry, who is in charge of statewide educational activities among young people, will be the speaker at a joint meeting of Royal Ambassador Chapters and Girls Auxiliaries at Central Baptist Church, on December 6, at 7:30, according to announcement of Mrs. E. D. Morrison, W. M. U. Youth director of Ouachita Parish Association.

Mr. Flurry, a native of Corinth, Miss., was educated at Howard College, Birmingham, Ala., Washburn University, Topeka, Kansas, and at the Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism, Loma Linda, Calif.: is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Pacific area; taught high school classes in Kansas, and for two years was director of Alcohol Education in Kansas.

He presents the facts to the youth with great clarity, flashing humor, and his message is not one of negatives and denunciations; it is affirmative; is a teacher and a character - building workman. The Ouachita Parish High school singers will make their first appearance of the year on this program.

Members of the organization counsellors and pastors are extended a cordial invitation to attend this meeting, Mrs. Morrison and other officers state.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I would like to believe in God. Although I have asked many who believe in him to explain God to me, they have never done so to my satisfaction. Will you tell me if there is any proof for the existence of God in the Bible and also explain God to me so that I can believe F. E.

ANSWER: Actually, the Bible does not offer formal proof for the existence of God. God is not found at the end of a logical process, but rather the Bible assumes His existence. Only when you assume that God is, can you find an answer to the perplexing problem of life. If the scientist did not assume that nature is orderly he could not pursue his experiments, and if the theologian does not assume God he cannot find the answer to the problems of the human soul. Furthermore, you do not get a full knowledge of God in order that you can believe in Him. You act upon the assumption that God is, and upon that basis you proceed to confirm your assumption. The Bible says, "He that cometh unto God must believe that He is, and that He is the rewarder of them that diligently seek Him." If you could understand all about God, you would not be satisfied with Him. It is to be expected that a knowledge of God is obtained as we trust Him and test Him in all the various circumstances of life.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
First Church of Christ, Scientist
No. 2nd at Auburn

"God The Only Cause And Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, December 4, 1955.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else." (Isa. 45:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth." (Ps. 33:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is the grand creator and there can be no power except that which is derived from Mind. If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion and power everlastingly due its holy name." (page 143).

Listen to a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 7:45 a.m. over Radio Station KNOE. Plan On 22nd Baptist Church For Ouachita

A new mission Baptist church is to be established at McBride and Avants avenue, Sunshine Heights, West Monroe. It will be sponsored by the 21 churches in the Trenton association.

The Trenton Missions Committee composed of Rev. C. C. Martin, chairman; Rev. H. L. Driskell, Rev. O. P. Bazer, Rev. H. J. Mott, Rev. Jaroy Weber, Rev. J. C. Smith and Rev. J. B. Ryals, met in the Edgewood Baptist Church recently and in the light of the success of the mission it was voted to proceed with permanent plans for a new Baptist church.

The mission group is currently having regular meetings in the Jordan home on Avants street. A temporary home for the mission is being constructed at the corner of McBride and Avants streets. A permanent site for the church will be located after surveys are made to determine the best location.

The mission is being led by Rev. A. L. New, district three missionary. Rev. New has been elected to steer the mission group until its organization into the church.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 15:4-5—"Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.... for without me ye can do nothing."

* * *

Though only three, Timmy is the most independent little fellow I've ever met. When he came to the house he insisted on opening the door himself. He wiggled out of his coat unassisted, scrambled up on a chair all alone. And nobody dared to cut his ham or butter his bread for him. His parents noted proudly, "And he won't even be four until next month."

"Oh, can I help you celebrate your birthday, Timmy?" I asked.

"No thanks," came his prompt reply, "I can do it myself."

We all laughed heartily. But I pondered, too. So soon can a child outgrow the parental relationship. So consistently can a person assert his self-sufficiency, even to the point of being ridiculous.

Indeed, how very like the essence of sin! Such is the pride which alienates the creature from his Creator. God may smile, but more likely He weeps, to see His children cockily strike out for themselves, disavowing their dependence upon Him. For in so doing they accuse as a liar Him Who said, "Without me ye can do nothing."

Husband Moves Plant 9 Times

The chrysanthemums have been so beautiful this year. I'm sure we're all resolving to put out some plants next March.

If you have an American holly, Christmas is pruning time. Your family and friends will be wanting branches for the house. Don't be afraid to cut this evergreen tree back. You'll love the way it will thicken up next spring. Last March freeze got the blooms so we have no berries, but the shiny green foliage is still so typically Christmas, and don't forget to fertilize this holly in February. If the tree is large, you will need to use the hole method.

In The Garden

Have you noticed how many of our trees and shrubs still have green leaves? So few plants are completely dormant yet. That's why it's best to wait until January to do your transplanting. If you have skilled labor, like the nurseries, where plants can be lifted, dirt and all, then you'll be safe in transplanting. But most of us have husband help and believe me they don't like to dig up a plant. Have you ever known a husband who could see a reason for moving a plant from one place to another, in the yard? Their reasoning is "If it's all right here, why move it there." Goodness knows I'm sure they have reason to feel that way. One husband vowed he had moved the same plant nine times. That's why we need to sit down and make a plan. It's much easier to move a plant on paper than in the garden.

If you're buying plants that are balled and burlapped, there's no problem. The roots are prepared for transplanting. If you have a new home you'll surely want to get some plants out before Christmas. What nicer Christmas present than shrubs for the garden?

December is a good clean up month. A good time to make new beds so they can settle before planting. A good time to take a critical look at the place and see what it needs most. A monotonous garden is usually one with all the foliage too near the same texture. I wish we had more plants like castor bean and banana plant that stayed green all year. Palms are evergreen and we could surely use them more. A little on the expensive side but they live many years.

Have you ever heard of "scatter gun planting?" If we allow ourselves to fall in love with every plant we see we're likely to end up with such a yard — another reason for planning on paper. You'll see the effect of this kind of planting and find you don't like it's looks.

Lighting

Long fall and winter evenings give you a fine excuse for curling up in your favorite chair with a book or your pet handiwork. But—be sure you have the proper lighting for reading and other close work. Avoid reading under lamps that have the skimpy types of shades. You need a wide shade to give a better spread of light. The bottom of the shade on a good reading lamp measures at least sixteen inches across from side to side. The height of the lamps is important too — and the distance between the light and the work. On the average end table, the lower edge of the lampshade would be 17 to 19 inches above the table top. Still another important rule — make sure the light doesn't glare down directly on your work. Modern lamps have different arrangements to diffuse and spread the light to make it easy on your eyes.

Very thin, white shades allow too much light to come through, rather than come down. Shades should be white or beige on the inside. If you have a parchment shade that has darkened on the inside, use white shoe polish to brighten it up.

Food Notes

When buying oranges for your ambrosia, remember the naval orange is the best for that purpose. It is thick skinned and seedless.

Practically all the cranberries sold now in retail stores come in one pound boxes or cellophane and pliofilm bags. In a recent survey, shoppers preferred bagged cranberries three to one when there was a choice of containers. Berries in clear bags are easier to see, a help in selecting good quality berries.

When you shop, look for firm cranberries with fresh, plump appearance and a high luster. The small dark red ones may be sweeter than the larger bright red berries. Berries that seem dull, soft or shriveled are of poor quality. When you check your menu for nutritive value, remember that these tart - flavor cranberries are a fair source of vitamin C. Cranberries are expected with turkey.

Christmas Decorations

In many of the monthly magazines I notice espaliered Christmas trees, especially in small homes and apartments. An evergreen branch is cut, all back limbs removed and the tree fastened flat to a piece of beaver board. Then it is decorated with tiny bows or balls and hung on the wall just as you'd hand a picture.

If you have little time for decorating, there's lots you can do to a candelabra. Their lines are beautiful so by adding a few balls, small pieces of holly or ribbon, you have a lovely center for your table, for the mantel or for just about any place.

Here's an old favorite I gave you several years ago. Make a large cone of chicken wire, about twenty seven inches high. Cover with cardboard and ice with a pale colored icing made with powdered sugar and vinegar. While the icing is still damp, cover the tree with popped corn. The children will love sticking the corn on the icing and you have a luscious looking arrangement.

Announcements

Your "Open House" programs for next week are as follows: Monday, Ann Houser, agent from Farmerville will make fruit cakes; Tuesday, Mr. Moore, the candle maker from Shreveport will give a repeat show on candle making. Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the three blue ribbon flower arrangements. Thursday, Mr. Huffman from Northeast Louisiana State College and American Red Cross will give you some emergency first aid; Friday is marketing day with Mammy and Dixie. Yours truly will be in Baton Rouge all the week attending state conference with all other agents in the state.

See you next Sunday.

Gift Dedication Memorial Service Today At Rayville

RAYVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special)—A statue of St. Jude, executed by Allen Turpin, a Monroe architect and built by John F. Ford, and a Hammond electric organ, will be gifts to the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, dedicated here at 4 p.m. tomorrow, at a memorial service in memory of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Coenen.

The image of the saint is enshrined in a 10-foot niche, forming a Gothic arch of mahogany. The shrine was built by Ford, a skilled wood-worker, who was responsible for most of the intricate wood and cabinet work in the Richland Parish Court House.

The statue was presented by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Boles and the mahogany arch was given by William R. Coenen, in memory of his wife.

At the same time, a dedication will also be held for the new Hammond organ, the combined gift of more than 200 friends and relatives of Mr. Coenen. Carol Coenen, 10-year-old daughter, of the deceased, will play the organ at the service.

Set Final Advisory Session On Dec. 14

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 3 (AP) — Gov. Hugh White yesterday set Dec. 14 for the final session of the Legal Education Advisory Committee before the 1956 Legislature.

The governor said the LEAC would review recommendations to be made to the Legislature when it convents Jan. 3.

The LEAC was established by the 1954 Legislature to seek means of dodging the U. S. Supreme Court ruling outawing segregation.

Included in next year's report are six resolutions designed by Gov.-elect J. P. Coleman to keep segregation. They are:

1. Prohibit common-law marriage.
2. Repeal compulsory school attendance law.
3. Provide penalties for agitation of suits to end segregation.
4. Provide penalties for persons interfering with state law under federal authority.
5. Provide penalties for criminal libel and obscene telephone calls.
6. Establish a state authority to keep segregation.

Colorful Holiday Displays At Center This Week

Now that Thanksgiving is past, our thoughts turn toward Christmas, the buying of gifts for loved ones, delectable foods to make the holiday long remembered and decorations and arrangements to make our homes festive and gay. This week we have had on display at the Garden Center some beautiful and colorful decorations and arrangements. Mrs. John Lewis displayed a colorful wall decoration in the shape of an eight-pointed star. The star was constructed of chicken wire which had been gilded. A small silver Christmas ball was placed over each of the tips and secured with a small bit of chenille. A star within the star was formed with a rope of small cerise Christmas balls. Again the small silver balls were placed over the tips of the inner star. A large silver ball was wired to the center. This lovely decoration may be secured to the wall with scotch tape or the special hangers available at the stores (which do not damage the wall).

Mrs. Mack Bradley of Winnsboro displayed a lovely crescent design in white and green. The base and the crescent were made of white styrofoam. In the center of the crescent Mrs. Bradley placed a square white candle touched with gold glitter. Sprays of green Japanese juniper were used in the background and followed the lines of the crescent. Three large white poinsettias were placed in the foreground as a center of interest. Incidentally the poinsettias were handmade by Mrs. Bradley.

Mrs. Archie Dickerson displayed some enchanting angels which look as if they are really flying when displayed against a mirror. The body and wings of the angel were constructed with gold braid, the head a gold Christmas ball with the features painted on and white hair, also painted on. Loops of net, touched with gold sequins, made the angel's airy gown. When taped to a mirror they are most realistic. The gold braid and net may be purchased by the yard from your florist. Dr. Katherine Foster displayed several Christmas arrangements. These may be prepared and made up now before the mad rush sets in. The first arrangement was a winter snow scene. On a large white stryfoam base, rectangular in shape, Katherine placed a graceful white painted branch toward the left. White cotton - boll "flowers" wired together followed the lines of the branch adding depth and interest. Around the base of the branch magnolia leaves (painted white and glittered) were arranged in an open petal pattern, pine cones touch d with white and glitter made a focal point. A white painted deer stood on the right contemplating the scene. Snow was sprayed on giving a most realistic effect.

A lovely mantel arrangement in silver and pink was the next arrangement. A rectangular foam base was covered with wide silver ribbon. A semi-crescent design was outlined with silvered Buford holly and the line accented with clusters of silver ornaments, beginning with small clusters and larger ones in the center. Silver magnolia leaves and pink lace magnolia leaves were placed around the base. A round silver plate was placed in the background as a reflector for the two pale pink candles. These were square in shape, one tall and one low. They were touched with silver glitter. Silvered pine cones on either side of the candles added depth. This would be most effective with pink roses or pink carnations added at the last moment. Placed in orchid tubes to keep them fresh, of course.

Carnations mean Christmas to me somehow. I associate their spicy fragrance with the holiday season and at Christmas we always have some in the house.

Dates to remember: The Jonesboro - Hodge Garden Club will present Mrs. Hugh Sutherland in "Christmas Ideas" on Friday, December 9 at 2 p.m. at the Recreation Building of the Jonesboro Methodist Church. Public invited. Nominal fee.

Wednesday, December 7 at one p.m. Mrs. Guy Kincaid of Winnsboro will present a program on television.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mrs. Ida Smith Newell died last night in a hospital after a heart attack in her home a few hours earlier.

The widow of Harvey T. Newell, founder and president of Jackson Paper Co., Mrs. Newell was a native of Camp Hill, Ala., and had lived in Jackson 35 years.

Funeral services will be held Monday.

Sasanquas For Winter Flowers

Some varieties of both sasanqua and japonica camellias are definitely more able to tolerate cold weather and still hold their buds than other varieties. Since we uplanders in the cooler sections of the South began growing these wonderful winter flowers, everybody has been trying out varieties to see which are best in our gardens where the thermometer sometimes registers zero. In the catalogues listing sasanquas, you can sometimes find a variety called Dawn. Buy it because it has been found to be one of the most remarkably cold resistant camellias in existence. The flowers are more or less typical of sasanquas. Dr. Harold Hume, the camellia authority at The University of Florida says this is really not a sasanqua at all, but we gardeners are delighted that it will stand so much cold. Another camellia which your columnist first saw growing in a greenhouse at Wisley, the Royal Horticulture Society's Gardens, is a very hardy one. The whole shrub looks more like our own Carolina cherry laurel than like a camellia. The leaves are small, and the flowers not very large, but they flower well into the cold weather. From this species has come a variety called Williams Lavender raised from seed at Fruitland Nurseries in Augusta, Ga.

All the sasanquas are good garden plants for us in the cooler areas. One of the very oldest ones is Snow on The Mountain, a low growing type. Plant it where it can have some protection from those bitter cold west winds which bring us our November cold spells. All of the late sasanquas, in fact, will benefit from such a location. As camellia bushes of any kind get larger, they furnish leaf and twig protection for their own buds and flower a week or so longer into the cold weather than they can do when they are young and skinny.

The early flowering japonica camellias will always give you at least some flowers before the frosts come. The variety Daikagura is one of the best because it sometimes begins to bloom as early as late September and always does on mature bushes. It is one of those that have hardly any two blossoms exactly alike in sometimes deep pink, sometimes lighter pink with a dash of white here and there. In the past ten years, breeders have been creating more early bloomers from Daikagura with this name as a part of the new names. Some gardeners complain that Daikagura is not too strong as plant, but it is worthwhile to coddle one a bit to get it along. Arejishi is another japonica that flowers early and on into the season.

In a very short while, we shall be able to buy the new camellias J. C. Williams, Mary Christian, Salutation, St. Ewe and others which are real winter flowering varieties. They are mostly single varieties, but as fast as they are killed by cold, more are produced like flowering quince blossoms.

"Prisoner Of War" Can't Meet Spouse

NEW YORK — UP —There's a "prisoner of war" in Louisiana who missed the arrival of his German war bride in the United States.

"Prisoner" DeGiovanni still does not know that his bride has arrived safely in this country. The Red Cross was unable to contact him.

Plan No Action On Buy-Outs At Prison As Yet

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP) —It will be after the holiday season before any criminal action develops against Angola convicts or former employes involved in a prison forgery buy-out racket.

Dist. Atty. Richard Kilbourne of West and East Feliciana parishes said yesterday he has not had time to examine information provided last week by institutions director Edward Grant.

Ending a four-month investigation, Grant announced at least three former employes seemed to be involved in the forgery racket in which a convict ring altered state penitentiary records for a price.

Six of the nine prisoners who actually gained early freedom with forged records were returned to prison.

Kilbourne said a special session of the grand jury may be called early in January to conduct an investigation.

The district attorney said a criminal court term opening in West Feliciana Parish next week would prevent him from studying the institutions department report.

Richland Chooses Polio Fund Leader For 1956 Campaign

RAYVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special)—Harry Addison of Rayville, an employe of the Richland Motor Company, has been named chairman of the 1956 Polio Fund Drive in Richland parish, it has been announced.

Dr. John Hooks, present parish Polio Foundation chairman, said, that the campaign will open in January and that the foundation is requesting a large budget for continued treatment of polio patients, as well as, for research into the causes of the disease.

Addison, who has proven a public-spirited citizen, interested in civic affairs, is married to the former Lillian Coates.

'Phoney' Burglar Is Thought Longwinded

HOUSTON —UP— Mr. and Mrs. James C. Anderson have a telephone bill for $70 for six calls to Springfield, Mo., but they don't know anybody in Springfield.

Police, checking up, found a torn screen and an open back window and, since both the Andersons work, they theorize someone's been climbing in the window to use the telephone.

Efforts to call Anderson to find out how he feels failed. The phone company has disconnected until the bill is paid.

Federal Judges Consider Arguments In Louisiana Segregation Court Test

NEW ORLEANS — UP —Three federal judges today considered arguments submitted in the first federal court test of Louisiana's segregation program.

Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Orleans parish school board appeared yesterday before the three - judge court.

The NAACP, which filed the suit, seeks to prevent the school board from segregating students in public schools as authorized by state law. Such segregation has been ruled illegal by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Basically, the case pits the racial equality clauses of the 14th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution and the recent Supreme Court decision against the Ninth Amendment which guarantees each state sovereign police powers.

The state of Louisiana, which has joined the school board in opposition to the suit, has sought to evade the integration decree of the high court by placing public schools under the police power of the state.

Both sides in the case have been given 10 days to file briefs in support of arguments heard yesterday.

Circuit Judge Wayne G. Borah and District Judges Herbert W. Christenberry and J. Skelly Wright are hearing the case.

The defense asked that the suit be dismissed because it is against the state and cannot be heard in federal court and because the complaintants had not exhausted administrative remedies.

George A. Rult, attorney for the school board, filed affidavits which he said showed that Negroes here had previously voted predominantly in favor of segregation-type measures.

NAACP lawyer A. P. Tureaud, Sr., argued that there are inequalities in the New Orleans schools because of segregation.

Louisiana joined the school board in its fight as Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc also asked that the suit be dismissed because it is against the state and not within the court's jurisdiction.

The state's entrance into the segregation battle comes immediately after a state district judge ruled Thursday that Louisiana has the right to use a special appropriation of $100,000 for fighting integration suits.

Gift Dedication Memorial Service Today At Rayville

RAYVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special)—A statue of St. Jude, executed by Allen Turpin, a Monroe architect and built by John F. Ford, and a Hammond electric organ, will be gifts to the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, dedicated here at 4 p.m. tomorrow, at a memorial service in memory of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Coenen.

The image of the saint is enshrined in a 10-foot niche, forming a Gothic arch of mahogany. The shrine was built by Ford, a skilled wood-worker, who was responsible for most of the intricate wood and cabinet work in the Richland Parish Court House.

The statue was presented by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Boles and the mahogany arch was given by William R. Coenen, in memory of his wife.

At the same time, a dedication will also be held for the new Hammond organ, the combined gift of more than 200 friends and relatives of Mr. Coenen. Carol Coenen, 10-year-old daughter, of the deceased, will play the organ at the service.

The body and wings of the angel were constructed with gold braid, the head a gold Christmas ball with the features painted on and white hair, also painted on. Loops of net, touched with gold sequins, made the angel's airy gown. When taped to a mirror they are most realistic. The gold braid and net may be purchased by the yard from your florist. Dr. Katherine Foster displayed several Christmas arrangements. These may be prepared and made up now before the mad rush sets in. The first arrangement was a winter snow scene. On a large white stryfoam base, rectangular in shape, Katherine placed a graceful white painted branch toward the left. White cotton - boll "flowers" wired together followed the lines of the branch adding depth and interest. Around the base of the branch magnolia leaves (painted white and glittered) were arranged in an open petal pattern, pine cones touch d with white and glitter made a focal point. A white painted deer stood on the right contemplating the scene. Snow was sprayed on giving a most realistic effect.

A lovely mantel arrangement in silver and pink was the next arrangement. A rectangular foam base was covered with wide silver ribbon. A semi-crescent design was outlined with silvered Buford holly and the line accented with clusters of silver ornaments, beginning with small clusters and larger ones in the center. Silver magnolia leaves and pink lace magnolia leaves were placed around the base. A round silver plate was placed in the background as a reflector for the two pale pink candles. These were square in shape, one tall and one low. They were touched with silver glitter. Silvered pine cones on either side of the candles added depth. This would be most effective with pink roses or pink carnations added at the last moment. Placed in orchid tubes to keep them fresh, of course.

Carnations mean Christmas to me somehow. I associate their spicy fragrance with the holiday season and at Christmas we always have some in the house.

Dates to remember: The Jonesboro - Hodge Garden Club will present Mrs. Hugh Sutherland in "Christmas Ideas" on Friday, December 9 at 2 p.m. at the Recreation Building of the Jonesboro Methodist Church. Public invited. Nominal fee.

Wednesday, December 7 at one p.m. Mrs. Guy Kincaid of Winnsboro will present a program on television.

Sasanquas For Winter Flowers

Some varieties of both sasanqua and japonica camellias are definitely more able to tolerate cold weather and still hold their buds than other varieties. Since we uplanders in the cooler sections of the South began growing these wonderful winter flowers, everybody has been trying out varieties to see which are best in our gardens where the thermometer sometimes registers zero. In the catalogues listing sasanquas, you can sometimes find a variety called Dawn. Buy it because it has been found to be one of the most remarkably cold resistant camellias in existence. The flowers are more or less typical of sasanquas. Dr. Harold Hume, the camellia authority at The University of Florida says this is really not a sasanqua at all, but we gardeners are delighted that it will stand so much cold. Another camellia which your columnist first saw growing in a greenhouse at Wisley, the Royal Horticulture Society's Gardens, is a very hardy one. The whole shrub looks more like our own Carolina cherry laurel than like a camellia. The leaves are small, and the flowers not very large, but they flower well into the cold weather. From this species has come a variety called Williams Lavender raised from seed at Fruitland Nurseries in Augusta, Ga.

All the sasanquas are good garden plants for us in the cooler areas. One of the very oldest ones is Snow on The Mountain, a low growing type. Plant it where it can have some protection from those bitter cold west winds which bring us our November cold spells. All of the late sasanquas, in fact, will benefit from such a location. As camellia bushes of any kind get larger, they furnish leaf and twig protection for their own buds and flower a week or so longer into the cold weather than they can do when they are young and skinny.

The early flowering japonica camellias will always give you at least some flowers before the frosts come. The variety Daikagura is one of the best because it sometimes begins to bloom as early as late September and always does on mature bushes. It is one of those that have hardly any two blossoms exactly alike in sometimes deep pink, sometimes lighter pink with a dash of white here and there. In the past ten years, breeders have been creating more early bloomers from Daikagura with this name as a part of the new names. Some gardeners complain that Daikagura is not too strong as plant, but it is worthwhile to coddle one a bit to get it along. Arejishi is another japonica that flowers early and on into the season.

In a very short while, we shall be able to buy the new camellias J. C. Williams, Mary Christian, Salutation, St. Ewe and others which are real winter flowering varieties. They are mostly single varieties, but as fast as they are killed by cold, more are produced like flowering quince blossoms.

"Prisoner Of War" Can't Meet Spouse

NEW YORK — UP —There's a "prisoner of war" in Louisiana who missed the arrival of his German war bride in the United States.

"Prisoner" DeGiovanni still does not know that his bride has arrived safely in this country. The Red Cross was unable to contact him.

Plan No Action On Buy-Outs At Prison As Yet

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 3 (AP) —It will be after the holiday season before any criminal action develops against Angola convicts or former employes involved in a prison forgery buy-out racket.

Dist. Atty. Richard Kilbourne of West and East Feliciana parishes said yesterday he has not had time to examine information provided last week by institutions director Edward Grant.

Ending a four-month investigation, Grant announced at least three former employes seemed to be involved in the forgery racket in which a convict ring altered state penitentiary records for a price.

Six of the nine prisoners who actually gained early freedom with forged records were returned to prison.

Kilbourne said a special session of the grand jury may be called early in January to conduct an investigation.

The district attorney said a criminal court term opening in West Feliciana Parish next week would prevent him from studying the institutions department report.

Richland Chooses Polio Fund Leader For 1956 Campaign

RAYVILLE, Dec. 3 (Special)—Harry Addison of Rayville, an employe of the Richland Motor Company, has been named chairman of the 1956 Polio Fund Drive in Richland parish, it has been announced.

Dr. John Hooks, present parish Polio Foundation chairman, said, that the campaign will open in January and that the foundation is requesting a large budget for continued treatment of polio patients, as well as, for research into the causes of the disease.

Addison, who has proven a public-spirited citizen, interested in civic affairs, is married to the former Lillian Coates.

'Phoney' Burglar Is Thought Longwinded

HOUSTON —UP— Mr. and Mrs. James C. Anderson have a telephone bill for $70 for six calls to Springfield, Mo., but they don't know anybody in Springfield.

Police, checking up, found a torn screen and an open back window and, since both the Andersons work, they theorize someone's been climbing in the window to use the telephone.

Efforts to call Anderson to find out how he feels failed. The phone company has disconnected until the bill is paid.

Federal Judges Consider Arguments In Louisiana Segregation Court Test

NEW ORLEANS — UP —Three federal judges today considered arguments submitted in the first federal court test of Louisiana's segregation program.

Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Orleans parish school board appeared yesterday before the three - judge court.

The NAACP, which filed the suit, seeks to prevent the school board from segregating students in public schools as authorized by state law. Such segregation has been ruled illegal by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Basically, the case pits the racial equality clauses of the 14th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution and the recent Supreme Court decision against the Ninth Amendment which guarantees each state sovereign police powers.

The state of Louisiana, which has joined the school board in opposition to the suit, has sought to evade the integration decree of the high court by placing public schools under the police power of the state.

Both sides in the case have been given 10 days to file briefs in support of arguments heard yesterday.

Circuit Judge Wayne G. Borah and District Judges Herbert W. Christenberry and J. Skelly Wright are hearing the case.

The defense asked that the suit be dismissed because it is against the state and cannot be heard in federal court and because the complaintants had not exhausted administrative remedies.

George A. Rult, attorney for the school board, filed affidavits which he said showed that Negroes here had previously voted predominantly in favor of segregation-type measures.

NAACP lawyer A. P. Tureaud, Sr., argued that there are inequalities in the New Orleans schools because of segregation.

Louisiana joined the school board in its fight as Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc also asked that the suit be dismissed because it is against the state and not within the court's jurisdiction.

The state's entrance into the segregation battle comes immediately after a state district judge ruled Thursday that Louisiana has the right to use a special appropriation of $100,000 for fighting integration suits.

Greyhound Racing Club Asks Order To Be Set Aside

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. —UP— The Riverside Greyhound Racing Club here asked the state racing commission today to set aside an order which cancelled the racing permit for the track in action taken by the commission Sept. 13.

The latest move in the dog-racing controversy simmering in the state for a number of months came when a Riverside spokesman claimed the action taken by the commission was invalid because a quorum was not present when the permit was revoked.

The track's permit was cancelled at an unannounced meeting of the commission in September while four of the 11 commissioners were absent. The result of the meeting was not made public for several days after the action was taken.

However, in a letter to the commission mailed today by Riverside officials, track operators claim only four commissioners were actually present at the September meeting and five were later recognized as present by proxy when they signed the minutes of the meeting.

The protest may be considered when the newly-appointed commission meets Monday to consider franchises for both dog racing at West Memphis and horse racing at Hot Springs.

50 Years An Actor

By PHILLIP TONGE
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, December 3 — This being my 50th anniversary in the acting profession, I am happy, Jimmie, to accept your invitation to write a story of my experiences and observations. It has been a long trek through the years, as experiences go, but only a short hitch in the matter of time.

I was born in England. As a child actor I appeared with Sir Herbert Tree, Ellen Terry, Holbrook Blinn and many others. The theater, and not the movies, intrigued people in those younger years of mine. Me like Tree and Blinn were idols indeed. Ellen Terry, as we know, was the top actress of her time. Do you know what made them great, in addition to their supreme art in the realm of acting? They were honest - to - goodness folks, real humans, who were just as happy at winning applause at the peak of their careers, as they were as beginners. Kind, considerate of others — the real foundation on which success is built, no matter what the business or profession.

The good year of 1914 was notable in many ways, from my personal standpoint. World I was about to break out. All Europe was assailed with fear and worry. The Kaiser was on the march. What would be the ending? Now, years later, we know. The Kaiser was defeated and exiled, but before this was accomplished, America had been pulled into the maelstrom, and millions of our finest young men were killed.

In that same good year, 1914, I came to New York to appear in "Highway of Life," the David Copperfield story. Later I played in "The Better 'Ole" with DeWolfe Hopper and in "Punch and Judy" with Fred and Adele Astaire. Then came "Smilin' Through" with Jane Cowl, "Adam and Eva" and "Interference." These engagements were followed by two years with the Boston Repertory Theater.

Broadway, in that era, was really and truly the Great White Way. It was the mecca for millions who came to New York principally to attend the theaters. The crowds were large, and first nights were as glamorous as flashy premieres nowadays for our greatest pictures. The theater, as I recall it, seemed more intimate, chummy, closer to the people, for the crowds came, saw and heard their idols in person.

I remember with vivid pleasure my boyhood friendship with Noel Coward. It resulted in my appearance in five successful Noel Coward plays on Broadway in the 30s and 40s: "Hay Fever," "Design for Living," and "Point Valaine" with the Lunts and Mr. Coward; "Blithe Spirit" with Clifton Webb and the revival of "Tonight at 8:30," with the late Gertrude Lawrence. Coward's most recent Broadway appearances were in "Make Way for Lucia" and "Ring Around the Moon," Gilbert Miller production.

It was in those other years that the Barrymores — John, Lionel and Ethel — were setting the pace for all good actors and actresses to follow. Mybe the movies have produced its Barrymores. I would not be an authority on that. But the stage did well in this respect and the royal family of the theater will never be forgotten.

It was in 1950 that I was lured from Broadway to Hollywood. In quick succession I appeared in such plays as "Miracle on 34th Street," "Love From a Stranger," "Hans Christian Anderson," "House of Wax," "Elephant Walk," with Elizabeth Taylor; "Khyber Patrol," "The Silver Chalice," with Jack Palance and Virginia Mayo; "The Prodigal," with Lana Turner, and yet to be released, "Desert Sands."

I also have had my routines in television.

Once I set foot on American soil, and met my share of Americans, and became accustomed to the ways of my newfound land, I said: "This is going to be my country." I have kept that promise, and I've never been sorry.

I came to Hollywood virtually a stranger, but the city was never a strange city. I had read about it, had talked with hundreds about it, and I felt I knew it. Well I did know it in a manner of speaking, and once I was inside the studios and doing my allotted roles, I found a certain friendly comradeship here that was alluring. I like California, because of its wide open spaces, fine climate and a nearness to every sort of scenic value, from beaches to mountains.

Nearly every major studio is a wilderness of buildings, stages, offices and stars. Television likewise has grown to gigantic proportions in Hollywood. So I guess I have found the spot in which to retire—but the 50-year span to now has been an experience at once exhilirating and thrilling — and one I'd choose to live over again if given the opportunity.

BOY DROWNS

LOMITA, Calif. —UP— Police said Saturday an 11-year-old boy drowned when he leaped into water in the bottom of a gravel excavation pit in an attempt to save his dog.

Rites Set For Negro Teacher Here Today

Funeral services for Bertha Medlock Parker, a retired Negro teacher, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Baptist Church at 321 North Eighth street with Rev. P. C. Keal officiating.

A lifelong resident of Monroe, she died Thursday night in a local hospital. She was a teacher for many years in the city school system, and the Ouachita and Richland parish school systems.

Freeze Batter Now For That Holiday Baking

URBANA, Ill.—Busy housewives can save time during the busy holidays by making their cake batters now and freezing them, University of Illinois foods instructor Mary McAuley advises.

Prepare the same recipe for freezing that you would use for baking a cake today.

But use double-acting baking powder, because it reacts at a much higher temperature than other types and has a good leavening action. Also use a pure vanilla.

Then just package the batter and freeze it.

Greyhound Racing Club Asks Order To Be Set Aside

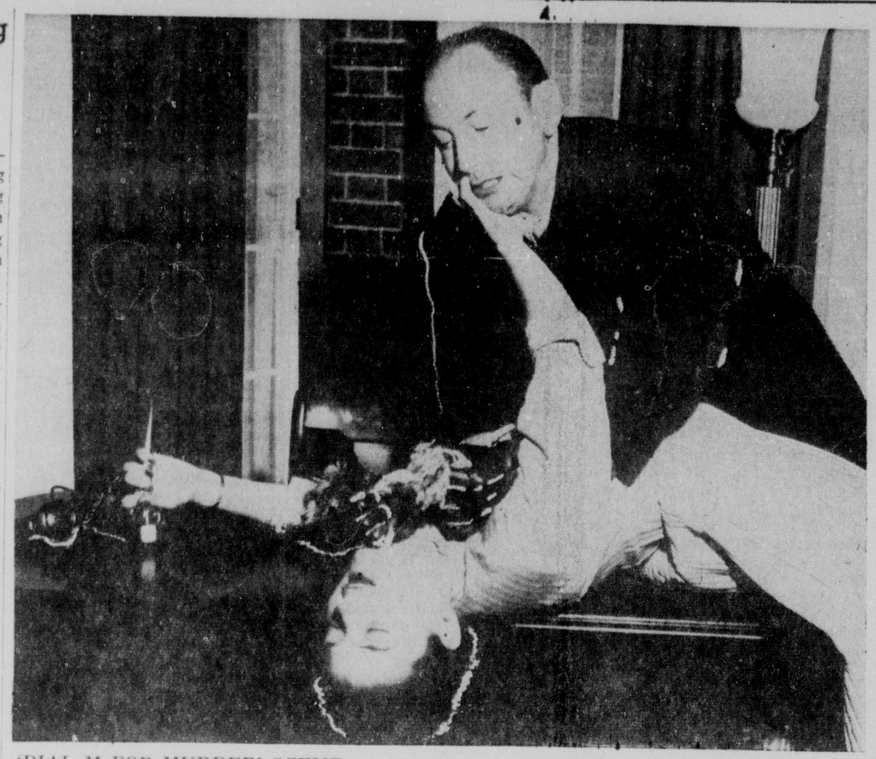

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. —UP— The Riverside Greyhound Racing Club here asked the state racing commission today to set aside an order which cancelled the racing permit for the track in action taken by the commission Sept. 13.

The latest move in the dog-racing controversy simmering in the state for a number of months came when a Riverside spokesman claimed the action taken by the commission was invalid because a quorum was not present when the permit was revoked.

The track's permit was cancelled at an unannounced meeting of the commission in September while four of the 11 commissioners were absent. The result of the meeting was not made public for several days after the action was taken.

However, in a letter to the commission mailed today by Riverside officials, track operators claim only four commissioners were actually present at the September meeting and five were later recognized as present by proxy when they signed the minutes of the meeting.

The protest may be considered when the newly-appointed commission meets Monday to consider franchises for both dog racing at West Memphis and horse racing at Hot Springs.

'DIAL M FOR MURDER' SCENE—An exciting moment in "Dial M For Murder," current Little Theatre production here, is portrayed by Mildred Middleton and Tom Keller. The play is now in the middle of a five-night run at Selman Field Playhouse.

50 Years An Actor

By PHILLIP TONGE
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, December 3 — This being my 50th anniversary in the acting profession, I am happy, Jimmie, to accept your invitation to write a story of my experiences and observations. It has been a long trek through the years, as experiences go, but only a short hitch in the matter of time.

I was born in England. As a child actor I appeared with Sir Herbert Tree, Ellen Terry, Holbrook Blinn and many others. The theater, and not the movies, intrigued people in those younger years of mine. Me like Tree and Blinn were idols indeed. Ellen Terry, as we know, was the top actress of her time. Do you know what made them great, in addition to their supreme art in the realm of acting? They were honest - to - goodness folks, real humans, who were just as happy at winning applause at the peak of their careers, as they were as beginners. Kind, considerate of others — the real foundation on which success is built, no matter what the business or profession.

The good year of 1914 was notable in many ways, from my personal standpoint. World I was about to break out. All Europe was assailed with fear and worry. The Kaiser was on the march. What would be the ending? Now, years later, we know. The Kaiser was defeated and exiled, but before this was accomplished, America had been pulled into the maelstrom, and millions of our finest young men were killed.

In that same good year, 1914, I came to New York to appear in "Highway of Life," the David Copperfield story. Later I played in "The Better 'Ole" with DeWolfe Hopper and in "Punch and Judy" with Fred and Adele Astaire. Then came "Smilin' Through" with Jane Cowl, "Adam and Eva" and "Interference." These engagements were followed by two years with the Boston Repertory Theater.

Broadway, in that era, was really and truly the Great White Way. It was the mecca for millions who came to New York principally to attend the theaters. The crowds were large, and first nights were as glamorous as flashy premieres nowadays for our greatest pictures. The theater, as I recall it, seemed more intimate, chummy, closer to the people, for the crowds came, saw and heard their idols in person.

I remember with vivid pleasure my boyhood friendship with Noel Coward. It resulted in my appearance in five successful Noel Coward plays on Broadway in the 30s and 40s: "Hay Fever," "Design for Living," and "Point Valaine" with the Lunts and Mr. Cowar;d "Blithe Spirit" with Clifton Webb and the revival of "Tonight at 8:30," with the late Gertrude Lawrence. Coward's most recent Broadway appearances were in "Make Way for Lucia" and "Ring Around the Moon," Gilbert Miller production.

It was in those other years that the Barrymores — John, Lionel and Ethel — were setting the pace for all good actors and actresses to follow. Mybe the movies have produced its Barrymores. I would not be an authority on that. But the stage did well in this respect and the royal family of the theater will never be forgotten.

It was in 1950 that I was lured from Broadway to Hollywood. In quick succession I appeared in such plays as "Miracle on 34th Street," "Love From a Stranger," "Hans Christian Anderson," "House of Wax," "Elephant Walk," with Elizabeth Taylor; "Khyber Patrol," "The Silver Chalice," with Jack Palance and Virginia Mayo; "The Prodigal," with Lana Turner, and yet to be released, "Desert Sands."

I also have had my routines in television.

Once I set foot on American soil, and met my share of Americans, and became accustomed to the ways of my newfound land, I said: "This is going to be my country." I have kept that promise, and I've never been sorry.

I came to Hollywood virtually a stranger, but the city was never a strange city. I had read about it, had talked with hundreds about it, and I felt I knew it. Well I did know it in a manner of speaking, and once I was inside the studios and doing my allotted roles, I found a certain friendly comradeship here that was alluring. I like California, because of its wide open spaces, fine climate and a nearness to every sort of scenic value, from beaches to mountains.

Nearly every major studio is a wilderness of buildings, stages, offices and stars. Television likewise has grown to gigantic proportions in Hollywood. So I guess I have found the spot in which to retire—but the 50-year span to now has been an experience at once exhiliarating and thrilling — and one I'd choose to live over again if given the opportunity.

BOY DROWNS

LOMITA, Calif. —UP— Police said Saturday an 11-year-old boy drowned when he leaped into water in the bottom of a gravel excavation pit in an attempt to save his dog.

Rites Set For Negro Teacher Here Today

Funeral services for Bertha Medlock Parker, a retired Negro teacher, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Baptist Church at 321 North Eighth street with Rev. P. C. Keal officiating.

A lifelong resident of Monroe, she died Thursday night in a local hospital. She was a teacher for many years in the city school system, and the Ouachita and Richland parish school systems.

Freeze Batter Now For That Holiday Baking

URBANA, Ill.—Busy housewives can save time during the busy holidays by making their cake batters now and freezing them, University of Illinois foods instructor Mary McAuley advises.

Prepare the same recipe for freezing that you would use for baking a cake today.

But use double-acting baking powder, because it reacts at a much higher temperature than other types and has a good leavening action. Also use a pure vanilla.

Then just package the batter and freeze it.

Granger, Jean Simmons In 'Footsteps In Fog'

Stewart Granger and Jean Simmons are two of filmdom's most attractive stars — Granger, the handsome, rugged and romantic hero of such films as "Salome," "Prisoner of Zenda" and "Beau Brummel"; Jean, the winsome, beautiful and versatile heroine of such films as "The Robe," "The Egyptian" and "Desiree." Granger and Miss Simmons join their brilliant talents in Columbia Pictures' suspenseul "Footsteps in the Fog," opening Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre. A breathless example of film-making at its best, according to Hollywood, "Footsteps in the Fog" merges the abilities of its stars with a story of blackmail and murder, of mounting suspense, and sets the entertainment combination in the picturesque, colorful locale of pre-war London. "Footsteps in the Fog" was filmed in color by Technicolor.

Granger plays the handsome patrician householder of the drama; Miss Simmons, the humblest person in his household, a young serving girl. But the girl's seeming humility masks a cold-blooded determination, just as his gentlemanly manner conceals the fact that he has just murdered his wife. She blackmails him with her knowledge of the fact, forcing him to pass by the other servants of the household and to install her as his housekeeper.

When Granger is attracted to the beautiful, blonde Belinda Lee, daughter of his business partner, Jean's emotional reactions are sharp and direct. She wants the gentleman herself and threatens him accordingly. Desperate, Granger attempts to kill her, too, but the fog-bound London streets give him an apalling new victim, a stranger. Tried for this murder, Granger is acquitted only on the testimony of his housekeeper—and their dangerous cat - and - mouse game is continued apace.

Granger and Miss Simmons are said to make a well - coordinated team, and the fact that they are real - life husband and wife provides an additional fillip of excitement to their magnificent performances in highly - charged emotional scenes.

A Frankovich production, the film was penned for the screen by Dorothy Reid and Lenore Coffee. Arthur Lubin directed, Maxwell Setton produced and M. J. Frankovich served as executive producer of the Columbia thriller.

Toys That Come Alive

Just imagine how surprised and pleased you would be if your doll or toy soldier started to walk and talk.

Many years ago an Italian wrote a story about a puppet he called Pinocchio. Ask your librarian to show you the book.

Pinocchio led his adopted father into all sorts of misadventures. He involved himself into difficulties too. When he told lies his nose grew to an enormous length. When he would not go to school his ears became like those of a donkey.

He was swallowed by a whale, escaped and finally became a real live boy.

MONDAY: Winter Sports

JACK PALANCE and Shelly Winters co-star in Warner Bros. new CinemaScope drama, "I Died A Thousand Times," which opens Friday at the Paramount Theater. The story is said to be a vivid dramatization of a million dollar-killer and a dime-a-dance girl.

Old Castles Background For 'Quentin Durward'

Four of the most magnificent castles in France's Loire Valley were used as backgrounds for the action in "Quentin Durward," M-G-M filmization of the Sir Walter Scott novel.

Scenes for the CinemaScope production, starring Robert Taylor, Kay Kendall and Robert Morley, were made at Chambord, Chenonceau, Maintenon and Fontainebleau. Considered four of the architectural wonders of the world, the castles were built during the middle of the 15th and 16th centuries, when the Court of France was resident in the Loire Valley.

Two of the elaborate Gothic buildings remain in private hands. The others belong to the state. All are in a remarkable state of preservation, with rooms containing furnishings and draperies that have been in the same surroundings for more than 300 years.

The largest of the castles seen in "Quentin Durward" is at Fontainebleau. This historic structure and its surrounding gardens, less than 100 miles from Paris, remains today one of the most beautiful residences in the world. The present structure, containing more than 400 rooms, dates from the reign of Francis I, who died in 1547, and has housed six monarchs, including Napoleon Bonaparte, who called it "The true dwelling of kings."

The castle of Chambord was started in 1519 and was built by 1800 workmen over a period of twelve years. Standing in a park of 5,400 acres, the castle contains an aviary which once housed 300 falcons, and kennels large enough for 1,000 hounds.

Chenonceau, completed in 1522, is sometimes called "the castle of the six ladies," because it owes its design to the famous women who occupied it. Diane de Poitiers was the first woman to remodel it after she received the castle as a gift from the French king, Henri II. When Henri was killed in a tournament, Diane had to hand the castle over to his widow, Catherine de Medici, who in turn willed it to her daughter-in-law, Louise of Lorraine. There followed in residence several other royal women, each of whom did her own bit of remodeling. In 1913 the castle was purchased by Gaston Menier, Frances' "chocolate king," who still owns it.

Maintenon, last of the castles used as a background for "Quentin Durward," is located fifteen miles from Chartres. It is one of the smallest and at the same time most beautiful of all the castles of the Loire. Built in 1562, it was some years later given by Louis XIV to Madame de Maintenon, the governess of his children. It has remained in possession of her descendants to this day.

Ted Weems Here Saturday For League Dance

Ted Weems, who brings his versatile orchestra to Monroe, Saturday evening, December 10 for the Junior Charity League's annual ball at the Hotel Frances, has become the nation's top name band attraction after more than two decades as a bandleader—and all because of the unprecedented acclaim the American public gave his recording of "Heartaches," which he originally recorded back in 1931, and which he describes as the "business men's bounce."

Well-known to record players also, particularly to members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, for which it is the official fraternity song, is Weems' recording of "Violets."

One of the most popular songs written by Ted Weems is the famous hillbilly tune, "The Martins and The Coys."

Mr. Weems brings with him an unusually large number of performers to be featured with a traveling band. Appearing during the floor show will be the hilarious Red Ingle, Ted Stanford, Phyllis Webb, and Ted Weems trio, Hal Skeen and Philbert, Dave Bedal.

Among his recent appearances have been the Palmer House and Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Waldorf-Astoria, New York and the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans.

Granger, Jean Simmons In 'Footsteps In Fog'

Stewart Granger and Jean Simmons are two of filmdom's most attractive stars — Granger, the handsome, rugged and romantic hero of such films as "Salome," "Prisoner of Zenda" and "Beau Brummel"; Jean, the winsome, beautiful and versatile heroine of such films as "The Robe," "The Egyptian" and "Desiree." Granger and Miss Simmons join their brilliant talents in Columbia Pictures' suspenseul "Footsteps in the Fog," opening Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre. A breathless example of film-making at its best, according to Hollywood, "Footsteps in the Fog" merges the abilities of its stars with a story of blackmail and murder, of mounting suspense, and sets the entertainment combination in the picturesque, colorful locale of pre-war London. "Footsteps in the Fog" was filmed in color by Technicolor.

Granger plays the handsome patrician householder of the drama; Miss Simmons, the humblest person in his household, a young serving girl. But the girl's seeming humility masks a cold-blooded determination, just as his gentlemanly manner conceals the fact that he has just murdered his wife. She blackmails him with her knowledge of the fact, forcing him to pass by the other servants of the household and to install her as his housekeeper.

When Granger is attracted to the beautiful, blonde Belinda Lee, daughter of his business partner, Jean's emotional reactions are sharp and direct. She wants the gentleman herself and threatens him accordingly. Desperate, Granger attempts to kill her, too, but the fog-bound London streets give him an apalling new victim, a stranger. Tried for this murder, Granger is acquitted only on the testimony of his housekeeper—and their dangerous cat - and - mouse game is continued apace.

Granger and Miss Simmons are said to make a well - coordinated team, and the fact that they are real - life husband and wife provides an additional fillip of excitement to their magnificent performances in highly - charged emotional scenes.

Bill Travers is seen successfuly as the young barrister who defends Granger at his murder trial, a rival for the affections of the attractive Miss Lee. Ronald Squire is a pillar of middle - class respectability as Miss Lee's father and Finlay Currie, the distinguished character actor, is cast as a shrewd police inspector.

A Frankovich production, the film was penned for the screen by Dorothy Reid and Lenore Coffee. Arthur Lubin directed, Maxwell Setton produced and M. J. Frankovich served as executive producer of the Columbia thriller.

Comeback Star Of Year Is 27-Year-Old Former Star Named Mickey Mouse

The sky rodent has captured a new generation, this time as host of the weekday ABC TV hour, the Mickey Mouse Club.

Mickey never had it so good. His outsize ears are popping up on the heads of kids all over the land; they're buying the mouse hats (29 to 98 cents) at the rate of 24,000 a day. (Whatever happened to coonskins?) Two hundred other pieces of merchandise connected with the club are being sold, and more are added daily.

The mouse has captured daytime rating honors, snowing under his major opponents, veterans Howdy Doody and Pinky Lee. A recent survey gave the club a 76 per cent advantage over the opposition in the East.

1. They are delighted to have a show that doesn't insult their children's intelligence;

2. They are appalled by the amount of commercials.

As one of the captive audience—our TV set is monopolised from 5 to 6 each weekday—I agree. The show is both entertaining and enlightening, done with as much taste and care as any adult program.

But the commercials! They're enough to drive you nuts. Not only are there three in every 15 minutes. The station also sneaks in three more every 15 minutes at the station break.

The Disney people are just as upset as the public. Walt apparently didn't foresee the excesses of the network; he vows that next year he'll have some control over such matters.

ABC has bragged that Mickey Mouse has brought in 15 millions from sponsors. The figures haven't been released, but it's rumored that Disney gets little more than a tenth of this to produce the films.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	pass	2 hearts	3 diamonds
4 hearts	pass	pass	5 diamonds
5 hearts	pass	pass	pass

Opening lead: Two of diamonds.

In bridge we can never hope to witness the irresistible force against the immovable object. In today's engagement, perfect offense must triumph against the best defense but, alas, it was not forthcoming.

The auction was keenly contested. East used good judgment in making the sacrifice bid in diamonds. South, however, was not interested in small profits and chose to go on.

West led the deuce of diamonds. East won the trick and returned a high diamond. Declarer ruffed in dummy and hoped to take the remaining tricks if the hearts would break two-two, for he planned to cash the ace and king of spades and then reach the dummy by means of the six over to the eight, cashing the three good spades. It would all have been simple if East had not engaged in the unneighborly gesture of leading a diamond at trick two, destroying the late entry to dummy. As it is, declarer was compelled to draw three trumps, and the only chance for entry to dummy was to find West with the king of clubs, a forlorn hope. South was compelled to give up two clubs and met with a one trick defeat.

It might be suggested that declarer draw only two rounds of trumps and then play the ace and king of spades, permitting East to use his little heart. East can, of course, spike declarer's guns by refusing to ruff the king of spades, which would be accepting one trick in the place of two.

Despite East's alertness, South could have circumvented the well conceived play by executing a safety play as trick two. Scoring overtricks should have been the least of declarer's concerns. If South had taken into consideraton that the hearts would probably not break two-two, he should have refused the second trick, discarding a club from dummy. Now, whatever the return, declarer draws three rounds of trumps, cashes the ace and king of spades and crosses to dummy with his small trump.

Singing Service This Afternoon

The regular first Sunday afternoon singing convention will be held in the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall, Monroe at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. It will close at 4 p.m. Many singers of gospel songs throughout this state as well as some from Arkansas will attend and participate.

Sessions were omitted the past two first Sundays due to conventions being in session here.

A large crowd and unusual enthusiasm is anticipated and an exceptionally good program has been prepared.

There will be quartets, duets and solo numbers. The public is cordially invited.

A number of groups have made fame through this source. The well known Blackwood Bros. Quartet, Stamps Quartet and others.

South, 5 hearts; West, pass; North, pass; East, pass.

Opening lead: Two of diamonds.

In bridge we can never hope to witness the irresistible force against the immovable object. In today's engagement, perfect offense must triumph against the best defense but, alas, it was not forthcoming.

The auction was keenly contested. East used good judgment in making the sacrifice bid in diamonds. South, however, was not interested in small profits and chose to go on.

West led the deuce of diamonds. East won the trick and returned a high diamond. Declarer ruffed in dummy and hoped to take the remaining tricks if the hearts would break two-two, for he planned to cash the ace and king of spades and then reach the dummy by means of the six over to the eight, cashing the three good spades. It would all have been simple if East had not engaged in the unneighborly gesture of leading a diamond at trick two, destroying the late entry to dummy. As it is, declarer was compelled to draw three trumps, and the only chance for entry to dummy was to find West with the king of clubs, a forlorn hope. South was compelled to give up two clubs and met with a one trick defeat.

It might be suggested that declarer draw only two rounds of trumps and then play the ace and king of spades, permitting East to use his little heart. East can, of course, spike declarer's guns by refusing to ruff the king of spades, which would be accepting one trick in the place of two.

Despite East's alertness, South could have circumvented the well conceived play by executing a safety play as trick two. Scoring overtricks should have been the least of declarer's concerns. If South had taken into consideraton that the hearts would probably not break two-two, he should have refused the second trick, discarding a club from dummy. Now, whatever the return, declarer draws three rounds of trumps, cashes the ace and king of spades and crosses to dummy with his small trump.

Singing Service This Afternoon

The regular first Sunday afternoon singing convention will be held in the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall, Monroe at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. It will close at 4 p.m. Many singers of gospel songs throughout this state as well as some from Arkansas will attend and participate.

Sessions were omitted the past two first Sundays due to conventions being in session here.

A large crowd and unusual enthusiasm is anticipated and an exceptionally good program has been prepared.

There will be quartets, duets and solo numbers. The public is cordially invited.

A number of groups have made fame through this source. The well known Blackwood Bros. Quartet, Stamps Quartet and others.
